Administrative Law and Governance in Asia Tom Ginsburg, Albert H.Y. Chen, 2008-10-30 This book examines administrative law in Asia exploring the profound changes in the legal regimes of many Asian states that have taken place in recent years Political democratization in some countries economic change more broadly and the forces of globalization have put pressure on the developmental state model wherein bureaucrats governed in a kind of managed capitalism and public private partnerships were central In their stead a more market oriented regulatory state model seems to be emerging in many jurisdictions with emphases on transparency publicity and constrained discretion This book analyses the causes and consequences of this shift from a socio legal perspective showing clearly how decisions about the scope of administrative law and judicial review have an important effect on the shape and style of government regulation Taking a comparative approach individual chapters trace the key developments in the legal regimes of major states across Asia including China Japan Korea Malaysia Taiwan Hong Kong Indonesia Singapore the Philippines Thailand and Vietnam They demonstrate that in many cases Asian states have shifted away from traditional systems in which judges were limited in terms of their influence over social and economic policy towards regulatory models of the state involving a greater role for judges and law like processes The book also considers whether judiciaries are capable of performing the tasks they are being given and assesses the profound consequences the judicialization of governance is starting to have on state policy making in Asia

Being a Teacher in Post-Apartheid South Africa Yusuf Sayed, Marcina Singh, 2025-05-01 In a compelling exploration of the challenges faced by newly qualified teachers NQTs in South Africa's evolving educational landscape this book provides an empirically grounded account of their experiences Drawing on extensive research it offers a poignant narrative that seeks to illuminate the nuanced journey these educators embark upon as they transition from teacher education spaces to the complex reality of classrooms in post Apartheid South Africa The book acts as a crucial platform for the voices of NQTs shedding light on the myriad enablers and disablers they encounter during this transformative period Timely and relevant it tackles pressing questions about the readiness of teacher education to prepare students for the demands of South African schools The book charts the transition from teacher education to active teacher for NQTs The lessons distilled from this research present a clarion call for a re assessment of teacher education policies and practices This book arrives at a pivotal moment as South Africa reviews its teacher education policies With the quality of initial teacher education programmes under scrutiny the book's critiques findings and recommendations serve as indispensable tools for policymakers arguing for the need to reconceptualise South African teacher education policies As South Africa strives to avoid a cycle of developing new teachers only to lose them due to inadequate support this book seeks to support educators policymakers and all those invested in the future of South African education toward creating a more socially just education system recognising the highly unequal society in which teachers work

50.50: Women Writers, Politics and Voice Rosemary Bechler, Governance and Democracy Arthur Benz, Ioannis Papadopoulos, 2006-04-18 For the first time this new collection brings together country specialists researchers on the European Union and leading international relations scholars to tackle a crucial question how compatible are today's new patterns of policy networks and multi level governance with democratic standards This important question is attracting attention both in political science and in political practices In political science the question is mainly dealt with in separated sub disciplines which focus on different levels of politics So far no serious exchange has actually taken place between authors working on these different levels The editors of this book both specialists of network and multi level governance show that although the issue is raised differently in the institutional settings of the national state the European Union or transnational governance excellent insights can be gained by comparison across these settings This major new contribution includes cutting edge work from junior scholars alongside chapters by leading specialists of governance such as Guy Peters Jon Pierre Philippe C Schmitter and Thomas Risse It also contains a collection of new case studies theoretical conceptualisations and normative proposals for solutions dealing with the issue of democratic deficits which all give the reader a better understanding of the most crucial problems and perspectives of democracy in different patterns of governance beyond conventional government approaches This is a valuable book for policy analysts students of the European Union and international relations and all students in social and political science

Accountability through Public Opinion Sina Odugbemi, Taeku Lee, 2011-05-10 This book analyses the role of public opinion for generating genuine citizen demand for accountability providing case studies from around the world to illustrate how public opinion forces governments to be accountable

