Redating The New Testament:

Redating the New Testament John Arthur Thomas Robinson, 1976 Redating the New Testament John A. T. T. Robinson, 1981 Rethinking the Dates of the New Testament Jonathan Bernier, 2022-05-03 This paradigm shifting study is the first book length investigation into the compositional dates of the New Testament to be published in over forty years It argues that with the notable exception of the undisputed Pauline Epistles most New Testament texts were composed twenty to thirty years earlier than is typically supposed by contemporary biblical scholars What emerges is a revised view of how quickly early Christians produced what became the seminal texts for their new movement The Archaeology Of The New Testament Jack Finegan, 2019-06-21 The Archeology of the New Testament is the authoritative illustrated account of what is presently known about the chief sites and monuments connected with the life of Jesus and the history of the early church To follow the order of the New Testament it first investigates sites connected with John the Baptist and then proceeds to Bethlehem and Encountering the New Testament (Encountering Biblical Studies) Walter A. seasoned researcher and the beginning student The Making of the New Testament Documents E. Earle Ellis, 2021-10-25

The Making of the New Testament Documents investigates literary tradition and their implications for the authorship origin and dating of the New Testament Gospels and letters Building upon earlier research it identifies and compares preformed pieces that in the letters call into question the traditional view that the letters were the sole product of an individual whose authorship could be vetted by internal criteria of vocabulary style and theological expression The numerous and diverse epistolary traditions many non authorial argue for a kind of corporate authorship that until now has been unappreciated and apparently unknown to critical scholarship A comparison of the traditions and of the common opposition they sometimes have in view supports a synchronic relationship of the various New Testament documents all of which with the exception of John's Gospel and letters reflect the pre AD 70 period It thus challenges the tradition of F C Baur still widely followed that apart from a few Pauline letters dates New Testament writings from the last decades of the first century to the first half of the second The author contends that the New Testament is the product of four contemporaneous and cooperating apostolic missions each of which produced a Gospel and a number of letters and each of which faced the same judaizing gnosticizing countermission These four allied missions shared both Gospel and epistolary traditions even as they pursued their discrete tasks in the service of the church The arguments of this book if persuasive will require a reassessment of the history of early Christianity This publication has also been published in paperback please click here for details The New Testament Donald A. Hagner, 2012-11-15 This capstone work from widely respected senior evangelical scholar Donald Hagner offers a substantial introduction to the New Testament Hagner deals with the New Testament both historically and theologically employing the framework of salvation history He treats the New Testament as a coherent body of texts and stresses the unity of the New Testament without neglecting its variety Although the volume covers typical questions of introduction such as author date background and sources it focuses primarily on understanding the theological content and meaning of the texts putting students in a position to understand the origins of Christianity and its canonical writings Throughout Hagner delivers balanced conclusions in conversation with classic and current scholarship The book includes summary tables diagrams maps and extensive bibliographies A Popular Survey of the New Testament Norman L. Geisler, 2014-09-09 Understanding the New Testament is a daunting but exciting task Our world is so different from that of the first century Yet it is important to understand the context and content of the New Testament if we are to be faithful followers Now in paper this survey addresses the who what where when why and how questions that readers of the Bible may have such as How can we tell if what is written in the New Testament is true history or just mythology When were these books written and why and What can today's believers get out of letters addressed to people who lived two millennia ago Written in an easy informal style this survey is accessible and enjoyable to anyone who wants to better understand the New Testament Mark 8:27-16:20, Volume 34B Craig A. Evans, 2018-01-09 The Word Biblical Commentary delivers the best in biblical scholarship from the
