Perspectives Turning Reading Into Writing:

Perspectives, 1987 Instructor's Manual Joseph J. Comprone, 1986-12-01 Perspectives on Writing Roselmina Indrisano, James R. Squire, 2000 This book brings together the contributions of a group of distinguished researchers, teachers, and scholars to present the significant theory, research related to the writing process, the implications of this knowledge for practice, the directions for future research. Perspectives on Good Writing in Applied Linguistics and TESOL Robert Kohls, Christine Pearson Casanave, 2023-09-28 Provides diverse global perspectives from seasoned scholars and teachers on systematically evaluating quality writing. Writing/Reading the Bible in Postcolonial Perspective Steed Vernyl Davidson, 2017-10-02 Examining the legacies of European imperialism Steed Vernyl Davidson traces how the Bible reflects strong affinities with empire and provides ongoing justifications for empire and concentrations of power. Writing/Reading the Bible in Postcolonial Perspective traces the evolution of the Bible from its production in empires of antiquity to its supportive role in the development of modern imperialism. The work also engages the ambiguities of the Bible as an anti-imperial tool. Set within an examination of postcolonial studies as a revolutionary and revisionary discourse, this work presses for a more vigorous postcolonializing of the Bible in Biblical Studies. A description of the contemporary features and manifestation of empire forms the context within which further exploration of postcolonial biblical critical work can take place. Following an assessment of previous work in the field, the challenges of intersectional work with queer studies, terrorism studies, technology, and ecological studies are laid out as future tasks. Richard Wright Kenneth Kinnamon, 2014-11-04 African American writer Richard Wright 1908-1960 was celebrated during the early 1940s for his searing autobiography Black Boy and fiction Native Son. By 1947 he felt so unwelcome in his homeland that he exiled himself and his family in Paris. But his writings changed American culture forever and today they are mainstays of literature and composition classes. He and his works are also the subjects of numerous critical essays and commentaries by contemporary writers. This volume presents a comprehensive annotated bibliography of those essays, books, and articles from 1983 through 2003. Arranged alphabetically by author, within years are some 8320 entries ranging from unpublished dissertations to book-length studies of African American literature and literary criticism. Also included as an appendix are addenda to the author's earlier bibliography covering the years from 1934 through 1982. This is the exhaustive reference for serious students of Richard Wright and his critics. Perspectives on Teaching Language and Content Stacey Katz Bourns, Cheryl Krueger, Nicole Mills, 2020-05-01 An overview of current issues and developments in foreign language education designed for instructors of language, literature, and culture at any stage of their careers. A contemporary guide to foreign language education, this book presents the latest developments and issues in the field of applied linguistics. Re-Imagining Writing: Interdisciplinary Perspectives Phil Fitzsimmons,Johanna Pentikäinen,2019-01-04 This volume was first published by Inter Disciplinary Press in 2014 Across the globe the nature of writing in the twenty-first century is coming under increasing scrutiny as technology becomes an ever increasing component of everyday life and as measuring human output also takes hold in many disciplines This book offers an alternative to these twin developments providing instead many alternatives Coming from an international set of authors with different world views paradigms and praxes the common theme of writing is explored with deep enthusiasm interest in productivity and human capacity and that leads to a polyphonic and progressive inquiry to the subject matter Each author's initial contribution suggests that writing as an object of study needs reimagining be it connected to learning knowledge creation or artistic expression Writing is a deeply person-centred process and its open transformative and multidimensional nature escaped definitions but can be understood through the metaphor of the gift Bakhtinian Perspectives on Language, Literacy, and Learning Arnetha F. Ball,Sarah Warshauer

Freedman,2004-08-23 This 2004 book represents a multidisciplinary collaboration that highlights the significance of Mikhail Bakhtin's theories to modern scholarship in the field of language and literacy Book chapters examine such important questions as What resources do students bring from their home community environments that help them become literate in school What knowledge do teachers need in order to meet the literacy needs of varied students How can teacher educators and professional development programs better understand teachers' needs and help them to become better prepared to teach diverse literacy learners What challenges lie ahead for literacy learners in the coming century Chapters are contributed by scholars who write from varied disciplinary perspectives In addition other scholarly voices enter into a Bakhtinian dialogue with these scholars about their ideas These other voices help our readers push the boundaries of current thinking on Bakhtinian theory and make this book a model of heteroglossia and dialogic intertextuality Disjointed Perspectives on Motherhood Catalina Florina Florescu,2013-10-29 Disjointed Perspectives on Motherhood presents the accounts of mothers who have suffered a major physical and or psychically traumatic accident and as a consequence their minds and bodies have been drastically changed They live under the pressure of having discovered the alter ego of their traumatized personality and now distressed cannot embrace their unconditional maternal love Instead they enter into a phase where they face the challenge of revealing who they are as persons before accepting or motivating themselves as mothers The mothers presented in this volume also seem to have another thing in common their transnational fluid female identity as they enter into an imaginary dialog that transcends geographical and temporal perspectives on womanhood and motherhood This collection introduces and analyzes recurrent words that define a woman s body and mind today fear competition motherhood and career rights selfishness ambition destruction distance and identity By using unprecedented comparative critical approaches such as phenomenological medical feminist and re enchantment theories and by analyzing works from literature cinema and visual arts this collection attempts to reestablish and redefine a canonical concept with the intention to revitalize an otherwise taken for granted image and role Aesthetics in Feminist Perspective Hilde Hein,Carolyn C.

