Long-term Care for Older Persons Nancy N. Eustis, Jay N. Greenberg, Sharon K. Patten, 1984 Long-term care for older people: A global perspective Bo Hu, Ricardo Rodrigues, YongJoo Rhee, Raphael Wittenberg, 2023-05-04 The OECD Health Project Long-term Care for Older People OECD, 2005-06-30 This study reports on the latest trends in long term care policies in nineteen OECD countries and studies lessons learned from countries that undertook major reforms over the past decade Long-term Care for Older Persons Nancy N. Eustis, Jay N. Greenberg, Sharon K. Patten, 1984 The Graying of the World Laura Katz Olson, 1994 This unique book studies America's frail older population relative to the elderly in ten other nations. It contains a cross national assessment of approaches to long term care for the elderly and explains the nature and extent of current and future problems related to caring for the functionally impaired elderly. By studying and analyzing the ongoing struggles of other nations in their attempts to cope with growing populations of frail elderly readers in the U.S. can expand the parameters of their own national debate on the subject. The Graying of the World shows the political, economic and social context in which decisions on elder care are based and evaluates how successful various countries' programs have been. Chapters outline alternative approaches taken by disparate types of national systems highlighting unique and creative solutions to provide useful information on new and alternative ways to respond to personal and public issues related to elder care. The elderly and their care in Finland, France, Germany, Great Britain, Israel, Japan, People's Republic of China, Sweden, and Yugoslavia are discussed, as are the elderly in Canada and the United States. Chapters cover the following topics for each country: the increasing number of frail elderly and their costly health needs; the current and future role of the state in elder care; the current and future role of the family in elder care; types of support services offered for the elderly including in-home care, community based care, and institutional care; the relationship of a nation's political economy to its attitude and policy on long term care; innovative approaches to elder care. Practitioners, decision makers, and the concerned general public will all find The Graying of the World an interesting and informative book that expands the discussion of health care options available for the elderly. As such, the book is also a helpful text for undergraduate and beginning graduate students of gerontology, public policy, and comparative politics, as well as for social service practitioners. It provokes much needed conversation on developing a healthcare plan for the future that meets the needs of a large elderly population Effective Management of Long Term Care Facilities Douglas Singh, 2010-02-18 Effective Management of Long Term Care Facilities explores the complex operations of the long term care facility and offers critical skills to current and future nursing home administrators for delivering quality, cost-effective services. The Second Edition has been thoroughly revised and reorganized to offer a more cohesive presentation of the material. New chapters that have been added cover the long term care industry, long term care policy, and supportive case studies that incorporate management and patient care issues New Perspectives in Health Care for Older Americans United States. Congress. House. Select Committee on

Aging. Subcommittee on Health and Long-Term Care,1976 Care of Older Persons Mala Kapur Shankardass,2024-10-23
This book explores the implications and significant ethical social economic and health challenges that an ageing world population presents It provides valuable insights on concerns related to providing organizing planning and managing care for older persons in both formal and informal settings As the number of older persons increases rapidly around the globe caring for them is a very important aspect of all ageing and aged societies While in most countries the care of older persons is provided informally by family members the changing social scene family structures and work and employment patterns are leading many nations to create provisions for formal care through institutions or paid services of caregivers This book offers perspectives on formal and informal care from countries such as Japan the Netherlands the USA India South Africa and Poland among others The essays in this book underline a rights based approach and focus on ethical social economic health and legal aspects of care as they pertain to the universal phenomena of ageing as well as the specific demographic and epidemiological realities of the selected countries They discuss concerns such as long term care provisions catering to the needs of people affected by dementia providing residential care taking the needs of family care providers into account the growing requirement for paid care workers and channelizing training of both skilled and semi skilled care providers to suit the needs of older people This volume would be of interest to scholars and those working in the fields of sociology health studies age and ageing psychology social work medical sciences nursing and public policy It will also be useful to NGO sector workers administrators as well as grassroots workers involved with the care of older persons A Study of Public Long-term Care Financing Sharon K.
