Religion And Politics Eastwest Contrasts From Contemporary Europe:

Religion and the Struggle for European Union Brent F. Nelsen, James L. Guth, 2015-03-31 Nelsen and Guth contend that religion or confessional culture plays a powerful role in shaping European ideas about politics attitudes toward European integration and national and continental identities in its leaders and citizens Catholicism has for centuries promoted the unity of Christendom while Protestantism has valued particularity and feared Catholic dominance These confessional cultures the authors argue have resulted in two very different visions of Europe that have deeply influenced the process of postwar integration Catholics have seen Europe as a single cultural entity that is best governed by a single polity Protestants have never felt part of continental culture and have valued national borders as protectors of liberties historically threatened by Catholic powers Catholics have pressed for a politically united Europe Protestants have resisted sacrificing sovereignty to federal institutions favoring pragmatic cooperation Despite growing secularization of the continent not to mention the impact of Islam confessional culture still exerts enormous influence And the authors conclude European elites must recognize the enduring significance of this Catholic Protestant cultural divide as the EU attempts to solve its social and economic and political crises

The Oxford Handbook of Religion in Modern Ireland, 2024-01-16 What does religion mean to modern Ireland and what is its recent social and political history The Oxford Handbook of Religion in Modern Ireland provides in depth analysis of the relationships between religion society politics and everyday life on the island of Ireland from 1800 to the twenty first century Taking a chronological and all island approach it explores the complex and changing role of religion both before and after partition The handbook s thirty two chapters address long standing historical and political debates about religion identity and politics including religion s contributions to division and violence They also offer perspectives on how religion interacts with education the media law gender and sexuality science literature and memory Whilst providing insight into how everyday religious practices have intersected with the institutional structures of Catholicism and Protestantism the book also examines the island s increasing religious diversity including the rise of those with no religion Written by leading scholars in the field and emerging researchers with new perspectives this is an authoritative and up to date volume that offers a wide ranging and comprehensive survey of the enduring significance of religion on the island The Study of Religions in Ireland Brendan McNamara, Hazel O'Brien, 2022-06-02 This book provides a comprehensive and field defining examination of the study of religions in Ireland By bringing together some of the foremost experts on religions in an Irish context it critically traces the development of an important field of study and evaluates the thematic threads that have emerged as significant It thereby offers an assessment of contemporary religions in Ireland and their relationships to society culture economics politics and the State Contributors make connections between topics as diverse as Ireland s Revolutionary Period the formation of the Irish State the decline of Catholicism the rise of migrant religions and New Religious Movements and the effects of secularisation on religions and society This book emphasizes the interdisciplinary nature of the study of religions whilst illustrating the coherent themes that have shaped the development of the field in Ireland making it unique Eastern Christianity and Politics in the Twenty-First Century Lucian N. Leustean, 2014-05-30 This book provides an up to date comprehensive overview of Eastern Christian churches in Europe the Middle East America Africa Asia and Australia Written by leading international scholars in the field it examines both Orthodox and Oriental churches from the end of the Cold War up to the present day The book offers a unique insight into the myriad church state relations in Eastern Christianity and tackles contemporary concerns opportunities and challenges such as religious revival after the fall of communism churches and democracy relations between Orthodox Catholic and Greek Catholic churches religious education and monastic life the size and structure of congregations and the impact of migration secularisation and globalisation on Eastern Christianity in the twenty first century The Social Significance of Religion in the Enlarged Europe Olaf Müller, 2016-02-24 Engaging with some of the central issues in the sociology of religion this volume investigates the role and significance of churches and religion in contemporary Western and Eastern Europe Based on an extensive international research project it offers case studies of various countries including Finland Ireland Portugal Germany Poland Russia Estonia Hungary and Croatia as well as cross country comparisons Researching more precisely the present social relevance of church and religion at different levels The Social Significance of Religion in the Enlarged Europe raises and responds to both descriptive and explanatory questions Can we observe tendencies of religious decline in the various Western and Eastern European countries Are we witnessing trends of religious individualization To what extent has there been a religious upswing in the last few years And what are the factors causing the observed processes of religious change Marked by its broad range of data and a coherent conceptual framework in accordance with which each chapter assesses the extent to which three important theoretical approaches in the sociology of religion secularization theory the market model of religion and the individualization thesis are applicable to the data this book will be of interest to scholars of sociology politics and religion exploring religious trends and attitudes in contemporary Europe Religion in Times of Crisis, 2014-07-03 