Reflections On The Revolution In Europe:

Civil Society in Democratization Peter J. Burnell, Peter Calvert, 2004 Featuring a broad range of perspectives on the democratic process this collection of essays explores the development of civil society and how civil societies manage democratic change around the world Reflections of the Revolution in Europe Ralf Dahrendorf, 1967-11-01

Reflections on the Revolution in Europe Ralf Dahrendorf, The rise of a new Europe prompts many questions most of which remain to be answered What does it all mean Where is it going to lead This text ponders these and other equally vexing questions Reflections on the Revolution in France Edmund Burke, 1961 The Emancipation of Europe's Muslims Jonathan Laurence, 2012 The Emancipation of Europe's Muslims traces how governments across Western Europe have responded to the growing presence of Muslim immigrants in their countries over the past fifty years Drawing on hundreds of in depth interviews with government officials and religious leaders in France Germany Italy the Netherlands the United Kingdom Morocco and Turkey Jonathan Laurence challenges the widespread notion that Europe's Muslim minorities represent a threat to liberal democracy He documents how European governments in the 1970s and 1980s excluded Islam from domestic institutions instead inviting foreign powers like Saudi Arabia Algeria and Turkey to oversee the practice of Islam among immigrants in European host societies But since the 1990s amid rising integration problems and fears about terrorism governments have aggressively stepped up efforts to reach out to their Muslim communities and incorporate them into the institutional political and cultural fabrics of European democracy The Emancipation of Europe's Muslims places these efforts particularly the government led creation of Islamic councils within a broader theoretical context and gleans insights from government interactions with groups such as trade unions and Jewish communities at previous critical junctures in European state building By examining how state mosque relations in Europe are linked to the ongoing struggle for religious and political authority in the Muslim majority world Laurence sheds light on the geopolitical implications of a religious minority's transition from outsiders to citizens This book offers a much needed reassessment that foresees the continuing integration of Muslims into European civil society and politics in the coming decades Reflections on the Revolution in Europe Ralf Dahrendorf, 1990 The fall of the Berlin Wall in 1989 effectively ended the division of Europe into East and West and the features of our world that have resulted bear little resemblance to those of the forty years that preceded the Wall's fall The rise of a new Europe prompts many questions most of which remain to be answered What does it all mean Where is it going to lead Are we witnessing the conclusion of an era without seeing anything to replace an old and admittedly dismal way of life What will a market economy do to the social texture of various countries of Central Europe Will it not make some rich while many will become poorer than ever How can the rule of law be brought about In this incisive and lucid book Ralf Dahrendorf one of Europe's most distinguished scholars ponders these and other equally vexing questions He regards what has happened in East Central Europe as a victory for neither of the social systems that once opposed each other across the Iron Curtain Rather he views these events as a vote for an open society over a closed society The continuing conundrum he argues which will plague peoples everywhere will be how to balance the need for economic growth with the desire for social justice while building authentic and enduring democratic institutions Reflections on the Revolution in Europe which includes a new introduction from the author is a humane skeptical and anti utopian work a manifesto for a radical liberalism in which the social entitlements of citizenship are as important a condition of progress as the opportunities for choice A fascinating study of change and geopolitics in the modern world Reflections points the way towards a new politics for the twenty first century Ralf Dahrendorf born in Hamburg Germany in 1929 is a member of Britain s House of Lords He was professor of sociology at Hamburg T3bingen and Konstanz from 1957 to 1968 and in 1974 moved to Britain He has been the director of the London School of Economics warden of St Antony s College and pro vice chancellor of the University of Oxford He is the author of numerous books including The Modern Social Conflict and After 1989 Morals Revolution and Civil Society

Europe Against Revolution Matthijs Lok,2023 Offers a radical new scholarly interpretation of the topics of Enlightenment legacies counter revolution and conservatism as well as the construction of the European Past and the international order Gives a historical perspective on the contemporary radical right as well as current expressions of European identity and memory Combines Enlightenment thought with counter revolution and memory studies historiography Draws on sources from seven languages to give a truly pan European perspective

Revolutionary Europe 1780-1850 Jonathan Sperber,2017-04-21 Jonathan Sperber s Revolutionary Europe 1780 1850 is a history of Europe in the age of the French Revolution from the end of the old regime to the outcome of the revolutions of 1848 Fully revised and updated this second edition provides a continent wide history of the key political events and social transformation that took place within this turbulent period extending as far as their effects within the European colonial society of the Caribbean Key features include analyses of the movement from society s old regime of orders to a civil society of property owners the varied consequences of rapid population increase and the spread of market relations in the economy and the upshot of these changes for political life from violent revolutions and warfare to dramatic reforms and peaceful mass movements a lively account of the events of the period and a thorough analysis of the political cultural and socioeconomic transformations that shaped them a look into the lives of ordinary people amidst the social and economic developments of the time a range of maps depicting the developments in Europe s geographic scope between 1789 and 1848 including for the 1820 1830 and 1848 revolutions Revolutionary Europe 1780 1850 is the perfect introduction for students of the history of the French Revolution and the history of Europe more broadly

1993 Patt Leonard,Rebecca Routh,1996 Journal articles books book chapters book reviews dissertations and selected government publications on East Central Europe and the former Soviet Union published in the United States and Canada

Discourses and Counter-discourses on Europe Manuela Ceretta,Barbara Curli,2017-01-12 The European Union plays an increasingly central role in global relations from migration to trade to institutional financial solvency The formation and continuation of these relations their narratives and discourses are rooted in social political and economic historical relations emerging at the founding of European states and then substantially augmented in the Post WWII era Any rethinking of our European narratives requires a contextualized analysis of the formation of hegemonic discourses The book contributes to the ongoing process of rethinking the European project identity and institutions brought about by the end of the Cold war and the current economic and political crisis Starting from the principle that the present European crisis goes hand in hand with the crisis of its hegemonic discourse the aim of the volume is to rescue the complexity the richness the ambiguity of the discourses on Europe as opposed to the present simplification The multidisciplinary approach and the long term perspective permits illuminating scope over multiple discourses historical periods and different languages including that of the European institutions This text will be of key interest to scholars and students of European Union politics European integration European History and more broadly international relations
