Malcolm Golightley, Gloria Kirwan, 2018-04-19 Growing out of an interest in exploring the contemporary contexts and practices related to mental health social work across the world this book provides a range of insights into the social factors which contribute sometimes quite significantly to the emergence of mental health problems for individuals and even whole

communities The range and scope of mental health social work is highlighted through the different accounts of therapeutic work advocacy support and rehabilitation But this collection goes further and also provides the reader with critical analyses of social work practice and social policies in certain contexts thus inviting the reader to a more reflective consideration of the value of mental health perspectives in social work in general Taken as a whole the collection suggests that social work engages with the field of mental health in diverse creative and very reflective ways yet is always focused on the needs and rights of those for whom problems with mental health can be personally challenging and often disempowering This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Social Work Practice Reflective Practice in Social Work Christine Knott, Terry Scragg, 2016-03-26 Reflective practice is at the heart of becoming a competent and confident social worker It is both a key element of learning and development on social work courses and an important aspect of social work practice This accessible and introductory text explores a range of approaches to reflective practice that aims to help students become more confident in answering key questions including what is reflective practice how do I develop as a reflective practitioner how do I maintain reflective practice in key contexts There are sections on writing reflective journals communicating well with service users and carers and reflective practice while on placements Social Work Reflections Neil

Thompson, Sarah Vicary, 2025-11-24 This book stands out for its integration of knowledge from lived experience inclusive practice and compassionate pedagogy making it essential reading for students and practitioners alike Lucy Basterra Senior Lecturer in Social Work University of Brighton UK I wholeheartedly recommend this book to anyone committed to reflective ethical and compassionate social work practice Gwenan Prysor Senior Lecturer in Social Work Bangor University UK Social Work Reflections is a compelling testament to the significance and impact of social work Recognizing the challenges practitioners face in an increasingly complex and evolving field this edited collection brings together diverse perspectives from educators practitioners and managers to showcase the vital role social workers play in advancing social justice and safeguarding society's most vulnerable members Drawing on the expertise of academics practitioners and individuals with the lived experience of social work services this book aims to inspire progress and empower students practitioners and managers at all levels of study and practice by emphasizing their value as drivers of individual and collective change The book Emphasizes the core values of social work social justice dignity and compassion Integrates theoretical insights with lived experiences from diverse contributors enriching nuanced areas of practice Encourages development of critical thinking and reflection skills Offers encouragement to practitioners managers and students striving to achieve positive outcomes under challenging circumstances Social Work Reflections is the essential companion for students newly qualified social workers practitioners and managers Of value to anyone considering a career in social work this book reaffirms the crucial role social work plays in building a more just and compassionate society Neil Thompson is an award winning writer and educator and a visiting professor at the Open University and Wrexham University UK Sarah Vicary is Professor of Social

Work and Mental Health at The Open University UK Reflections on Current Social Work Practice Rory Truett, Leonie Nowland, 2002 Social Work Theories in Action Mary Nash, Robyn Munford, Kieran O'Donoghue, 2005 Annotation Textbook potential a core textbook for social work degree and post qualifying courses in New Zealand and Australia International market shows how social work theories can be applied in international settings Authors are leading social work academics in New Zealand and Australia Reflective Practice in Education and Social Work Robyn Ewing, Fran Waugh, David L. Smith, 2021-12-14 This book offers unique interdisciplinary insights into developing connections between reflective practice and employability particularly through the lenses of the education and social work professions It recognises the various meanings that can be applied to the notion of reflection and examines the challenges of using reflective practice in the workplace The chapters explore the tensions that arise from preparing professionals to be agents of change and concerned with social justice and equity Further the book provides much needed perspective on how diverse positions can be identified and leveraged and shared meanings negotiated in the creation of meaningful professional learning resources for early career teachers and social workers and across the career continuum Bringing together contributions from internationally renowned scholars Reflective Practice in Education and Social Work is essential reading for early career and experienced professionals in education and social work academics and practitioners seeking further professional development in reflective practice

Learning Critical Reflection Laura Béres, Jan Fook, 2019-08-13 Learning Critical Reflection documents the actual learning experiences of social work students and practitioners It explores how a more in depth understanding of the process of learning combined with an analysis of how to critically reflect will help improve the learning process The contributors are all professionals who have learnt in a formalised way how to critically reflect on their practice They speak in depth and with feeling about their experiences how downsides and upsides worked together to transform the way they understood themselves their professional identity and their practice Existing literature about critical reflection is reviewed identifying the details of learning and pulling no punches in recognising the difficulty and complexity of becoming transformed through this learning process The editors of this book also contribute their own reflections on learning how to teach critical reflection and include the findings of a research study conducted on students learning Edited by two experienced educators this book showcases the process of learning from the perspective of the learners in order that educators and students managers supervisors and frontline practitioners alike may make the most of opportunities to critically reflect in both educational and workplace settings It should be considered essential reading for social work students practitioners and educators