Religion is alive and well all over the world especially in times of personal political and social crisis Even in Europe long regarded the most secular continent religion has taken centre stage in how people respond to the crises associated with modernity or how they interact with the nation state In this book scholars working in and on Europe offer fresh perspectives on how religion provides answers to existential crisis how crisis increases the salience of religious identities and cultural polarization and how religion is contributing to changes in the modern world in Europe and beyond Cases from Poland to Pakistan and from Ireland to Zimbabwe among others demonstrate the complexity and ambivalence of religion's role in the contemporary world Contributors are Mariecke van den Berg David J Bos Marco Derks Marco Derks Ruard Ganzevoort Milo Jovanovi Vladimir Kmec Marta Ko odziejska Anne Marie Korte Anne Sophie Lamine Christophe Monnot Alexandre Piettre Ali Qadir Srdjan Sremac Joram Tarusaria Martina Topi and Tom Wagner Religion and Politics in Russia: A Reader Marjorie Mandelstam Balzer, 2015-01-28 Russia is not only vast it is also culturally diverse the core of an empire that spanned Eurasia In addition to the majority Russian Orthodox and various other Christian groups the Russian Federation includes large communities of Muslims Jews Buddhists and members of other religious groups some with ancient historical roots All are in a state of ferment and securing formal state recognition for specific communities is often daunting This collection provides entry into the diversity of Russia's religious communities Marjorie Mandelstam Balzer's introduction to the volume illuminates major political social and cultural anthropological trends The book is organized by religious tradition or identity with further thematic perspectives on each set of readings The authors include ethnologists sociologists political analysts and religious leaders from many regions of the Federation They analyze the changing dynamics of religion and politics within each community and in the context of the current drive to recentralize both political and religious authority in Moscow Topical coverage extends from reassertions of Russian Orthodoxy to activities of Christian and Muslim missionaries to the revival of many other religions including indigenous shamanic ones The Cambridge History of Christianity: Volume 9, World Christianities C.1914-c.2000 Hugh McLeod, 2006-01-12 A comprehensive history of Christianity in the century when it truly became a global religion Turkey's Accession to the European Union Edel Hughes, 2010-10-04 Turkey's accession to the European Union is undoubtedly one of the Union's most contested potential enlargements The narrative that dominates the debate surrounding this issue primarily relates to problems such as a lack of respect for fundamental human rights in Turkey the Kurdish question and the continuing stalemate concerning northern Cyprus This book looks at these issues but also proposes that a review of Turkey's experience with the EU in its numerous incarnations suggests that these concerns may mask a deeper disquiet Whilst there are several questions that Turkey must address particularly in the area of human rights guarantees the concerns which raise debates regarding Turkish membership are not issues that are unique to Turkey Turkey's EU experience also raises fundamental questions about religion and the EU project that have greater implication than simply Turkish accession Through the lens of the Turkish example this book addresses these broader questions such as the nature of European identity Europe's Christian past the limits of pluralism and the fundamental question of religion in the European public sphere This book will be of great interest to those engaged in research on European law and politics at undergraduate or postgraduate level It is also aimed at academics with an interest in human rights and the European Union and with a regional interest in Turkey Religious Diversity Today Jean-Guy A. Goulet, Liam D. Murphy, Anastasia Panagakos, 2015-12-01 This insightful three volume set examines faith through the social and cultural perspective of anthropology sociology and religious studies shedding light on the role of religion in the human experience Why is human suffering and the existence of evil part of the human experience How does religious doctrine establish one's identity In what ways does religion interact with and shape the social order This thought provoking work ponders these questions and explores the concept of religion from various perspectives as a tool for self and community based spiritual awareness as a set of practices that translates faith into interaction with others and as a cornerstone of society for those who seek to harness or hinder its influence Written in accessible and inviting language each volume focuses on a particular dimension of religion The first book examines religious experience in the modern world and explores suffering in religious faiths the second volume centers around ritual and pilgrimage and the last book analyzes the controversial relationship between religion and societies The content features such thought provoking topics as death and green burials sexuality and sex trade and how and why evil manifests in the human experience

Ethnicities and Values in a Changing World Gargi Bhattacharyya, 2016-05-23 Recent debates about national identity belonging and community cohesion can appear to suggest that ethnicity is a static entity and that ethnic difference is a source of conflict in itself Ethnicities and Values in a Changing World presents an alternative account of ethnicity This volume brings together an international team of leading scholars in the field of ethnic studies in order to examine innovative articulations of ethnicity and challenge the contention that ethnicity is static or that it necessarily represents traditional values and cultures It will appeal not only to sociologists but to anyone working in the fields of cultural studies race and ethnicity globalization migration and anthropology

