Rock Art Of Southern Africa:

The Rock Art of Southern Africa J. David Lewis-Williams, 1983-11-03      The Rock Art of Africa A.R. Willcox, 2018-01-29 It has long been known that all forms of art rock paintings carvings and scribings and also portable sculpture are present at various locations throughout Africa This book was the first inclusive survey and brings together in one volume accounts of African rock art which were previously scattered in scholarly monographs journals and travellers tales The range of the coverage is geophysically comprehensive from the Atlas Mountains to the Cape of Good Hope The art styles are set into a firm chronological framework and are displayed against a background of human physical and cultural evolution Considerable discussion is also devoted to the varied purposes which the paintings and carvings served in the communities which produced them looking at the differing interpretations fully and fairly A fascinating collection of illustrations some in colour truly reflects the variety of forms in which African rock art is manifested Originally published 1984      The meaning of South African rock paintings Lenka Tucek, 2003-12-21 Seminar paper from the year 2001 in the subject Art Painting grade 1 A Nelson Mandela Metropolitan University Faculty of Arts course Course South African Archaeology and Ethno history SA 301 language English abstract One aspect of the wealth of material evidence left behind by the early people are the pictures in south african rock art They occur in paintings and engravings In 1996 the total number of sites in South Africa was estimated to be a little over 10 000 but the actual number of sites is significantly undercounted It is still not known exactly when the artists started to make rock art although new techniques of radiocarbon dating using very small samples of paint open the possibility of an absolute chronology The oldest example of rock art in Africa was found in 1969 by Eric Wendt in the southern region of Namibia at a site called Apollo 11 After various datings mainly with the radiocarbon method archaeologists concluded that the rock art tradition in southern africa is at least 27 500 years old In South Africa the oldest dated rock art is an engraving in the Northern Cape which was found on a small slab of dolomite at the Wonderwerk Cave south of Kuruman It has a radiocarbon date of c 10 200 BP Rock paintings are found in the mountainous parts of the subcontinent in abundant rock shelters and shallow overhangs while engravings were generally made on the interior plateau of South Africa There are about 1600 paintings in South Africa In this assignment I will focus on the meaning of rock paintings on the specific symbols and their importance for the early people In Chapter Two I provide a short introduction about the artists and their methods Then I will explain the three important approaches to reveal the meaning of rock art described by Lewis Williams and give some examples of misinterpretations of rock paintings Chapter Three deals with the spiritual world and shamanism in the society of the Bushmen In the fourth chapter the state of trance and the trance dance are described which are important key parts for understanding rock art Chapter Five shall point out the symbolism of the eland antelope in addition to animal power in general This symbol is of great importance and represented relatively frequent in the art These symbols and the discussion of their meanings seem to be a representative selection to help better understand the spiritual background of south african rock art and its meaning , The Essential Guide to San Rock Art Anne Solomon,1998 Richly illustrated in colour and black and white this guide provides a clear understanding of a cultural treasure San Rock Art J.D. Lewis-Williams,2013-02-15 San rock paintings scattered over the range of southern Africa are considered by many to be the very earliest examples of representational art There are as many as 15 000 known rock art sites created over the course of thousands of years up until the nineteenth century There are possibly just as many still awaiting discovery Taking as his starting point the magnificent Linton panel in the Iziko South African Museum in Cape Town J D Lewis Williams examines the artistic and cultural significance of rock art and how this art sheds light on how San image makers conceived their world It also details the European encounter with rock art as well as the contentious European interaction with the artists descendants the contemporary San people Visionary Animal Renaud Ego,2019-01-01 An illustrated collection that takes stock of current knowledge and proposes a new way of reading indigenous art For thousands of years nomadic hunter gatherers assigned a fundamental role to the visualization of the animals who shared their lives Some such as the Cape eland the largest of antelopes were the object of a fascinated gaze as though the graceful markings and shapes of their bodies were the key to secret knowledge safeguarded by the animals unsettling silence Renaud Ego posits that the artists sought to steal the animals secret through an act of rendering visible a vitality that remained hidden beneath appearances In this process the San themselves became the visionary animal who possessing the gift of making pictures would acquire far seeing powers Thanks to the singular effectiveness of their visual art they could make intellectual contact with the world in order better to think and ultimately to act They gained access to the full dimension of their human condition through painting scenes that functioned like visual contracts with spiritual and ancestral powers Their art is an act that seeks to preserve the wholeness of existence through a respect for the relationships linking all beings both real and imaginary who partake of it The fundamentally ecological dimension of this message confers on San art its universality and contemporary relevance Visionary Animal is a translation of L Animal voyant published in France in 2015 This rich collection of essays is beautifully illustrated with the author s photographs of rock art from across southern Africa Contested Images Thomas A. Dowson,J.
