Drama for a New South Africa David Graver, 1999 a solid addition to international drama Library Journal Going beyond the parameters of conventional literary drama these seven new plays express life issues in post apartheid South Africa Islamic fundamentalism women's rights ecology Afrikaans culture and the new multi racial life of the inner city While theater rooted in the anti apartheid movement was rich and vibrant it was also singleminded in focus obscuring the diversity of South African culture now brought to life in these works Anxious Joburg Nicky Falkof, Cobus van Staden, 2020-10-01 An interdisciplinary account of the life of Johannesburg South Africa's global south city Anxious Joburg focuses on Johannesburg the largest and wealthiest city in South Africa as a case study for the contemporary global South city Global South cities are often characterised as sites of contradiction and difference that produce a range of feelings around anxiety This is often imagined in terms of the global North's anxieties about the South migration crime terrorism disease and environmental crisis Anxious Joburg invites readers to consider an intimate perspective of living inside such a city How does it feel to live in the metropolis of Johannesburg what are the conditions intersections affects and experiences that mark the contemporary urban Scholars visual artists and storytellers all look at unexamined aspects of Johannesburg life From peripheral settlements to the inner city to the affluent northern suburbs from precarious migrants and domestic workers to upwardly mobile young women and fearful elites Anxious Joburg presents an absorbing engagement with this frustrating dangerous seductive city It offers a rigorous critical approach to Johannesburg revealing the way in which anxiety is a vital structuring principle of contemporary life The approach is strongly interdisciplinary with contributions from media studies anthropology religious studies urban geography migration studies and psychology It will appeal to students and teachers as well as to academic researchers concerned with Johannesburg South Africa cities and the global South The mix of approaches will also draw a non academic audience A Century of South African Theatre Loren Kruger, 2019-11-28 Theatre is not part of our vocabulary Sipho Sepamla's provocation in 1981 the year of famous anti apartheid play Woza Albert prompts the response yes indeed it is A Century of South African Theatre demonstrates the impact of theatre and other performances pageants concerts sketches workshops and performance art over the last hundred years Its coverage includes African responses to pro British pageants celebrating white Union in 1910 such as the Emancipation Centenary of the abolition of British colonial slavery in 1934 organized by Griffiths Motsieloa and HIE Dhlomo through anti apartheid testimonial theatre by Athol Fugard Maishe Maponya Gcina Mhlophe and many others right up to the present dramatization of state capture inequality and state violence in today's unevenly democratic society where government has promised much but delivered little Building on Loren

Kruger's personal observations of forty years as well as her published research A Century of South African Theatre provides theoretical coordinates from institution to public sphere to syncretism in performance in order to highlight South Africa's changing engagement with the world from the days of Empire through the apartheid era to the multi lateral and multi lingual networks of the 21st century The final chapters use the Constitution's injunction to improve wellbeing as a prompt to examine the dramaturgy of new problems especially AIDS and domestic violence as well as the better known performances in and around the Truth and Reconciliation Commission Kruger critically evaluates internationally known theatre makers including the signature collaborations between animator designer William Kentridge and Handspring Puppet Company and highlights the local and transnational impact of major post apartheid companies such as Magnet Theatre Worlds in One Country Denis Hirson, 2011 Worlds in one country is a compact inclusive history of writing in South Africa from the nineteenth century to 1994 that crosses boundaries of language and colour including prose poetry and theatre Playing the Market Anne Fuchs, 2021-11-22 The relationship between Johannesburg's Market Theatre and the economic and political forces of South Africa's apartheid regime was both complex and somewhat ambiguous The theatre's two founders Mannie Manim and Barney Simon however from idealistic beginnings managed to steer their experimental enterprise around pitfalls ranging from censorship boycotts and recuperation by big business to the difficulties encountered in finding black authors let alone black audiences If the place occupied by the Market institution in apartheid society is emphasized throughout the present study its contribution to the aesthetic of resistance is also underlined through detailed criticism of the plays and authors dominating the theatre Pieter Dirk Uys Barney Simon's workshop plays and among others Black Consciousness plays are subjected to various methods of theatre performance analysis The reckoning that had to come in the early 1990s revealed itself as globally positive the reasons for this may be found in the updated concluding part of Playing the Market which is composed of more general essays including one on the vibrant Junction Avenue Theatre Company on how the theatre scene in contemporary South Africa started to change A postscript reveals more specific aspects of the Market situation in the late 1990s when its hegemony in the New South Africa was already being questioned X-kit Fet G10 English Home Language Goshier, S, 2009 The Drama of South Africa Loren Kruger, 2005-11 Chronicles the development of dramatic writing and performance from the time South Africa was established to post apartheid Investigates the impact of sketches and manifestos and the oral preservation of scripts that could not be written Athol Fugard Alan Shelley, 2009-04-30 A playwright whose work is appreciated on a global scale Athol Fugard's plays have done more to document and provide a cultural commentary on Apartheid era South Africa than any other writer in the last century Using mostly migrant workers and township dwellers and staging guerrilla raid productions in black areas Fugard frequently came into conflict with the government forcing him to take his work overseas Consequently powerful plays such as The Blood Knot Sizwe Banzi is Dead and Master Harold and the boys came to broadcast the inequities of the Apartheid era to the world

