Sacrificial Ideas In Greek Christian Writers Patristic Monograph No 5:

The Use of Sacrificial Ideas in Greek Christian Writers from the New Testament to John Chrysostom Frances M.

Young, 2004-10-06 The subject of Christ's sacrifice on the Cross has mainly been treated in the context of general discussions of Atonement theory. This is inevitable but when it occurs his sacrifice tends to be confused with theories of substitution, satisfaction and propitiation in which case its nature is understood according to a priori assumptions concerning the proper rationale of sacrifice. The result of this situation is that according to their own convictions historians of the Doctrine of the Atonement have either tended to accept sacrificial language in the Greek Fathers as evidence of the presence of the later Western theory of atonement at any rate in germ or they have dismissed it as no more than the use of traditional Christian expressions which do not represent the real Doctrine held by the authors with whom we are concerned. In addition to this the treatment of sacrificial language as one of the modes of expressing Atonement has meant that in modern studies the subject of Christ's sacrifice has been divorced from consideration of the sacrificial worship and service of the Church. The aim of this study is to try to correct the balance to emphasize the importance and diversity of sacrificial concepts in the theology and life of the early Eastern Church and so to throw light on the usually confused treatment not only of Christ's atoning death but also of the sacrifice of the Eucharist from the Introduction.

The Justifying Judgement of God Justyn Terry, 2008-02-01 This monograph argues that the doctrine of atonement may be presented more coherently by recognizing judgement as the principle metaphor of the reconciling work of Christ. Judgement understood not only as condemnation but as the whole process of bringing about justice provides the pattern to which victory, redemption and sacrifice may be compared and to which they should be related. The first section is a study of twentieth century British atonement theology to understand the assumptions that give rise to the difficulties in proclaiming the atonement. The second section examines Karl Barth's account of reconciliation in terms of the judgement of Jesus Christ and its relationship to victory, redemption and sacrifice. The proposal is made that judgement is the paradigmatic metaphor of the doctrine of atonement. The implications of this claim are then considered for the response to the work of Christ and how repentance, baptism, Eucharist and holiness are related to judgement.

The Lord's Supper, Eucharist, Mass ... What's in a Name? Virgilio T.J. Suerte Felipe, 2010-02-04

Throughout its long and rich history the celebration of Christ's paschal mystery has been called by different names. In the Bible the early Church initially designated it as the Lord's Supper and the Breaking of the Bread. Subsequently it has been called Eucharist, Liturgy, Mystery, Sacrament, Sacrifice, Memorial Mass, Real Presence, Paschal Banquet and Communion. These twelve names of the Eucharist are used in the 2002 General Instruction of the Roman Missal which is the present manual for the celebration of Christ's paschal mystery. What is the history behind each name? Can we derive any theological meaning and pastoral implications from those names? Employing the threefold method of historical, theological and pastoral investigations, Virgilio Suerte Felipe has also incorporated Pope Benedict XVI's recent Post Synodal Apostolic Exhortation Sacramentum

Past Event and Present Salvation Paul S. Fiddes,1989-01-01 How can an event that has taken place in the past have an effect upon the human experience of salvation in the present In examining one of the essential questions of the Christian faith Paul S Fiddes explores the limits as well as the gains to be made in speaking about crucifixion as a historical event and considers the relationship of the crucifixion to the continuing process of God's saving activity He considers the relevance of a past act of atonement to such areas of practical experience as forgiveness liberation and suffering

Construing the Cross Frances M. Young,2015-10-20 This book reconsiders ways in which the cross of Christ was construed before atonement theories narrowed the categories The typology of Passover is explored as probably the very first way in which Christians came to understand the passion The use of sacrificial imagery is re-examined The significance of identifying the cross with the Tree of Life is traced across the centuries into medieval times along with other surprising links with the Eden narrative The validity of seeking imaginative insights to grasp what the cross signifies is given theological consideration in a chapter that moves into literary and liturgical reflections and is punctuated with cruciform poems The overall outcome is a quite paradoxical
