Reinventing the Postal Sector in an Electronic Age Michael A. Crew,Paul R. Kleindorfer,2011-01-01 This compilation of original essays by an international cast of economists regulators and industry practitioners analyzes some of the major issues now facing postal and delivery services throughout the world as competition from information and communication technologies ICT has increased Competition has become increasingly important in the postal sector for some time in the form of alternative entrants providing mail delivery However the competition from ICT in the form of email and instant messaging the Internet Facebook and other forms of social networking and portable wireless devices such as the iPad and Kindle may be even more significant Mail volumes are falling and the economies of scale that have made possible daily deliveries to every address are being eroded This book assesses volume these declines resulting from this so called eSubstitution and looks at the ways the postal sector can adapt to the rapid changes resulting from ICT The impact of electronic invoicing on transactions mail and the impact on bulk mail of electronic forms of advertising are examined Strategies including pricing and access policies are discussed in the context of the increasing impact of ICT A rethinking of the role of mail in an electronic age is taking place and this book provides the cutting edge of this rethinking and the attempts of POs to reinvent themselves while continuing to meet the public's expectation of continuing ubiquitous daily deliveries of traditional mail products

Undergraduate and postgraduate students and researchers in regulation competition law innovation and public sector economics along with institutional libraries and industry professionals will find this volume informative and useful

Reinventing Regional Security Institutions in Asia and Africa Kei Koga, 2016-12-08 Regional security institutions play a significant role in shaping the behavior of existing and rising regional powers by nurturing security norms and rules monitoring state activities and sometimes imposing sanctions thereby formulating the configuration of regional security dynamics Yet their security roles and influence do not remain constant Their raison d'être objectives and functions experience sporadic changes and some institutions upgrade military functions for peacekeeping operations while others limit their functions to political and security dialogues The question is why and how do these variances in institutional change emerge This book explores the mechanisms of institutional change focusing on regional security institutions led by non great powers It constructs a theoretical model for institutional change that provides a new understanding of their changing roles in regional security which has yet to be fully explored in the International Relations field In so doing the book illuminates why when and how each organization restructures its role function and influence Using case studies of the Association of Southeast Asian Nations ASEAN the Economic Community of West African States ECOWAS and the Organization of African Unity OAU African Union AU it also sheds light on similarities and differences in institutional change between regional security institutions

Reinventing Curriculum Linda Laidlaw, 2005-05-06 The premise of this book is that written texts and literacy processes are developed within a complex weave of particular contexts or ecologies and the unique particularity of the learner's experiences histories memories and interpretations Laidlaw

Reinventing Talent Management Edward E Lawler, 2017-05-15 In this book preeminent organizational scholar Edward Lawler identifies a comprehensive and integrated set of talent management practices that fit today's rapidly evolving workplace The world of work has changed dramatically says Lawler Organizations now operate in a global environment New technologies continue to disrupt how when and where work is done and should be managed The workforce is becoming more diverse Sustainability has joined profitability as a key business goal All of this has dramatically accelerated the pace of change making recruiting the best talent not simply filling positions an overriding concern But too many organizations still use a job based bureaucratic talent management approach that doesn't take into account how the world has changed. Indeed, a recent study showed that from 1995 to 2016 there was no significant change in the way HR spends its time. Lawler says that talent management has to be reinvented. It needs to be closely linked to the organization's overall strategy. Recruitment and talent management should be driven by the skills and competencies the organization needs for long-term growth. This means talent management requires agile systems that can respond quickly to changing conditions and that take a more individualized approach to evaluating and rewarding performance. And everything talent management does has to be based on evidence, not tradition. Lawler looks at attracting, selecting, developing, rewarding, managing, and organizing talent through this new lens. In today's world, organizations have to constantly reinvent themselves, and talent management must do the same.

Reinventing Babel in Medieval French Emma Campbell, 2023. Drawing on case studies from the francophone cultures of Flanders, England, and northern France, this volume explores how medieval texts challenge modern definitions of language, text, and translation.

Reinventing Jewish Art in the Age of Multiple Modernities Lola Kantor-Kazovsky, 2022-12-05. Can studying an artist's migration enable the reconfiguration of art history in a new and global mode? Michail Grobman's odyssey in search of a contemporary idiom of Jewish art led him to cross the borders of political blocs and to observe, absorb, and confront different patterns of modernism in his work. His provocative art, his rich archives and collections, his essays, and personal diaries all reveal this complexity and open up a new perspective on post-World War II twentieth-century modernism and on the interconnected functioning of its local models.

