journey of self discovery Work Less, Do More Jan Yager,2008 I don t have enough time This common complaint resounds in companies big and small affecting employees at every level As businesses across the board downsize and become global operations thanks to the Internet fewer employees struggle to accomplish more in ever longer workdays In this essential guide to getting things done intelligently and efficiently renowned time management expert Dr Jan Yager presents her revolutionary program for taking back control of your life Filled with worksheets quizzes and tips on everything from managing e mail to dealing with a disorganized boss to enjoying precious family time this unique system will help you boost your productivity and realize your professional and personal goals The Girl of the Period and Other Social Essays, Vol. I (of 2) Eliza Lynn Linton,2020-08-14 Reproduction of the original The Girl of the Period and Other Social Essays Vol I of 2 by Eliza Lynn Linton Can We Do More to Keep Savings in Our Retirement System? United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions,2015 Good Things to Do Rüdiger Bittner,2023 R diger Bittner argues that the aim of thinking about what to do of practical reason is to find not what we ought to do but what it is good to do under the circumstances Neither under prudence nor under morality are there things we ought to do There is no warrant for the idea of our being required by natural law or by our rationality to do either what helps us attain our ends or what is right for moral reasons While common moral understanding is committed to there being things we ought to do and to our being guilty and deserving blame if we fail to do them we can lay aside these notions without loss indeed with benefit The volume also explains what it is for something to be good to do under the circumstances and argues for understanding practical reason in these terms What is good to do we find by experience what we go through teaches us what helps and what hinders and helps us figure out what is prudentially useful and what is morally right to do although ultimately this difference itself gives way and morality turns out to be a part of prudence Doing Qualitative Research in Education Settings, Second Edition J. What More Do You Want? Albert Low, 2013-04-09 All readers both novice and longtime practitioners will encounter in this book new answers and new questions to the what why and how of Zen practice We've all had moments in our lives when we've thought Something is missing There must be more to life than this It is this sense that often brings people to the practice of Zen By turning to Zen they acknowledge that this something lies not in externals but rather in seeking to transcend desire and attachment The journey toward that transcendence begins with questioning and questions will be part of the path until awakening is attained In What More do You Want a fascinating new book by renowned Zen master Albert Low he addresses some of the questions students have posed about the practice of Zen Why do we practice Why should we seek to understand our reasons for practicing How can we distinguish between true and false practice What is awakening In addition Low shares with his readers four teishos talks that comment on a text or koan in order to enhance meditation practice on zazen or seated meditation on pain and suffering and on the very nature of practice itself Finally Low shares with readers an experience of satori a glimpse into Buddha nature

Better Health Economics Tal Gross, Matthew J. Notowidigdo, 2024-01-09 A health economics textbook for the rest of us The economics of healthcare are messy For most consumers there's minimal control around costs or services Sometimes doctors get paid a lot other times they don't get paid at all Insurance and drug companies are bad except when they're good Everyone still uses fax machines If economics is the study of markets and efficiency how do we make sense of any of this Better Health Economics is a warts and all introduction to a field that is economically speaking more exceptions than rules Drawing on combined decades of teaching MIT trained economists Tal Gross and Matthew J Notowidigdo offer readers an accessible nonexpert primer on the field's essential concepts and critically a framework for thinking about this increasingly imperfect and important market Written in warm spare prose and with a minimum of theory or math Better Health Economics is an ideal entry point in health economics for the range of fields for which the topic is essential By understanding health economics as an ongoing effort to retain good things while eliminating wasteful things students from social science medicine and public policy will draw a richer and more scalable understanding of concepts that are traditionally opaque even daunting Better Health Economics is a love letter to a topic that is traditionally unloveable Healthcare may be a failed market but it's our failed market
