Perspectives on Drought and Famine in Nigeria G. Jan van Apeldoorn, 1981-01-01 1972 1974 crisis in northern Nigeria
Perspectives on Drought and Famine in Nigeria G. Jan Van Apeldoorn, 2024-07-05 Originally published in 1981 this book provided the first concise and integrated account of the Nigerian crisis and uncovered the basic cause of the increasing vulnerability of the Nigerian rural poor during the 1970s to the effects of drought in order to show the lessons of the crisis and how they could be translated into medium term action The author argued that an analysis of the causes and impact of the drought and famine disaster of the seventies could offer useful clues to the policy orientations necessary to avert a protracted food crisis in the region

Displacement and the Politics of Violence in Nigeria Paul Lovejoy, Tokunbo

Williams,2021-11-01 This volume examines the political stalemate that has engulfed Nigeria in the 1990s The annulment of the 1993 elections stopped the transition to civilian rule which had begun in 1987 In re establishing its rule the military relied increasingly on repressive measures As rival elites have struggled to control the economy the level of violence and general insecurity has increased Often contending forces are perceived in religious terms with the result that secular strife has become pronounced The military government has thereby been able to manipulate the complexities of religious class and ethnic factors for its own purposes with the result that increasing numbers of Nigerians have left the country African Food Systems in Crisis Rebecca Huss-Ashmore,Solomon H Katz,2019-07-19 Originally published in 1990 Produced by the Task Force on African Famine of the American Anthropological Association this is the first of a multi part project dealing with the long term and ongoing food crisis in Africa primarily at the level of local production the microperspective It offers a series of anthropological and ecological views on the cause of the current problem and on coping strategies used by both indigenous people and developmental planners The three sections of this volume review current explanations for food problems in Africa focusing mainly on production and consumption at the household level they offer a number of perspectives on the environmental historical political and economic contexts for food stress and include a series of case studies showing the ways in which Africans have responded to the threat of drought and hunger The extent of research and the degree of scholarship involved in the production of this volume recommend it to all persons concerned with this ultimately global dilemma particularly those involved in planning and relief efforts Perspectives on Environmental Conflict and International Relations Jyrki Käkönen,1992 How the World Hunger Problem Was not Solved Christian Gerlach,2024-02-14 The world food crisis 1972 1975 gave rise to new development concepts To eradicate world hunger small peasants were supposed to use modern inputs like high yielding seeds fertilizer pesticides and irrigation This would turn subsistence producers into business owners transform rural areas invigorate national economies and the crisis stricken world economy and thus stabilize capitalism Together with an in depth account of the world food crisis this book analyses how this global scheme largely failed It shows its diverse initiators their reasoning and motives its political breakthrough the degrees to which it was implemented globally and nationally in the following decades and its socioeconomic effects in rural areas Despite internationally coordinated policies and coercive means the scheme failed on all levels situation analysis design policies incapable institutions including big business implementation and peasants responses Selective realization in certain regions and for certain crops and the appropriation of funds by local elites often aggravated inequality and hunger Case studies are about Bangladesh Indonesia Tanzania and Mali The book shows limits to global social engineering imperialism and state control It is aimed at students scholars activists and non specialists interested in development and the world food problem The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4 0 license Preventing Famine Donald

Conservation in Africa David Anderson, Richard H. Grove, 1987 This book provides a new inter disciplinary look at the practice and policies of conservation in Africa Bringing together social scientists anthropologists and historians with biologists for the first time the book sheds some light on the previously neglected but critically important social aspects of conservation thinking To date conservation has been very much the domain of the biologist but the current ecological crisis in Africa and the failure of orthodox conservation policies demand a radical new appraisal of conventional practices This new approach to conservation the book argues cannot deal simply with the survival of species and habitats for the future of African wildlife is intimately tied to the future of African rural communities Conservation must form an integral part of future policies for human development The book emphasises this urgent need for a complementary rather than a competitive approach It covers a wide range of topics important to this new approach from wildlife management to soil conservation and from the Cape in the nineteenth century to Ethiopia in the 1980s It is essential reading for all those concerned about people and conservation in Africa

African Seminars Various Authors, 2021-02-25 Originally published between 1986 and 1989 the 8 volumes in this set reflect the research and debate surrounding many issues for the African economy society and culture and as such make a vital contribution to effective development both rural and urban They re issue key titles from the International African Library and the International African Seminars and address themes of direct relevance to contemporary Africa on topics as diverse as medicine migration housing pastoralism and marriage Feeding African Cities Jane Guyer, 2018-08-06

Originally published in 1987 this book traces the broad outlines of urban food policy drawing attention to the limited knowledge of regional social history Urban food supply systems in Africa have developed very fast in the midst of societies in which food production was not in general oriented to feeding distant populations of specialist consumers Institutional and political links had to be forged between town and country if food supply was to be cheap and predictable This volume explores the political and material dynamics of urban food supply through 4 case studies Kano Yaound Dar es Salaam and Harare Morality and Economic Growth in Rural West Africa Paul Clough, 2014-06-01 The land labor credit and trading institutions of Marmara village in Hausaland northern Nigeria are detailed in this study through fieldwork conducted in two national economic cycles the petroleum boom prosperity in 1977 1979 and the macro economic decline in 1985 1996 and 1998 The book unveils a new paradigm of economic change in the West African savannah demonstrating how rural accumulation in a polygynous society actually limits the extent of inequality while at the same time promoting technical change A uniquely African non capitalist trajectory of accumulation subordinates the acquisition of capital to the expansion of polygynous families clientage networks and circles of trading friends The whole trajectory is driven by an indigenous ethics of personal responsibility This model disputes the validity of both Marxian theories of capitalist transformation in Africa and the New Institutional Economics
