Metaphor And Related Subjects:

Metaphor, and Related Subjects Owen Paul Thomas, 1969 Metaphor , 1985-01-01 The aim of the present bibliography is to provide the student of metaphor with an up to date and comprehensive albeit not exhaustive overview of recent publications dealing with various aspects of metaphor in a variety of disciplines Where the emphasis is primarily on specific works about metaphor mainly in philosophy linguistics and psychology the list has been supplemented with references to studies where metaphor is explicitly recognized as an instrument of research or analysis e g in literature or in the elaboration of scientific and religious models or where its use is illustrated Metaphor Jeffery S. Mio, Albert N. Katz, 2018-10-24 Research on metaphor has been dominated by Aristotelian questions of processes in metaphor understanding Although this area is important it leaves unasked Platonic questions of how structures of the mind affect such processes Moreover there has been relatively little work on how metaphors affect human behavior Although there are numerous postdictive or speculative accounts of the power of metaphors to affect human behavior in particular areas such as clinical or political arenas empirical verification of these accounts has been sparse To fill this void the editors have compiled this work dedicated to empirical examination of how metaphors affect human behavior and understanding The book is divided into four sections metaphor and pragmatics clinical uses of metaphor metaphor and politics and other applications of metaphor Chapters contained within these sections attempt to merge Aristotelian questions with Platonic ones Metaphors and Action Schemes Robert L. Schwarz, 1997 All our abstract ideas are based on metaphors and action schemes Jean Piaget did voluminous research on how thought develops in children through assimilation of action schemes George Lakoff and Mark Johnson have done pioneering work on metaphors and action schemes in everyday thinking This book builds on those foundations looking at the role played by metaphors and action schemes in the history of ideas The author begins his argument by taking a critical look at the philosophy of metaphor from Aristotle to the present While he sees metaphor as simply conceiving one thing in terms of another he points out that this is an inexhaustible process because the context in which the process takes place is always changing Change opens up new possibilities of similarity Thus the metaphor is an open door into a space of infinite possibilities Metaphor, Metonymy, and Experientialist Philosophy Verena Haser, 2011-12-22 The present book provides a detailed criticism of experientialist semantics focusing both on philosophical issues connected with experientialism and on cognitive approaches to metaphor and metonymy Particular emphasis is placed on the works of George Lakoff and Mark Johnson but other cognitivists are also taken into consideration Verena Haser proposes a new approach to the distinction between metaphor and metonymy which contrasts with familiar cognitivist models but also builds on some insights gained in cognitivist research She also offers an account of metaphorical transfer which dispenses with the notion of conceptual metaphors in the sense of Lakoff and Johnson She argues that conceptual metaphors are not a useful construct for explaining metaphorical transfer and that the clustering of metaphorical expressions is better accounted for in terms of family resemblances between metaphorical expressions Another major goal of this work is a reassessment of the relationship between experientialism and traditional Western philosophy often subsumed under the vague term objectivism This book contrasts with most other critical approaches to experientialism by providing close readings of key passages from the works of Lakoff and Johnson which enables the author to pinpoint theory internal inconsistencies and other shortcomings not noted in previous publications This book will be relevant to students and scholars interested in semantics and cognitive linguistics and also in psychology and philosophy of language

Metaphor and Intercultural Communication Andreas Musolff, Fiona MacArthur, Giulio Pagani, 2014-05-20 Metaphor and Intercultural Communication examines in detail the dynamics of metaphor in interlingual contact translation and globalization processes Its case studies which combine methods of cognitive metaphor theory with those of corpus based and discourse oriented research cover contact linguistic and cultural contacts between Chinese English including Translational English and Aboriginal English Greek Kabyle Romanian Russian Serbian and Spanish Part I introduces readers to practical and methodological problems of the intercultural transfer of metaphor through empirical corpus based and experimental studies of translators experiences and strategies in dealing with figurative language in a variety of contexts Part II explores the universality relativity dimension of cross and intercultural metaphor on the basis of empirical data from various European and non European cultures Part III investigates the socio economic and political consequences of figurative language use through case studies of communication between aboriginal and mainstream cultures in the media in political discourse and gender related discourses Special attention is paid to cases of miscommunication and of deliberate re and counter conceptualisation of clichés from one culture into another The results open new perspectives on some of the basic assumptions of the classic cognitive paradigm e.g. regarding metaphor understanding linguistic relativity and concept construction
