Economic Integration And Asia Michael G Plummer, Erik Jones, 2006-11-07 Regional economic integration has become a key force in international commercial policy in the 2000s Europe has traditionally embraced regionalism the United States became actively involved in preferential trading arrangements only in the 1980s While Asia has been late in accepting formal regional economic integration accords all Asian countries are now in the process of creating various free trade areas and other forms of economic integration programs and some are already in place This volume analyzes the regionalism trend from an Asian perspective It considers the lessons from and the economic implications of various economic integration programs in the OECD mostly the EU but also NAFTA as well as the proposals for closer economic integration in the region itself Chapters deal with both real and financial integration issues Paths to Regionalisation Sophie Boisseau Du

Rocher, Bertrand Fort, 2005 The aim of this book is to explain the different experiences in region building in Europe and East the two regions of the world that are making major contributions to the experience and theory of region building Europe and East Asia have evolved in different ways with different logics and mechanisms but it does not mean they do not have common interests or things to learn from one another This book seeks to contribute to a better understanding of the experiences and challenges in both regions and to stimulate a much needed reflection of the benefits of regions to harness globalisation

Power Relations and Comparative Regionalism Min-hyung Kim, James A. Caporaso, 2021-07-29 Three trends have dominated the political economy of integration during the last two decades globalization economic nationalism and regionalization This book explores comparative regional integration focusing on both intra regional integration and relations among regions in the context of power The most common focus of integration studies has been on the logic of cooperation but there is another logic of integration power The relevance of power today is represented by the relations within the Eurozone especially between creditors and debtors By the same line of reasoning integration in Asia cannot ignore the respective roles of China Japan and Korea nor the unresolved disputes about Taiwan Hong Kong and the islands in the South China Sea This edited volume addresses the role of power in regional integration in three contexts 1 the role of hegemonic external actors the US and China in regional integration 2 the role of core states within regions Germany China Japan and Brazil and 3 the role of noncore states smaller and middle range powers Italy and Greece in Europe South Korea and Malaysia in Asia and Argentina Colombia Uruguay and Paraguay in Latin America This book will benefit students and scholars of international relations and comparative political economy especially those with an interest in integration studies and comparative regionalism

Europe and Asia P. Murray, 2008-10-23 Much more than a simple examination of EU Asia relations this book examines the idea that the EU may constitute a model for East Asian regionalism It challenges specialists on the EU to understand the EU's impact on Asia and Asia's impact on the EU whilst illustrating that there is a commonality of interests in both Europe and Asia

The Regional World Order Boglárka Koller, Alexei D. Voskressenski, 2019-04-15 In the evolving post Westphalian world regional entities become key political and economic players as the authors argue in this volume As a result of regionalization the international politics and economics is witnessing great transformations too This volume explores some ideas of how these transformations may develop It is written by three generations of researchers and scholars at European Russian and Asian higher education institutions Their different perspectives are integrated in a coherent multi dimensional view to answer challenges facing what is called increasingly Greater Eurasia The volume employs a rigorous conceptual framework over a wide geographic range and applies different approaches to ask and answer challenging questions The arguments presented in this book are built around the concepts of regionalism and transregionalism The volume is focusing on three different geographical entities Europe Eurasia and East Asia and examines ASEM EAEU BRI EU ASEAN CIS as well as TTIP TTP OBOR
