Perversions Of Love Among The Various Races:

This Perversion Called Love Margherita Long, 2009-10-08 This Perversion Called Love positions one of Japan's most canonical and best translated 20th century authors at the center of contemporary debates in feminism. Examining sexual perversion in Tanizaki's aesthetic essays, cultural criticism, cinema writings, and short novels from the 1930s, it argues that Tanizaki understands human subjectivity in remarkably Freudian terms but that he is much more critical than Freud about what it means for the possibility of love. According to Tanizaki, perversion involves not the proliferation of interesting gender positions but rather the tragic absence of even two sexes since femininity is only defined as man's absence, supplement or complement. In this fascinating work, author Margherita Long reads Tanizaki with a theoretical complexity he demands but has seldom received. As a critique of the historicist and gender-focused paradigms that inform much recent work in Japanese literary and cultural studies, This Perversion Called Love offers exciting new interpretations that should spark controversy in the fields of feminist theory and critical Asian studies.

Perversion of Love Crystal Wright Adams, 2021-06-10 Perversion of Love aims to explore the reasons why we as Christians may struggle to love ourselves and others through the lens of what Dr. Gary Chapman defined and what has been accepted by popular culture as the five love languages. Christians have been given a Great Commission which is to spread the Gospel and make disciples. The method by which we fulfill this commission is the greatest commandments: to love God and love our neighbors as ourselves. God created us to love, but we have an enemy whose goal is to destroy everything that God created, and his favorite method of destruction is perversion—the distortion, corruption, or alteration of a thing from its original course or design. So it makes sense that our enemy would seek to pervert the way we love ourselves and others in his attempt to stop the spread of the Gospel. So how does this perversion take place? I believe the enemy attacks us through our primary love languages and uses our very own parents as unwitting and sometimes witting participants to carry out his plan. Since we all receive love differently, the enemy will attack us in different ways, but there are some common tactics he uses depending on our love language. If we can learn to recognize the enemy's tactics for what they were, we can start the process of breaking the cycle of perversion in our lives and the generations to come. In doing so, we can learn to fully love God, ourselves, and others, and we will fulfill the purpose for which we were designed.

A Cultural History of Race in the Age of Empire and Nation State Marina B. Mogilner, 2023-06-01 This volume covers the cultural history of race in the long 19th century, the age of empire and nation state, a transformative period during which a modern world had been forged and complex and hierarchical imperial formations were challenged by the emerging national norm. The concept of race emerged as a dominant epistemology in the context of the conflicting entanglement of empire and nation as two alternative but quite compatible forms of social imaginary. It penetrated all spheres of life under the novel conditions of the emerging mass culture and mass society and with the sanction of anthropocentric and positivistic science. Allegedly primeval and parasocial race was seen as a uniquely stable constant in a society in flux amid transforming institutions economies and political regimes But contrary to this perception there was nothing stable or natural about race The spread of racializing social and political imagination only reinforced the need for constant renegotiation and readjustment of racial boundaries Therefore avoiding any structuralist simplifications this volume looks at specific imperial nationalizing and hybrid contexts framing the semantics and politics of race in the course of the long 19th century In different parts of the globalizing world various actors were applying their own notions of race to others and to themselves embracing it simultaneously as a language of othering and personal subjectivity Consequently the cultural history of race as told in this volume unfolds on many levels in multiple loci and in different genres thus reflecting the qualities of race as an omnipresent and all embracing discourse of the time

Sex, Love, Race Martha Hodes,1999 Since the colonial era North America has been defined and continually redefined by the intersections of sex violence and love across racial boundaries Motivated by conquest economics desire and romance such crossings have profoundly affected American society by disturbing dominant ideas about race and sexuality Sex Love Race provides a historical foundation for contemporary discussions of sex across racial lines which despite the numbers of interracial marriages and multi racial children remains a controversial issue today The first historical anthology to focus solely and widely on the subject Sex Love Race gathers new essays by both younger and well known scholars which probe why and how sex across racial boundaries has so threatened Americans of all colors and classes Traversing the whole of American history from liaisons among Indians Europeans and Africans to twentieth century social scientists fascination with sex between Asian Americans and whits the essays cover a range of regions and of racial ethnic and sexual identities in North America Back cover

Perversion of Faith John Hartman,2024-08-30 With political disinformation rampant and antisemitism on the rise across the world it is vital for a healthy society to better understand both racism and the propaganda that promotes it This study highlights the role of the feature film in promoting an ideology that supports the identification of a racial enemy that can lead to political persecution and social violence The author presents a psychological model as an explanatory framework for understanding the emotional appeal of racist propaganda Illustrative evidence for the psychological model will be provided primarily through three feature films made by the National Socialist Nazi regime in Germany 1933-1945 These films provide evidence of different ways in which film was utilized to aid in the regime's intent to wage war against its perceived enemies The book addresses five major questions related to the role of propaganda in the promotion of racist ideology and social violence 1 how can we understand the emotional basis of the ideology of racism 2 How are these ideas translated into mass media like films television and the internet 3 What is the emotional appeal of this propaganda to the committed follower and to the average citizen 4 What is the role of propaganda in moving people from an ideology to social action including violence 5 What might be antidotes to racist propaganda The book will be of interest to students and researchers in film studies history sociology and cultural studies as well as specialist Jewish Studies and Holocaust Studies centers