Knowledge, Policy and Power in International Development Harry Jones, Nicola A. Jones, Louise Shaxson, David Walker, 2012-04-18 This book presents an academically rigorous yet practical guide to efforts to understand how knowledge policy and power interact to promote or prevent change It offers a power analysis perspective on the knowledge policy process illustrated with rich empirical examples from the field of international development combined with practical guidance on the implications of such an approach It provides ways to identify and address problems that have hampered previous attempts to improve the space between knowledge and policy such as difficulties in analysing political context persistent asymmetric relationships between actors ignorance of the contributions of different types of knowledge and misconceptions of the roles played by intermediary organisations Most importantly the book gives readers the ability to develop strategies for negotiating the complexity of the knowledge policy interface more effectively so as to contribute to policy dialogues influence policy change and implement policies and programmes more effectively The authors focus on the dynamics of the knowledge policy interface in international development offering novel theoretical insights and methodological approaches that are applicable to a broader array of policy arenas and their audiences including academics practitioners and students

Foundations for Local Governance Fumihiko Saito, 2008-01-15 Successful reforms need coherent approaches in which a range of stakeholders are willing to share responsibilities and resources in order to achieve the ultimate outcome of poverty reduction in developing countries This book provides a framework to access intended outcomes generated by decentralization measures implemented in Asian and African countries It is based on comparative analyses of different experiences of decentralization measures in six developing countries

Coalition Politics and Hindu Nationalism Katharine Adeney, Lawrence Saez, 2007-04-11 This new collection examines the emergence of the Bharatiya Janata Party BJP in India and the ways in which its Hindu nationalist agenda has been affected by the constraints of being a dominant member of a coalition government Religious influence in contemporary politics offers a fertile ground for political sociological analysis especially in societies where religion is a very important source of collective identity In South Asian societies religion can and often has provided legitimacy to both governments and those who oppose them This book examines the emergence of the BJP and the ways in which its Hindu nationalist agenda has been affected by the constraints of being a dominant member of a coalition government The collected authors take stock of the party's first full term in power presiding over the diverse forces of the governing NDA coalition and the 2004 elections They assess the BJP's performance in relation to its stated goals and more specifically how it has fared in a range of policy fields centre state relations foreign policy defence policies the second generation of economic reforms initiatives to curb corruption and the fate of minorities Explicitly linking the volume to literature on coalition politics this book will be of great importance to students and researchers in the fields of South Asian studies and politics of forced displacement How and why do they get involved In Helping Familiar Strangers Louise Olliff focuses on one type of humanitarian group refugee diaspora organizations RDOs to explore the complicated impulses practices and relationships between these activists and the familiar strangers they try to help By documenting findings from ethnographic research and interviews with resettled and displaced persons RDO representatives and humanitarian professionals in Australia Switzerland Thailand and Indonesia Olliff reveals that former refugees are actively involved in helping people in situations of forced displacement and that individuals with lived experience of forced displacement have valuable knowledge skills and networks that can be drawn on in times of humanitarian crisis We live in a world where humanitarians have varying motivations capacities and ways of helping those in need and Helping Familiar Strangers confirms that RDOs and similar groups are an important part of the tapestry of care that people turn to when seeking protection far from home

Accountability Politics Jonathan A. Fox, 2007-12-13 How can the seeds of accountability ever grow in authoritarian environments Embedding accountability into the state is an inherently uneven partial and contested process Campaigns for public accountability often win limited concessions at best but they can leave cracks in the system that serve as handholds for subsequent efforts to open up the state to public scrutiny This book explores the how civil society thickens by comparing two decades of rural citizens struggles to hold the Mexican state accountable exploring both change and continuity before during and after national electoral turning points The book addresses how much power sharing really happens in policy innovations that include participatory social and environmental councils citizen oversight of elections local government social investment funds participation reforms in World Bank projects community managed food programs as well as new social oversight and public information access reforms Meanwhile efforts to exercise voice unfold at the same time as rural citizens consider their exit options as millions migrate to the US where many have since come together in a new migrant civil society Since explanations of electoral change do not account for how people actually experience the state this book concludes that new analytical frameworks are needed to understand transitions to accountability This involves unpacking the interaction between participation transparency and accountability Oxford Studies in Democratization is a series for scholars and students of comparative politics and related disciplines Volumes concentrate on the comparative study of the democratization process that accompanied the decline and termination of the cold war The geographical focus of the series is primarily Latin America the Caribbean Southern and Eastern Europe and relevant experiences in Africa and Asia The series editor is Laurence Whitehead Official Fellow Nuffield College University of Oxford
