

A night scene of a road with a large fire in the distance. The road is illuminated by streetlights, and the fire is a bright orange and yellow glow. The text is overlaid on the image.

When you look back,
The only things you can
Keep forever are the memories.

Looking Back A Of Memories

Sarah M. Misemer

Looking Back A Of Memories:

Looking Back Lois Lowry, 1998 Moving Forward, Looking Back Sarah M. Misemer, 2010 Many critical shifts in concepts of time and society's consciousness of modernity were derived from the railway and World Standard Time in the nineteenth century. These innovations restructured the way people viewed the world and dealt with public and private time. The forward projectile motion along a linear track mimicked the passage of public chronological time. Conversely, the train also invoked a private nostalgic view of time as the traveler was yanked from his/her traditional view of the space-time continuum via the train's velocity. Travelers observed the landscape disappear in their backward glance from the window although the landscape and interior compartment's space remained stagnant. This optical illusion caused passengers to perceive the world in new ways. Thus, the train unveils a conflictive blend of nostalgia and progress in the River Plate as these countries move forward but look back.

Don't Miss the Blessing Study Guide Leavell, Jo Ann Paris, 1990 This concise study guide designed to supplement the text of Don't Miss the Blessing provides the opportunity for personal evaluations on the journey toward spiritual maturity. It is written for minister's wives yet it applies well to all Christian readers. Its goal is to challenge readers to grow personally and spiritually as they study the Scriptures and search within themselves for truth. The reader is guided toward a positive self-image and healthy relationships with God and others.
