Reflections On Economic Development Ec:

Thoughts on Economic Development in China Ma Ying, Hans-Michael Trautwein, 2013-03-05 This book is about mutual influences of thinking about economic development in China and in the West from the 18th century until the present Its chapters are contributed by development economists and historians of thought from China and other parts of the world The book describes important stages in the evolution cross fertilization and contextual modification of ideas about economic order development and institutional change It illustrates how Western concepts and theories have been adopted and adapted to Chinese conditions in different waves of modernization from the late 19th century until the present and that this was and is no one way traffic The book examines to what extent pre classical thinking in the West in particular French Physiocracy in mid 18th century was influenced by China as an ideal and a source of ideas at a time when China was the largest and most advanced economy in the world It discusses to what extent different approaches of modern Western style economics in particular in the fields of development economics and institutional economics can be used to understand the rapid transitions and developments of the Chinese economy in recent decades and to what extent they need to be modified in the light of new experiences and insights Against this background several contributions to the volume provide assessments of the current state of economic science and teaching in China in particular with regard to Chinese views on Western economics The book should be of interest to those who are interested in the economic history of China

W. Arthur Lewis and the Birth of Development Economics Robert L. Tignor, 2020-06-23 W Arthur Lewis was one of the foremost intellectuals economists and political activists of the twentieth century In this book the first intellectual biography of Lewis Robert Tignor traces Lewis s life from its beginnings on the small island of St Lucia to Lewis s arrival at Princeton University in the early 1960s A chronicle of Lewis s unflinching efforts to promote racial justice and decolonization it provides a history of development economics as seen through the life of one of its most important founders If there were a record for the number of firsts achieved by one man during his lifetime Lewis would be a contender He was the first black professor in a British university and also at Princeton University and the first person of African descent to win a Nobel Prize in a field other than literature or peace His writings which included his book The Theory of Economic Growth were among the first to describe the field of development economics Quickly gaining the attention of the leadership of colonized territories he helped develop blueprints for the changing relationship between the former colonies and their former rulers He made significant contributions to Ghana s quest for economic growth and the West Indies desire to create a first class institution of higher learning serving all of the Anglophone territories in the Caribbean This book based on Lewis s personal papers provides a new view of this renowned economist and his impact on economic growth in the twentieth century It will intrigue not only students of development economics but also anyone interested in colonialism and decolonization and justice for the poor in third world countries

African Development Perspectives: A Holistic Reflection T A Ngwana, 2024-01-05 Africa remains a continent that is yet to achieve its full potentials despite an abundance of resources and a rich cultural pedigree There have been various attempts to dissect the impediments to the continent's progress in its march towards development and true independence Consequently this book moves away from mere identification of challenges to proffering solutions The ideas put forward about African development in this book draw from a multiplicity of backgrounds They are also offered through the prism of the lived experiences of contributors who are keen on engendering an African solution that weaves global dynamics into Africa's cultural context and did not shy away from identifying themselves as global citizens from Africa The compelling read is a critical appraisal of germane issues in Africa's quest for development which speaks truth to both the powerful and the powerless within and beyond Africa on why prioritising Africa's development is as pressing as the Global climate catastrophe

Development, Duality, and the International Economic Regime Gary R. Saxonhouse, T. N. Srinivasan, 1999 A stellar group of economists examine and evaluate important issues in development economics

An Integral Approach to Development Economics Basheer A. Oshodi, 2016-04-15 Developing economies such as those in sub-Saharan Africa are searching for realistic economic policy prescriptions Despite economic growth in countries like Nigeria poverty and unemployment blight the lives of many in the midst of plenty Simultaneously much neo-classical economic thought is being questioned against the backdrop of global economic meltdown giving rise to inquiry about more integral approaches to sustainable development In An Integral Approach to Development Economics Basheer Oshodi examines modernization theories dependency theories world system theories and emerging 21st century economic theories and links a neo-modern mix of economic thought with the practicalities of finance in parts of the World where poverty is rife In a specifically African setting over half of the population are Muslims Oshodi considers Islamic finance in the context of the triple heritage of indigenous culture Westernized Christianity and Islam He argues that the principles of Islamic banking and finance can be integrated with other elements of that heritage focusing on meeting the challenges of poverty and unemployment Islamic finance is not just a religiously oriented Sharia compliant alternative financial model It can contribute to overall socio-economic transformation and a wider people-centred approach to economic development International organizations financial institutions reserve banks policy makers donor agencies and students will find resonance in this valuable addition to Gower's Transformation and Innovation Series

