nineteenth century It argues that Norway in the long 18th century benefitted from an export led growth which exploited its abundant natural resources The income from exports fuelled a substantial increase in consumption among rural households while pluriactivity a household strategy to balance market oriented production and consumption with self sufficiency in the insufficiently developed market succeeded in offering a soft way toward modern market society Alan S. and the Sea Andrew Jennings, Silke Reeploeg, Angela Watt, 2017-05-11 Iceland the Faroe Islands Orkney Shetland and to some extent the Hebrides share both a Nordic cultural and linguistic heritage and the experience of being surrounded by the ever present North Atlantic Ocean This has been a constant in the islanders history forging their unique way of life influencing their customs and traditions and has been instrumental in moulding their identities This volume is an exploration of a rich intimate and at times terrifying relationship It is the result of an international conference held in April 2014 when scholars from across the North Atlantic rim congregated in Lerwick Shetland to discuss maritime traditions islands in Old Norse literature insular archaeology folklore and traditional belief The chapters reflect the varied origins of the contributors Icelanders are well represented as are scholars based in Orkney and Shetland indicating the strength of scholarship in these seemingly isolated archipelagos Peripheral they may be to the UK but they lie at the heart of the North Atlantic at the intersection of British and Nordic cultures This book will be of interest to scholars of a wide range of disciplines such as those involved in island studies cultural studies Old Norse literature Icelandic studies maritime heritage oceanography linguistics folklore British studies ethnology and archaeology Similarly it will also appeal to researchers from a wide geographical area particularly the UK and Scandinavia and indeed anywhere where there is an interest in the study of islands or the North Atlantic

Cities and Economy in Europe Katalin Szende, Erika Szívós, Boglárka Weisz, 2024-02-29 Exploring new perspectives concerning regions traditionally considered on the margins of Europe this book fills a gap in current historiography through its analysis of cities space and economy from the High Middle Ages to the present Markets trade and economy in general have formed the backbone of urban life ever since the emergence of cities and towns but classical theorists have largely focused on developments in Western Europe Urban research in the last few decades has advanced in many ways to supersede and correct this still influential image and to include other parts of Europe into the analytical framework Building on these emerging methodologies this volume pays close attention to the fringes of Europe in the East North West and South The essays discuss the development of various spaces as nodal points for the exchange and production of commodities that took place in cities and towns The scope of this work allows for a point of comparison to frequently studied examples in Europe encouraging readers to identify larger patterns beyond individual examples Cities and Economy in Europe Markets and Trade on the Margins from the Middle Ages to the Present is the perfect resource for students and researchers of economic and urban history

The Urban Logistic Network Giovanni Favero, Michael-W. Serruys, Miki Sugiura, 2019-11-20 This edited collection examines the formation of urban networks and role of gateways in Europe from the Middle Ages to the modern world In the past gateway cities were merely perceived as transport points only relevant to maritime shipping Today they are seen as the organic entities coordinating the allocation of resources and supporting the growth efficiency and sustainability of logistics including both the transport and distribution of goods and services Using different historical case studies the authors consider how logistics shaped urban networks and were shaped by them     The Integration of the European Economy, 1850-1913 Lee A. Craig, Douglas Fisher, 2016-07-27 This volume documents the economic integration of the European national economies over the period 1850-1913. The authors concentrate on the macroeconomic aspects of this integration, focusing on measures of aggregate output and monetary aggregates as they relate to policy concerns such as those surrounding the implementation of the gold standard as well as the possible interaction of nominal and real factors in both growth and cycles. They also date the European cycle and show a close coincidence across nations.

The City in the Muslim World Mohammad Gharipour, Nilay Ozlu, 2015-03-05 Presenting a critical yet innovative perspective on the cultural interactions between the East and the West, this book questions the role of travel in the production of knowledge and in the construction of the idea of the Islamic city. This volume brings together authors from various disciplines questioning the role of Western travel writing in the production of knowledge about the East, particularly focusing on the cities of the Muslim world. Instead of concentrating on a specific era, chapters span the Medieval and Modern eras in order to present the transformation of both the idea of the Islamic city and also the act of traveling and travel writing. Missions to the East, whether initiated by military, religious, economic, scientific, diplomatic, or touristic purposes, resulted in a continuous construction, deconstruction, and reconstruction of the self and the other. Including travel accounts which depicted cities extending from Europe to Asia and from Africa to Arabia, chapters epitomize the construction of the Orient via textual or visual representations. By examining various tools of representation such as drawings, paintings, cartography, and photography in depicting the urban landscape in constant flux, the book emphasizes the role of the mobile individual in defining city space and producing urban culture. Scrutinising the role of travellers in producing the image of the world we know today, this book is recommended for researchers, scholars, and students of Middle Eastern Studies, Cultural Studies, Architecture, and Urbanism.

Military Revolution and the Thirty Years War 1618-1648 Olli Bäckström, 2023-11-08 Military Revolution and the Thirty Years War 1618-1648 investigates change and decline in military institutions during a period of protracted and destructive European warfare. Conceptual background is provided by the Military Revolution thesis, which argues that changes in military technology and tactics drove revolutionary transformation in the way states organised and waged war in the early modern era. This transformation of military institutions became evident during the long and destructive Thirty Years War in 1618-1648. The outcome of the Military Revolution was the centralised fiscal-military state that possessed a strong claim to the monopoly of violence within its territorial boundaries. The book examines how the Thirty Years War accelerated and even initiated transformation in four military institutions that defined land warfare: feudal cavalry, services, militias, regular armies, and war commissariats. The regional scope of the investigation covers the Holy Roman Empire, France, Spain, Portugal, Sweden, Denmark, and the Dutch Republic. The book combines military historical inquiry with ancillary sciences of sociology and economics. It argues that the Military Revolution of the Thirty Years War stimulated institutions capable of increased complexification and specialisation while curtailing those that were locked in stasis and immutability The institutional legacy of the Thirty Years War was the emergence of complex military organisations that are characteristic to the modern society and its self renewing social subsystems Previous scholarship on the Military Revolution has concentrated on military technicalities and the wider process of early modern state formation This book proposes an alternative way of viewing early modern military transformations from the perspectives of institutions and systems System analytical survey of change and decline in the military institutions of the Thirty Years War introduces qualifications to the Military Revolution theory and offers a novel way of conceptualising early modern military history

Государство и возникновение буржуазной цивилизации Борис Кагарлицкий, 2021-12-08 XVIII XIX Migration, Regional Integration and Human Security Harald Kleinschmidt, 2017-03-02 This original and timely book is the first to analyze the interconnectedness of migration regional integration and the new security studies Exploring the conflict between the actions of transnational migrants and state government policy in a series of theoretical chapters and regional case studies the book includes theoretical chapters which look at three key facets of the nation state population territory and government discussing the ways in which migration regional integration and new security thinking challenge the accepted role and responsibilities of the state Regional case studies are also included which explore the specific challenges faced in regions including Central America Asia and the Pacific and Central and Eastern Europe As a book that asks crucial questions about the formulation of migration policies and the consequences of that success of failure it will be essential reading for students and scholars of migration in sociology politics and international relations and also for those with professional interests in the area
