Metaphoric Process The Creation Of Scientific And Religious Understanding:

Metaphoric Process Mary Gerhart, Allan Melvin Russell, 1984 Theology and Conversation Jacques Haers, P. De Mey, 2003 This collection of articles presents the main contributions to the third LEST Louvain Encounters in Systematic Theology conference held at the KU Leuven's Faculty of Theology November 2001 Its theme Theology and Conversation Towards a Relational Theology continues the explorations in contemporary theology as set out in the 1997 LEST I conference on The Myriad Christ BETL 152 and in the 1999 LEST II conference on Sacramental Presence in Postmodern Context BETL 160 In LEST III also the plurality and diversity of theological approaches play a major role and the question is raised whether the contemporary theological endeavour in a global world contains in itself the tools to respectfully and constructively approach this diversity The ideas of relation and conversation as found in the theologies of the Trinity and of creation as presupposed in ecclesial praxis and as articulated in reflections that take their bearings from spiritual experience provide a powerful means for renewed theological reflection capable of confronting plurality and diversity The Metaphoric Process Gemma Corradi Fiumara, 2005-08-16 Metaphor is much more than just a linguistic phenomena argues Gemma Corradi Fiumara it is in fact the key process by which we construct and develop our ability to understand the world and the people we share it with Rationality as understood by philosophers has led to a disembodied view of ourselves in which interaction between life and language has been downplayed By looking at the metaphoric process in an interpersonal rather than a formal way its importance in allowing us access to new worlds of experience is revealed The metaphoric potential in us all exposes us to the world and initiates our involvement in it Biblical Narrative in the Philosophy of Paul Ricoeur Kevin J. Vanhoozer, 1990-04-27 A critical account of Ricoeur's theory of narrative interpretation and its contribution to theology Human Becoming in an Age of Science, Technology, and Faith Philip Hefner, 2022-08-23 What does it mean to be human in an age of science technology and faith The ability to ask such a question suggests at least a partial answer in that however we describe ourselves we bear a major role in determining what we will become In this book Philip Hefner reminds us that this inescapable condition is the challenge and opportunity of Homo sapiens as the created co creator In four original chapters and an epilogue Hefner frames the created co creator as a memoirist with an ambiguous legacy explores some of the roots of this ambiguity emphasizes the importance of answering this ambiguity with symbols that can interpret it in wholesome ways proposes a partial theological framework for co creating such symbols and applies this framework to the challenge of using technology like artificial intelligence and robotics to create other co creators in our own image Editors Jason P Roberts and Mladen Turk have compiled eight responses to Hefner's work to honor his scholarly career and answer his call to help co create a more wholesome future in an age of science technology and faith The Apocalypse of Isaiah Metaphorically Speaking Brian Doyle, 2000 The analysis of metaphors constitutes an ideal point of entry into the exegesis of Biblical Hebrew poetic texts because it forces the exegete to examine the said text from a variety of perspectives How can one discern the presence of metaphorical speech What are the various types of metaphorical speech available to and employed by the biblical poet How does the structure of a piece of Hebrew poetry carry its metaphorical dimensions How did the biblical poet make use of the various types of metaphor and to what end Can we ultimately gain access to the poet's meaning The present study endeavours to provide at least a partial answer to these questions In maintaining focus on the biblical text moreover the author hopes to anchor some of the abstractions of metaphorical theory with chosen examples taken from the so called Apocalypse of Isaiah The Hebrew prophets constitute fertile ground in their use of metaphorical language for speaking the unspeakable especially concerning the relationship between the people and God

Myth and Modernity Milton Scarborough, 1994-01-01 This book surveys selected modern theories of myth from philosophy religion anthropology sociology and psychoanalysis to demonstrate a common commitment to a dualistic ontology and or epistemology With help from the work of Maurice Merleau Ponty and Michael Polanyi the author proposes a new theory of myth which goes beyond these dualisms It argues that although the Enlightenment sought to banish myth it was itself animated by myths which it could neither recognize nor accredit Moreover it argues that myth is a primordial articulate grasp of the life world and is essential for providing a fundamental orientation to all human activities including theorizing The myths of Timaeus and Genesis are shown tacitly to shape modernity's most sophisticated theories in science and philosophy including the criteria for truth

Interactive World, Interactive God Carol Rausch Albright, John R. Albright, Mladen Turk, 2017-11-06 Since the dawn of science ideas about the relation between science and religion have always depended on what else is going on in a society During the twentieth century daily life changed dramatically Technology revolutionized transportation agriculture communications and housework People came to rely on scientific predictability in their technology Many wondered whether God's supposed actions were consistent with scientific knowledge The twenty first century is bringing new scientific research capabilities They are revealing that scientific results are not totally predictable after all Certain types of interaction lead to outcomes that are unpredictable in principle These in turn may lead to a whole new range of potential interactions They do not rule out the reality of a dynamic God who can act in the world without breaking the known principles of science God may in fact work with the way things really are Human experience of God may accurately reflect this reality Interactive World Interactive God illustrates such new understandings in religion and science by describing recent developments in a wide range of sciences and providing theological commentary The book is written for intelligent readers who may not be specialized in science but who are looking for ways to understand divine action in today's world

Sex, Gender, and Christian Ethics Lisa Sowle Cahill, 1996-08-28 This book endorses feminist critiques of gender yet upholds the insight of traditional Christianity that sex commitment and parenthood are fulfilling human relations Their unity is a positive ideal though not an absolute norm Women and men should enjoy equal personal respect and social power In reply to feminist critics of oppressive gender and sex norms and to communitarian

proponents of Christian morality Cahill argues that effective intercultural criticism of injustice requires a modest defence of moral objectivity She thus adopts a critical realism as its moral foundation drawing on Aristotle and Aquinas Moral judgment should be based on reasonable practical prudent and cross culturally nuanced reflection on human experience This is combined with a New Testament model of community centred on solidarity compassion and inclusion of the economically or socially marginalised

Mapping the Differentiated Consensus of the Joint Declaration Jakob Karl Rinderknecht, 2016-10-12

This book uses the insights of cognitive linguistics to argue for the possibility of differentiated consensus between separated churches The Joint Declaration on the Doctrine of Justification signed by the Lutheran World Federation and the Roman Catholic Church in 1999 represents the high water mark of the twentieth century ecumenical movement It declares that the sixteenth century condemnations related to justification do not condemn the teachings of the partner church Some critics reject the agreement arguing that a consensus that is differentiated is not actually a consensus In this book Jakob Karl Rinderknecht shows that mapping the cognitive blends that structure meaning can reveal underlying agreement within apparent theological contradictions He traces Lutheran and Catholic positions on sin in the baptized especially the Lutheran simul iustus et peccator and the Catholic insistence that concupiscence in the baptized is not sin He demonstrates that the JDDJ reconciles these positions and therefore that a truly differentiated consensus is possible
