Voices of Justice and Reason Geoffrey V. Davis, 2021-10-25 Over the past fifty years transformations of great moment have taken place in South Africa Apartheid and the subsequent transition to a democratic non racial society in particular have exercised a profound effect on the practice of literature This study traces the development of literature under apartheid then seeks to identify the ways in which writers and theatre practitioners are now facing the challenges of a new social order The main focus is on the work of black writers prime among them Matsemela Manaka Mtutuzeli Matshoba and Richard Rive who as politically committed members of the oppressed majority bore witness to the black experience through their writing Despite the draconian censorship system they were able to address the social problems caused by racial discrimination in all areas of life particularly through forced removals the migrant labour system and the creation of the homelands Their writing may be read both as a comprehensive record of everyday life under apartheid and as an alternative cultural history of South Africa Particular attention is paid to theatre as a barometer of social change in South Africa The concluding chapters consider how in the current period of transition writers and arts institutions have set about reassessing their priorities redefining their function and seeking new aesthetic directions in taking up the challenge of imagining a new society

The Love Song of André P. Brink Leon de Kock, 2019-05-08 The Love Song of Andr P Brink is the first biography of this major South African novelist who during his lifetime was published in over 30 languages and ranked with the likes of Gabriel Garcia Marquez Peter Carey and Aleksandr Solzhenitsyn Leon de Kock's eagerly awaited account of Brink's life is richly informed by a previously unavailable literary treasure the dissident Afrikaner's hoard of journal writing a veritable chronicle that was 54 years in the making In this massive new biographical source running to a million words Brink does not spare himself or anyone else for that matter as he narrates the ups and downs of his five marriages and his compulsive affairs with a great number of women These are precisely the topics that the rebel in both politics and sex skated over in his memoir A Fork in the Road De Kock's biographical study of the author who came close to winning the Nobel Prize for Literature not only synthesises the journals but also subjects them to searching critical analysis In addition the biographer measures the journals against additional sources both scholarly and otherwise among them the testimony of Brink's friends family wives and lovers The Love Song of Andr P Brink subjects Brink's literary legacy to a bracing scholarly re-evaluation making this major new biography a crucial addition to scholarship on Brink

Skin Tight Louise Bethlehem, 2021-11-15 Skin Tight Apartheid Literary Culture and its Aftermath traces the responses to the emergent paradigm of South African literary studies from the 1970s onwards Embedded in the influential critical texts of the field it claims are hidden narratives of land race gender desire and embodiment This volume explores these submerged dimensions of South African literary history and the influence they continue to exert well into the post-apartheid era It suggests that significant continuities exist between late apartheid and post-apartheid literary culture and positions these against the interpretive horizon of South Africa's Truth and Reconciliation Commission
