Sab By Gertrudis Gomez De Avellaneda:

Sab Gertrudis Gómez de Avellaneda, 2011 Gertrudis Gomez de Avellaneda 1814 1873 was born in Cuba and split her life between Spain and her native island Author of original novels short stories and drama she wrote Sab 1836 1841 considered the first Cuban novel about slavery in the island Within its plots and subplots Sab comprises a modern message as Gertrudis Gomez de Avellaneda a highly prized author during her active literary life exposes and advocates for the principles of freedom and equal human as well as feminine rights by means of a highly romantic story building up a message that still stands valid today as in the contemporary world human rights are subject of violent violations every day The novel's first edition 1841 published in Spain suffered the island's colonial government censorship Upon arrival to La Habana the copies were seized at the Cuba Royal Customs the official Censor claiming that they express doctrines subversive to the island's slavery system However the vast majority of the modern criticism has resisted classifying this Avellaneda writing as anti slavery Aiming to rectify this conception prof Ivan A Schulman's foreword to this new edition highlights the anti slavery elements imbedded in the text all the while accepting that the author's voice provenience is the center or metropolis thus her speech shows many aspects that can be seen to agree with the Cuban sugar aristocracy slavery supporting stance The results of this duality is a two faced novel a story full with cogitations and contradictions about race color whitening slavery and feminism intertwined in a transgressor speech deeply rooted in the XIX Century Cuba Autobiografía Gertrudis Gómez de Avellaneda y Arteaga, Nina M. Scott, 1993 Eleven years before Uncle Tom's Cabin fanned the fires of abolition in North America an aristocratic Cuban woman told an impassioned story of the fatal love of a mulatto slave for his white owner's daughter So controversial was Sab's theme of miscegenation and its parallel between the powerlessness and enslavement of blacks and the economic and matrimonial subservience of women that the book was not published in Cuba until 1914 seventy three years after its original 1841 publication in Spain Also included in the volume is Avellaneda's Autobiography 1839 whose portrait of an intelligent flamboyant woman struggling against the restrictions of her era amplifies the novel's exploration of the patriarchal oppression of minorities and women Romantic Prose Fiction Gerald Ernest Paul Gillespie, Manfred Engel, Bernard Dieterle, 2008 In this volume a team of three dozen international experts presents a fresh picture of literary prose fiction in the Romantic age seen from cross cultural and interdisciplinary perspectives The work treats the appearance of major themes in characteristically Romantic versions the power of Romantic discourse to reshape imaginative writing and a series of crucial reactions to the impact of Romanticism on cultural life down to the present both in Europe and in the New World Through its combination of chapters on thematic generic and discursive features Romantic Prose Fiction achieves a unique theoretical stance by considering the opinions of primary Romantics and their successors not as guiding truths by which to define the permanent meaning of Romanticism but as data of cultural history that shed important light on an evolving civilization SPECIAL OFFER 30% discount for a complete set order 5 vols The Romanticism series in the Comparative History of Literatures in European Languages is the result of a remarkable international collaboration. The editorial team coordinated the efforts of over 100 experts from more than two dozen countries to produce five independently conceived yet interrelated volumes that show not only how Romanticism developed and spread in its principal European homelands and throughout the New World but also the ways in which the affected literatures in reaction to Romanticism have redefined themselves on into Modernism. A glance at the index of each volume quickly reveals the extraordinary richness of the series' total contents. Romantic Irony sets the broader experimental parameters of comparison by concentrating on the myriad expressions of irony as one of the major impulses in the Romantic philosophical and artistic revolution and by combining cross-cultural and interdisciplinary studies with special attention also to literatures in less widely diffused language streams. Romantic Drama traces creative innovations that deeply altered the understanding of genre at large, fed popular imagination through vehicles like the opera and laid the foundations for a modernist theater of the absurd. Romantic Poetry demonstrates deep patterns and a sharing of crucial themes of the revolutionary age which underlie the lyrical expression that flourished in so many languages and environments. Nonfictional Romantic Prose assists us in coping with the vast array of writings from the personal and intimate sphere to modes of public discourse including Romanticism's own self-commentary in theoretical statements on the arts, society, life, the sciences, and more. Nor are the discursive dimensions of imaginative literature neglected in the closing volume, Romantic Prose Fiction, where the basic Romantic themes and story types, the romance, novel, novella, short story, and other narrative forms are considered throughout Europe and the New World. This enormous realm is seen not just in terms of Romantic theorizing but in the light of the impact of Romantic ideas and narration on later generations. As an aid to readers, the introduction to Romantic Prose Fiction explains the relationships among the volumes in the series and carries a listing of their tables of contents in an appendix. No other series exists comparable to these volumes which treat the entirety of Romanticism as a cultural happening across the whole breadth of the Old and New Worlds and thus render a complex picture of European spiritual strivings in the late eighteenth and the nineteenth centuries, a heritage still very close to our age.

Fashioning Feminism in Cuba and Beyond Brigida M. Pastor, 2003. Though open public discussion of the oppression of women was precluded by the nature of Hispanic societies during the nineteenth century, some Hispanic women among them the Cuban writer Gertrudis Gómez de Avellaneda subtly sought to promote ideas of emancipation. Focusing upon her autobiographical letters and a selection of her novels and drawing on contemporary psychoanalytical feminist theory, this book traces the evolution of Avellaneda's feminism, showing how she developed a series of narrative techniques and stylistic resources to explore male and female self-representation and subvert the existing textual tradition. Fashioning Feminism in Cuba and Beyond establishes Avellaneda at the forefront of both Cuban and Hispanic nineteenth-century literature and feminist thought.
