Lord And Servant A Covenant Christology:

Lord and Servant Michael Scott Horton, 2005-01-01 Building on Covenant and Eschatology The Divine Drama this volume is part two of a three part project surveying essential topics of Christian theology through the lens of covenant In Lord and Servant A Covenant Christology Michael Horton explores the topics that are generally grouped under the doctrines of God humanity and Christology Rather than attempt a general systematic theology Horton revisits these topics at the places where covenant and eschatology offer the most promising insight and where there is the most contemporary interest and debate

Covenant Theology Guy Prentiss Waters, J. Nicholas Reid, John R. Muether, 2020-10-16 A Comprehensive Exploration of the Biblical Covenants This book forms an overview of the biblical teaching on covenant as well as the practical significance of covenant for the Christian life A host of 26 scholars shows how covenant is not only clearly taught from Scripture but also that it lays the foundation for other key doctrines of salvation The contributors who engage variously in biblical systematic and historical theology present covenant theology not as a theological abstract imposed on the Bible but as a doctrine that is organically presented throughout the biblical narrative As students pastors and church leaders come to see the centrality of covenant to the Christian faith the more the church will be strengthened with faith in the covenant keeping God and encouraged in their understanding of the joy of covenant life

Calvin, Classical Trinitarianism, and the Aseity of the Son Brannon Ellis, 2012-06-28 Brannon Ellis investigates the various Reformation and post Reformation responses to Calvin's affirmation of the Son's aseity or essential self existence a significant episode in the history of theology that is often ignored or misunderstood

The Oxford Handbook of Reformed Theology Michael Allen, Scott R. Swain, 2020 A comprehensive study of Reformed theology spanning historical contexts to contemporary discussions Contributors provide a range of theological essays to assess representative texts of the Reformed tradition Explores the intricate ties between patristic medieval and modern thought in Reformed theology Accessible authoritative and clearly organized Book jacket

Supralapsarianism Reconsidered Phillip A. Hussey, 2024-05-30 Phillip A Hussey examines the scholarship of Jonathan Edwards and interrogates the relationship between Christ and the decree within Reformed Theology and reveals the contemporary theological significance of supralapsarian Christology In a late notebook entry Jonathan Edwards offered a programmatic statement on the relation between Christ and predestination In that grand decree of predestination or the sum of God's decrees the appointment of Christ or the decree respecting his person must be considered first This work unpacks the scope of Edwards's statement both in terms of setting forth an interpretation of Edwards's own theology on the relation between Christ and the decree as well as drawing out the larger insights of Edwards's reasoning for current theological reflection

Scripture: A Very Theological Proposal Angus Paddison, 2009-10-10 To identify the biblical texts as Scripture is to make a series of specific claims about this text that it is drawn into the activity of the triune God of Israel that its ultimate destination is the worshipping church and that it has a ministry in shaping Christian thinking and acting Scripture A Very Theological Proposal advances that the resources for reading Scripture understanding its claims and acting upon them will be found by looking to the church's life and doctrines. Reading Scripture with a host of theologians Paddison proposes a hermeneutic appropriate to reading Scripture both as divine address and the book of the church. The book positions itself by resisting accounts in which Scripture's relationship to God and its life within the church are understood competitively as if the more we attend to one the less we are attending to the other. Chapters further explore a doctrine of Scripture and the relationship of ethics doctrine and preaching to Scripture. A final chapter asks can or should Scripture be read in the university.

The Doctrine of God John C. Peckham, 2019-09-05 John C. Peckham introduces and engages with major questions about God's nature and how God relates to the world. Does God change? Does God have emotions? Can God do anything? Does God know the future? Does God always attain what God desires? And is God entirely good? This textbook provides a clear and concise overview of the issues involved in these and other questions, exploring prominent contemporary approaches to the main issues relative to how to conceive of the God-world relationship within Christian theology. In so doing, Peckham surveys a range of live options regarding each of the primary questions, briefly considering where each falls within the spectrum of the Christian tradition and providing clear and readily understandable explanations of the technical issues involved. The result is a stimulating survey of the most prominent options in Christian theology relative to divine attributes and the God-world relationship offered in an accessible format for students. Designed for classroom use, this volume includes the following features: study questions for each chapter, suggestions for further reading for each chapter, glossary.

Christ, Church, and World Theodore J. Hopkins, 2021-10-11 As the North American church struggles to navigate the emerging post-Christian context, Theodore J. Hopkins argues that the church is identified by three fundamental relationships: Christ, church, world. By attending to the Christological center of Dietrich Bonhoeffer's theology, Hopkins establishes a framework for the church's mission in the world that flows from Christ's relationship to the church and his relationship to the world. This Christological framework also illuminates the changing relationship between the church and the world in Bonhoeffer's works such that Discipleship seems to demarcate the church from the world while Ethics seems to unite church and world in one Christ reality. Following Bonhoeffer, Hopkins contends that the church is both distinct from the world and in solidarity with it in the dynamic of the crucified Lord Jesus who took the form of a servant and is present in Word, Sacrament, and community as the Risen One. Hopkins envisions the church within the story of Jesus so that preaching and teaching the Gospel identifies the church and calls it to faithfulness in Christ's own mission. The church is formed to see itself and the world in Jesus and enabled to follow Christ's mission of witness and service in the world.

Perichoretic Salvation James D. Gifford, 2011-09-15 For two thousand years, Christian theologians have struggled to explain the believer's union with Christ. What sort of union is it? How can it be fully described? This book is an attempt to join the conversation to explore exactly what it means to be in union with Christ. This book will argue that the believer's union with Christ can rightly be presented as a third type of perichoresis. Perichoresis is a word that describes the way the persons of the Trinity interrelate without losing their essential oneness nor without being absorbed into each other In short the doctrine of perichoresis preserves the unity and diversity within the Godhead It is also used to describe the hypostatic union of the divine and human in Christ In Perichoretic Salvation James Gifford argues that the union of the believer and Christ is a relationship of the same kind though of a third type Arguing from a perspective that is rooted biblically historically and theologically the book will allow the union to be explained more fully than in the past while remaining within the bounds of what the church has taught over the centuries It may prove to be a basis for understanding the work of Christ afresh for the twenty first century Constructing a Mediating Theology J. D. Kim, 2022-11-16 How does an almighty and all loving God respond to his beloved human creatures who are made in his image and yet implicated in sin and suffering What is the origin of human suffering Is it sin or the limitations of human beings Is God moved by our suffering If he sympathizes and co suffers with us can he deliver us out of our miseries Thousands and perhaps millions of people have asked these questions and are searching desperately for their answers Two major views have been advanced in the history of Christian theology to describe God s response to the suffering of the world divine impassibility and divine passibility More recently a third mediating position between impassibilism and passibilism has arisen which affirms both the impassibility and the passibility of God This position can be identified as modified classical theism an approach that grasps the perfect and relational nature of God Following this mediating position this book sets out its own constructive understanding of a mediating position with the help of a new way of understanding the way in which the eternal actions and corresponding passions of the divine persons condition one another the dynamic reciprocity model