Negroes and Negro "Slavery:" the first an inferior race: the latter its normal condition John H. Van Evrie, 2021-11-05 In Negroes and Negro Slavery the First an Inferior Race the Latter Its Normal Condition John H. Van Evrie presents a controversial and provocative treatise that reflects the antebellum attitudes towards race and slavery in mid-19th century America Van Evrie's discourse is marked by a pseudo-scientific rationale and a polemic style situated within the framework of racial superiority that informed much of the literature of the period Through his assertions he attempts to normalize the institution of slavery by casting it as a natural state for those he deems an inferior race thus revealing the deeply entrenched prejudices prevalent in contemporary society and the intellectual currents that justify systemic oppression John H. Van Evrie was a notable figure in 19th century American thought known for his writings on race and slavery which echoed the sociopolitical climate of his time Drawing from the prevailing notions of racial hierarchy and employing a range of pseudo-scientific arguments his work reveals the mindset of a segment of society grappling with the moral and ethical implications of slavery amid growing abolitionist sentiments His background in medical practice and his later ventures into journalism likely influenced his approach to the contentious subject This book is essential reading for those interested in understanding the historical context of race relations in America as it provides a lens into the mindset that perpetuated slavery It invites readers to critically engage with the historical rationale for racial discrimination making it a provocative addition for scholars students and anyone seeking to explore the enduring legacies of racism in American history

Anthropological Studies on the Strange Sexual Practices of All Races and All Ages Iwan Bloch, 2001-06 The celebrated compendium of sexual oddities a no-holds-barred treatment of sexual practices throughout the world and throughout time The work makes excellent reading though it may be criticized for lacking any substantial synthesis of its components and for being unsympathetic to homosexuals and masturbators Iwan Bloch 1872-1922 the father of sexual

A. Rogers,2014-09-15 In the Sex and Race series first published in the 1940s historian Joel Augustus Rogers questioned the concept of race the origins of racial differentiation and the root of the color problem Rogers surmised that a large percentage of ethnic differences are the result of sociological factors and in these volumes he gathered what he called the bran of history the uncollected unexamined history of black people in the hope that these neglected parts of history would become part of the mainstream body of Western history Drawing on a vast amount of research Rogers was attempting to point out the absurdity of racial divisions Indeed his belief in one race humanity precluded the idea of several different ethnic races The series marshals the data he had collected as evidence to prove his underlying humanistic thesis that people were one large family without racial boundaries Self trained and self published Rogers and his work were immensely popular and influential during his day even cited by Malcolm X The books are presented here in their original editions Sex Perversions and Sex Crimes James Melvin Reinhardt,1957 Love, Perversion or Just Nature? James Prince,2015-01-07 It is not always easy to know who is telling the truth you would tell me I can tell you that almost everything that is said or written can be verified One thing is sure and this is that everything I wrote about the word of God everything I wrote about what is from the Bible can be verified So I beg everyone and anyone to get back to me if I said and wrote anything that is not conformed to the scriptures I know perfectly that mistaking is human but I also know that the lie is diabolic and John Jesus brother said no lie comes from the truth See 1 John 2 21 I do not write to you because you do not know the truth but because you do know it and because no lie comes from the truth If you are happy for discovering the truth because of what you read in this book then tell everyone you can and if it is possible do it without risking your life because I wish you can do it for a long time This book contains enough information about the truth the word of God for anyone who wants to be a Jesus disciple to begin his or her mission Don t you ever forget the many Jesus warnings and mine though and remember that you will be flogged in the churches and this most likely unnecessarily May God bless you James Prince with the Jesus discipline A Jesus disciple has only one religion and this is the one he got from Jesus This means to go directly to God and the Father in heaven will receive you See Matthew 6 18 James Prince DNA, Race, and Reproduction Emily Klancher Merchant, Meaghan O'Keefe, 2025-01-07 A free ebook version of this title is available through Luminos University of California Press s Open Access publishing program Visit www.luminosoa.org to learn more DNA Race and Reproduction helps readers inside and outside of academia evaluate and engage with the current genomic landscape It brings together expertise in law medicine religion history anthropology philosophy and genetics to examine how scientists medical professionals and laypeople use genomic concepts to construct racial identity and make or advise reproductive decisions often at the same moment It critically and accessibly interrogates how DNA figures in the reproduction of racialized bodies and the racialization of reproduction and examines the privileged position from which genomic knowledge claims to speak about human bodies societies and activities The volume begins from the premise that reproduction regardless of the means forces a confrontation between biomedical scientific and popular understandings of genetics and that those understandings are often racialized It therefore centers reproduction as both a site of analysis and an analytic lens Negroes and Negro "slavery:" the First an Inferior Race John H. Van Evrie, 1863 Race and Performance after Repetition Soyica Diggs Colbert, Douglas A. Jones Jr., Shane Vogel, 2020-08-10 The contributors to Race and Performance after Repetition explore how theater and performance studies account for the complex relationship between race and time Pointing out that repetition has been the primary point of reference for understanding both the complex temporality of theater and the historical persistence of race they identify and pursue critical alternatives to the conceptualization organization measurement and politics of race in performance The contributors examine theater performance art music sports dance photography and other forms of performance in topics that range from the movement of boxer Joe Louis to George C Wolfe s 2016 reimaging of the 1921 all black musical comedy Shuffle Along to the relationship between dance mourning and black adolescence in Flying Lotus s music video Never Catch Me Proposing a spectrum of coexisting racial temporalities that are not tethered to repetition this collection reconsiders central theories in performance studies in order to find new understandings of race Contributors Joshua Chambers Letson Soyica Diggs Colbert Nicholas