Korsmeyer,1993-09-22 A first rate introduction to the field accessible to scholars working from a variety of disciplinary and theoretical perspectives Highly recommended Choice offers both broad theoretical considerations and applications to specific art forms diverse methodological perspectives and healthy debate among the contributors an outstanding volume Philosophy and Literature this volume represents an eloquent and enlightened attempt to reconceptualize the field of aesthetic theory by encouraging its tendencies toward openness self reflexivity and plurality Discourse Society All of the authors challenge the traditional notion of a pure and disinterested observer that does not allow for questions of race ethnicity class sexual preference or gender Signs These essays examine the intellectual traditions of the philosophy of art and aesthetics Containing essays by scholars and by the writer Marilyn French the collection ranges from the history of aesthetic theory to a philosophical reflection on fashion The contributions are unified by a sustained scrutiny of the nature of feminist feminine or female art creativity and interpretation Transforming Teaching and Learning with Active and Dramatic Approaches Brian Edmiston,2013-09-11 A CHOICE Outstanding Academic Title 2014 How can teachers transform classroom teaching and learning by making pedagogy more socially and culturally responsive more relevant to students lives and more collaborative How can they engage disaffected students in learning and at the same time promote deep understanding though high quality teaching that goes beyond test preparation This text for prospective and practicing teachers introduces engaging innovative pedagogy for putting active and dramatic approaches to learning and teaching into action Written in an accessible conversational and refreshingly honest style by a teacher and professor with over 30 years experience it features real examples of preschool elementary middle and high school teachers working in actual classrooms in diverse settings Their tales explore not only how but also why they have changed the way they teach Photographs and stories of their classroom practice along with summarizing charts of principles and strategies both illuminate the critical cross curricular and inquiry

Muslim Writing, Writing Muslimness in Europe Carmen Zamorano Llana, Billy Gray, Carolina León Vegas, Carles Magrinyà Badiella, 2025-09-25 Throughout the first two decades of the twenty first century the so called Muslim question has intermittently though persistently taken centre stage in Western media and political discourses In terms of culture within the European context there is also a substantial body of literature that has engaged with Western anxieties projected onto the Muslim Other and in particular the Muslim migrant Other Literary criticism of Muslim writing and writing about Muslims in Europe has often highlighted the need to offer a more nuanced articulation of Muslim identity that contributes to challenging such othering practices Critical studies on Muslim writing produced over the last two decades have predominantly focused on contemporary literature and the novel in particular and they have often centred on specific linguistic and national frameworks This collection of essays adds complexity to existing analyses of contemporary Muslim writing and writing about Muslims and Islam in the European context by emphasizing the comparative perspective of writings produced in different epochs and different linguistic and cultural contexts Drawing on transcultural and world literature perspectives Muslim writing is redefined so as to incorporate genres other than the novel and critical approaches that expand on disciplinary redefinitions of literature and literary studies The thematic focus and the rigorous in depth analysis of the different case studies will make this collection relevant to students and academics within the fields of literary and cultural studies sociology and anthropology as well as to those in European studies and global studies

Writing and Seeing Rui Manuel G. de Carvalho Homem, Maria de Fátima Lambert, 2006 The essays in this volume are informed by a variety of theoretical assumptions and of critical methodologies but they all share an interest in the intersections of word and image in a variety of media This unifying rationale secures the present collection s central position in the current critical context defined as it predominantly is by ways of reading that are based on a relational nexus The intertextual the intermedial the intersemiotic are indeed foregrounded and combined in these essays conceptually as much as in the critical practices favoured by the various contributions Studies of literature in its relation to pictorial genres enjoy a relative prominence in the volume but the range of media and of approaches considered is broad enough to include photography film video television comic strips animated film public art material culture The backgrounds of contributors are likewise diverse culturally academically linguistically The volume combines contributions by prominent scholars and critics with essays by younger scholars from a variety of backgrounds The resulting plurality of perspective is indeed a source of new insights into the relations between writing and seeing and it contributes to making this collection an exciting new contribution to word and image studies

Decolonizing Rhetoric and Composition Studies Iris D. Ruiz, Raúl Sánchez, 2016-10-15 This book brings together Latinx scholars in Rhetoric and Composition to discuss keywords that have been misused or appropriated by forces working against the interests of minority students For example in educational and political forums rhetorics of identity and civil rights have been used to justify ideas and policies that reaffirm the myth of a normative US culture that is white Eurocentric and monolingually English Such attempts amount to a project of neo colonization if we understand colonization to mean not only the taking of land but also the taking of culture of which language is a crucial part The editors introduce the concept of epistemic delinking and argue for its use in conceptualizing a kind of rhetorical and discursive decolonization and contributors offer examples of this decolonization in action through detailed work on specific terms Specifically they draw on their training in rhetoric and on their own experiences as people of color to help reset the field's agenda They also theorize new keywords to shed light on the great varieties of Latinx writing rhetoric and literacies that continue to emerge and circulate in the culture at large in the hope that the field will feel more urgently the need to recognize theorize and teach the intersections of writing pedagogy and politics