Fugard's work retains an insistent influence and is studied and performed the world over. Alan Shelley's study is an accessible but profound analysis of the man, his work and its influence, the social injustices that drive him and the lives of those who people his remarkable plays. Voices of Justice and Reason Geoffrey V. Davis, 2021-10-25

Over the past fifty years, transformations of great moment have taken place in South Africa. Apartheid and the subsequent transition to a democratic, non-racial society in particular have exercised a profound effect on the practice of literature. This study traces the development of literature under apartheid, then seeks to identify the ways in which writers and theatre practitioners are now facing the challenges of a new social order. The main focus is on the work of black writers, prime among them Matsemela Manaka Mtutuzeli Matshoba and Richard Rive, who as politically committed members of the oppressed majority bore witness to the black experience through their writing. Despite the draconian censorship system, they were able to address the social problems caused by racial discrimination in all areas of life, particularly through forced removals, the migrant labour system and the creation of the homelands. Their writing may be read both as a comprehensive record of everyday life under apartheid and as an alternative cultural history of South Africa. Particular attention is paid to theatre as a barometer of social change in South Africa. The concluding chapters consider how, in the current period of transition, writers and arts institutions have set about reassessing their priorities, redefining their function and seeking new aesthetic directions in taking up the challenge of imagining a new society.

The Methuen Drama Guide to Contemporary South African Theatre Martin Middeke, Peter Paul Schnierer, 2015-11-19

South Africa has a uniquely rich and diverse theatre tradition which has responded energetically to the country's remarkable transition, helping to define the challenges and contradictions of this young democracy. This volume considers the variety of theatre forms and the work of the major playwrights and theatre makers producing work in democratic South Africa. It offers an overview of theatre pioneers and theatre forms in Part One, before concentrating on the work of individual playwrights in Part Two. Through its wide-ranging survey of indigenous drama, written predominantly in the English language, and the analysis of more than 100 plays, a detailed account is provided of post-apartheid South African theatre and its engagement with the country's recent history. Part One offers six overview chapters on South African theatre pioneers and theatre forms. These include consideration of the work of artists such as Barney Simon, Mbongeni Ngema, Phyllis Klotz, the collaborations of William Kentridge and the Handspring Puppet Company, the work of Magnet Theatre and of physical and popular community theatre forms. Part Two features chapters on twelve major playwrights, including Athol Fugard, Reza de Wet, Lara Foot Zakes, Mda Ya I Farber, Mpumelelo Paul Grootboom, Mike van Graan and Brett Bailey. It includes a survey of emerging playwrights and significant plays, and the book closes with an interview with Aubrey Sekhaby, the Artistic Director of the South African State Theatre in Pretoria. Written by a team of over twenty leading international scholars, The Methuen Drama Guide to Contemporary South African Theatre is a unique resource that will be invaluable to students and scholars from a range of different disciplines as well as theatre practitioners.

The Palgrave Encyclopedia of Urban Literary Studies Jeremy Tambling, 2022-10-29 This encyclopaedia will be an indispensable resource and recourse for all who are thinking about cities and the urban and the relation of cities to literature and to ways of writing about cities Covering a vast terrain this work will include entries on theorists individual writers individual cities countries cities in relation to the arts film and music urban space pre early and modern cities concepts and movements and definitions amongst others Written by an international team of contributors this will be the first resource of its kind to pull together such a comprehensive overview of the field