Reinventing (with) Theory in Rhetoric and Writing Studies Andrea Alden, Kendall Gerdes, Judy Holiday, Ryan Skinnell, 2019-10-21. Reinventing with Theory in Rhetoric and Writing Studies collects original scholarship that takes up and extends the practices of inventive theorizing that characterize Sharon Crowley's body of work. Including sixteen chapters by established and emerging scholars and an interview with Crowley, the book shows that doing theory is a contingent and continual rhetorical process that is indispensable for understanding situations and their potential significance and for discovering the available means of persuasion. For Crowley, theory is a basic building block of rhetoric produced by and within specific times and locations as a means of opening other ways of believing or acting. Doing theory in this sense is the practice of surveying the common sense of the community doxa and discovering the available means of persuasion. The ultimate goal of doing theory is not to prescribe certain actions but to ascertain what options exist for rhetors to see the world differently, to discover new possibilities for thought and action, and thereby to effect change in the world. The scholarship collected in Reinventing with Theory in Rhetoric and Writing Studies takes Crowley's notion of theory as an invitation to develop new avenues for believing and acting. By reinventing the understanding of theory and its role in the field, this collection makes an important contribution to scholarship in rhetorical studies and writing studies. It will be valuable to scholars, teachers, and students interested in diverse theoretical directions in rhetoric and writing studies as well as in race, gender, and disability theories, religious rhetorics, digital rhetoric, and the history of rhetoric. Reinventing Aurobindo Ghose Bidyut Chakrabarty, 2025-06-30 Aurobindo Ghose s ideological vision challenges traditional interpretations that divide his thought into distinct political and spiritual phases The common belief that his engagement in the nationalist movement 1893 1910 gave way to a retreat into spirituality in Pondicherry oversimplifies the complexity of his intellectual evolution This division often found in historiography suggests a shift from nationalism to spirituality but fails to recognise the underlying continuity in Aurobindo s ideas A closer examination reveals a seamless development that transcends such a simplistic bifurcation Aurobindo s nationalism was not solely political it was deeply connected to his reverence for India s ancient intellectual traditions He opposed the Westernisation of India seeing it as a force that disconnected Indians from their cultural heritage The blind imitation of Western values in his view betrayed India s spiritual and philosophical legacy This commitment to intellectual revival was evident throughout his early career during which he sought to navigate the colonial system even attempting to secure a position within the British administration Ultimately Aurobindo rejected this path and aligned himself with the nationalist movement Alongside leaders like Lal Bal and Pal he redefined Indian nationalism advocating for direct resistance to colonial rule and championing mass mobilisation that included all castes religions and genders His vision was not a transition from politics to spirituality but an integrated approach where nationalism and spirituality were inextricably linked in the pursuit of India s freedom and cultural renaissance

Reinventing Clinical Decision Support Paul Cerrato, John Halamka, 2020-01-06 This book takes an in depth look at the emerging technologies that are transforming the way clinicians manage patients while at the same time emphasizing that the best practitioners use both artificial and human intelligence to make decisions AI and machine learning are explored at length with plain clinical English explanations of convolutional neural networks back propagation and digital image analysis Real world examples of how these tools are being employed are also discussed including their value in diagnosing diabetic retinopathy melanoma breast cancer cancer metastasis and colorectal cancer as well as in managing severe sepsis With all the enthusiasm about AI and machine learning it was also necessary to outline some of criticisms obstacles and limitations of these new tools Among the criticisms discussed the relative lack of hard scientific evidence supporting some of the latest algorithms and the so called black box problem A chapter on data analytics takes a deep dive into new ways to conduct subgroup analysis and how it s forcing healthcare executives to rethink the way they apply the results of large clinical trials to everyday medical practice This re evaluation is slowly affecting the way diabetes heart disease hypertension and cancer are treated The research discussed also suggests that data analytics will impact emergency medicine medication management and healthcare costs An examination of the diagnostic reasoning process itself looks at how diagnostic errors are measured what technological and cognitive errors are to blame and what solutions are most likely to improve the process It explores Type 1 and Type 2 reasoning methods cognitive mistakes like availability bias affective bias and anchoring and potential solutions such as the Human Diagnosis Project Finally the book explores the role of systems biology and precision medicine in clinical decision support and provides several case studies of how next generation AI is transforming patient care
