Postcards from Patmos Osvaldo D. Vena, 2024-11-27 In this work a fictionalized John is addressing a contemporary audience directly as if they were the original recipients of the book Unlike the author s two previous books which were historical fictions this one does not include fictional elements It does not dwell on possible scenarios advanced by information found in the text like the trip to Spain in the case of Paul Rather it aims at providing the audience with some additional historical information so they can have a better understanding of the place and time in which John wrote The reader will notice for example that instead of using inclusive language which would be anachronistic John uses male language to address God The author also explores fictionally John s feelings to allow the readers to imagine how he might have felt in the troubled times he lived in and John's Apocalypse Emotion Empathy and Engagement with God explores these questions in a systematic study of the emotions in two apocalyptic texts The book of 4 Ezra an ancient Jewish apocalypse and the book of Revelation an ancient Christian Apocalypse written by John are examined with a focus on the emotional language of the prayers and prayer preludes contained in this literature Both texts were composed in the first century of the Common Era a time when most people exposed to literature heard the content as it was recited The emotive language in these writings could potentially arouse similar emotions in the readers or hearers of these texts allowing the person to have access to the divine experiences which are described by the seer in 4 Ezra and are expressed by the angelic choir in John's Apocalypse Prior to examining the prayers Prayer as Divine Experience will describe the neurological processes that cause a person to mirror the emotions expressed by another individual thereby prompting an imitation of the experience that is perceived Representing