Politics and Gender in Ireland Fiona Buckley, Yvonne Galligan, 2016-02-08 This book explores the relationship between women the state and democratic politics in Ireland today It highlights the conservatism of the political culture shared by all traditions on the island and how this culture circumscribes women's political agency in Northern Ireland and Ireland The book explores the opportunities and obstacles to women's participation and representation on each side of the border The chapters take the view that public decision making institutions and processes are subject to rules and practices that reinforce the gendered foundations of democratic politics They document women s continuing quest for full participation and equal representation in these male gendered arenas The contributors focus on the marginalised experiences of women in modern politics in Ireland and detail their efforts to challenge the masculinized status quo The book addresses the classical issues of citizenship participation representation and equal rights in a sustained analysis of the political systems on the island It also deals with modern issues multiculturalism peace building the male gendered legislature and the unequal nature of women s citizenship in constitutional institutional and policy contexts The book is completed by a comprehensive appendix of all women elected to political office on the island from 1918 2013 This book was published as a special issue of Irish Political Studies

Christianity, Islam, and Liberal Democracy Robert A. Dowd,2015-07-02 Drawing from research conducted in Nigeria Senegal and Uganda Christianity Islam and Liberal Democracy offers a deeper understanding of how Christian and Islamic faith communities affect the political attitudes of those who belong to them and in turn prospects for liberal democracy While many analysts believe that religious diversity in developing countries is an impediment to liberal democracy Robert A Dowd concludes just the opposite Dowd draws on narrative accounts in depth interviews and large scale surveys to show that Christian and Islamic religious communities are more likely to support liberal democracy in religiously diverse and integrated settings than in religiously homogeneous or segregated ones Religious diversity and integration in other words are good for liberal democracy In religiously diverse and integrated environments religious leaders tend to be more encouraging of civic engagement democracy and religious liberty By providing a theoretical framework for understanding when and where Christian and Islamic communities in sub Saharan Africa encourage and discourage liberal democracy Dowd demonstrates how religious communities are important in affecting political actions and attitudes This evidence the book ultimately argues should prompt policymakers interested in cultivating religiously inspired support for liberal democracy to aid in the formation of religiously diverse neighborhoods cities and political organizations

Church and State Cristian Romocea,2011-04-21 Twenty years have passed since the fall of the Iron Curtain yet emerging democracies continue to struggle with a secular state which does not give preference to churches as major political players This book explores the nationalist inclinations of an Eastern Orthodox Church as it interacts with a politically immature yet decisively democratic Eastern European state Discussing the birth pangs of extreme nationalist movements of the twentieth century it offers a creative retelling of the ideological idiosyncrasies which have characterized Marxist Communism and Nazism Cristian Romocea provides a constant juxtaposition of the ideological movements as they interacted and affected organized religion at times seeking to remove it assimilate it or even imitate it Of interest to historians theologians and politicians this book introduces the reader through a case study of Romania to relevant and contemporary challenges churches worldwide are facing in a context characterized by increased secularization of the state and radicalization of religion Asian Cities in an Era of Decentralisation Michelle Ann Miller, Tim Bunnell, 2016-03-16 This book critically engages with the idea of decentralization as empowering cities and their residents to act innovatively and creatively. The contributions thus highlight how the term empowerment in the context of decentralization regimes masks a competing array of intentions and agendas. Who and what are empowered given a voice and allowed to participate via the processes and structures of decentralization and to what ends are too frequently assumed in normative conversations about bringing government closer to the people and community driven development. Creating an illusion of a shared language and common set of priorities therefore obscures more complex realities particularly when there is a disconnect between the official goals of decentralization and civil society aspirations that reinforces politics of exclusion at the grassroots. Equally official processes of decentralization can and often are accompanied by less visible processes of recentralization through the reassertion of central state control over putatively autonomous jurisdictions. Through studies in six Asian countries India the Philippines Indonesia Bangladesh Thailand and Japan the essays in this book examine cases whereby a range of urban actors and institutions have been empowered via decentralization and how this realignment of local power relations impacts upon the dynamics of urban governance albeit not always in socially progressive ways. This book was published as a special issue of Space and Polity.

Christian Language and its Mutations David Martin, 2022-02-16 Christian Language and its Mutations explores how Christian language alters in various social cultural historical and religious contexts. Having delineated the core language of Christianity David Martin analyses how it mutates in different historical and social contexts notably peace and war the arts particularly painting and music the sacred space the city and the sacred text the liturgy education and the global situation of Christianity and contemporary secular society evangelicalism rational religion Pentecostalism and Base Communities.