Development Economics in the Twenty-First Century Claudia Sunna, Davide Gualerzi, 2015-12-14 Development Economics has been identified as a homogeneous body of theory since the 1950s concerned both with the study of development issues and with the shaping of more effective policies for less advanced economies Development Economics in the Twenty-First Century brings together an international contributor team in order to explore the origins and evolution of development economics This book highlights the different elements of high development theory through a precise reconstruction of the different theoretical approaches that developed between the 1950s and the 1970s These include the theory of balanced and unbalanced growth theory the debate on international trade the concept of dualism dependency theory structuralism and the analysis of poverty and institutions The chapters highlight the relevance and usefulness of these analyses for the contemporary theoretical debate on development issues Comparative perspectives are explored and analysed including those of Keynes Hirschman Krugman and Stiglitz The chapters situate development economics within current debates among economists and historians of economic thought providing a platform for future research This book is suitable for researchers and students with an interest in Development Economics the History of Economic development and the Economics of Developing Countries

Meta-Philosophical Reflection on Feminist Philosophies of Science Maria Cristina Amoretti, Nicla Vassallo, 2015-12-21 This volume offers a meta philosophical reflection on feminist philosophies of science It emphasizes and discusses both the connections and differences between traditional philosophies of science and feminist philosophies of science The collection systematically analyses feminist contributions to the various philosophies of specific sciences Each chapter is devoted to a specific area of philosophy of science general philosophy of science philosophy of biology philosophy of climate sciences philosophy of cognitive sciences and neurosciences philosophy of economics philosophy of history and archaeology philosophy of logic and mathematics philosophy of medicine philosophy of psychology philosophy of physics and philosophy of social sciences Since some of these areas have so far rarely been addressed by feminist philosophers this new collection provides new angles and stimulates the debate on pivotal issues that are part and parcel of both traditional philosophies of science and feminist philosophies of science Using a range of different methodologies and styles the essays all show great clarity in both arguments and contents

A Behavioural Theory of Economic Development Robert Huggins, Piers Thompson, 2021-01-14 Innovation entrepreneurship knowledge and human capital are widely acknowledged as key levers of development Yet what are the sources of these factors and why do they differ in their endowment across regions Motivated by a belief that theories of economic development can move beyond the generally accepted explanations of location and the organization of industries and capital this book establishes a behavioural theory of economic development illustrating that differences in human behaviour across cities and regions are a significant deep rooted cause of uneven development Fusing a range of concepts relating to culture psychology human agency institutions and power it proposes that the long term differentials in economic development between cities and regions both within and across nations is strongly connected to the underlying forms of behaviour enacted by humans on an individual and collective basis Given a world of finite and limited resources coupled with a rapidly growing population especially in cities and urban regions human behaviour and the expectations and preferences upon which it is based are central to understanding how notions of development may change in coming years This book provides a novel theory of the role of psychocultural context and human behavioural and institutional frameworks in uneven economic development on a global scale

Reflections on Economic Development Michael P. Todaro, 1995 Michael P Todaro's pioneering work on economic development has been noted for its openness to new forms of analysis fresh methods of perceiving economic behaviour and the consideration of the complex array of non economic variables that assume such significance in the economic life of developing nations Reflections on Economic Development brings together a collection of Professor Todaro's most significant essays focused on a wide range of topics in economic development including rural urban migration international legal and illegal migration population growth technological change education the environment and ethics Insightful informative and stimulating this collection will be welcomed by all those interested in the broad contribution made by this leading development economist

International Development Anna Lanoszka, 2025-07-09 International Development Strategies and Legacies of Socio Economic Development examines the multifaceted challenges and strategies underlying socio economic progress in a globally interconnected world Grounded in a thorough historical and theoretical framework this book explores the evolution of developmental strategies from post colonial challenges the growing influence of international organizations and the role of state policies to the impacts of global market integration and demands for environmental sustainability It scrutinizes the effectiveness of international organizations and foreign aid agencies the resilience of local strategies and the persistent disparities shaped by historical legacies extractive and inclusive state institutions deficit of individual rights systemic poverty gender inequality armed conflicts environmental hazards and food insecurity Through case studies and document driven insights it highlights the intersection of institutional frameworks economic imperatives and human agency in shaping developmental outcomes By integrating environmental and sustainability considerations with economic strategies the book underscores the necessity of inclusive policies that address structural barriers and promote human centered development This new edition has been thoroughly updated to include material on decolonization the various effects of the Covid 19 pandemic gender and sexual orientation based discrimination climate change migration and economic insecurity With a multi disciplinary approach taking into account politics international relations economics sociology cultural studies and the history of development this book is an invaluable resource for students and scholars as well as policy makers and practitioners working and researching in those fields
