Metamorphosis Of The Cassowaries Umeda Society Language And Ritual:

Metamorphosis of the Cassowaries Alfred Gell, 2020-10-09 In this substantial book Gell guides the reader systematically through an analysis of the social structure language and ritual of the Umedia Punda connubium of the West Sepik district One of the central areas explored is the ida fertility ritual and the decipherment and the unravelling of symbolic relationships between words of similar construction One one side is the analysis on the temporal sequence of events or ritual roles metamorphosing the cassowary nature into the new man culture and the on other side the associated harmonic levels which allude to body painting choreography and social status His approach substantiates the view that the ritual is not so much about the establishing of linear causality in the relationship between a society and its environment but with the act of poetic legislation over the course of nature Metamorphosis of the Cassowaries Alfred Gell, 1975 The Metamorphoses of Kinship Maurice Godelier, 2012-03-03 With marriage in decline divorce on the rise the demise of the nuclear family and the increase in marriages and adoptions among same sex partners it is clear that the structures of kinship in the modern West are in a state of flux In The Metamorphoses of Kinship the world renowned anthropologist Maurice Godelier contextualizes these developments surveying the accumulated experience of humanity with regard to such phenomena as the organization of lines of descent sexuality and sexual prohibitions In parallel Godelier studies the evolution of Western conjugal and familial traditions from their roots in the nineteenth century to the present The conclusion he draws is that it is never the case that a man and a woman are sufficient on their own to raise a child and nowhere are relations of kinship or the family the keystone of society Godelier argues that the changes of the last thirty years do not herald the disappearance or death agony of kinship but rather its remarkable metamorphosis one that ironically is bringing us closer to the traditional societies studied by ethnologists Classic Concepts in Anthropology Valerio Valeri, 2017-12-15 The late anthropologist Valerio Valeri 1944-98 was best known for his substantial writings on societies of Polynesia and eastern Indonesia This volume however presents a lesser known side of Valeri's genius through a dazzlingly erudite set of comparative essays on core topics in the history of anthropological theory Offering masterly discussions of anthropological thought about ritual fetishism cosmogonic myth belief caste kingship mourning play feasting ceremony and cultural relativism Classic Concepts in Anthropology will be an eye opening essential resource for students and researchers not only in anthropology but throughout the humanities A Borneo Journey into Death Peter Metcalf, 2017-01-30 The unusual and symbolically complex funerary rites of the Berawan of central Borneo are here analyzed in the first such full length study based on modern ethnographic research Metcalf demonstrates how the ritual and social organization of death serve as a crucial point of entry into the cosmology of a non Western culture The Evolution of Social Institutions Dmitri M. Bondarenko, Stephen A. Kowalewski, David B. Small, 2020-09-12 This book presents a novel and innovative approach to the study of social evolution using case studies from the Old and the New World from prehistory to the present This approach is based on examining social evolution through the evolution of social institutions Evolution is defined as the process of structural change Within this framework the society or culture is seen as a system composed of a vast number of social institutions that are constantly interacting and changing As a result the structure of society as a whole is also evolving and changing The authors posit that the combination of evolving social institutions explains the non linear character of social evolution and that every society develops along its own pathway and pace Within this framework society should be seen as the result of the compound effect of the interactions of social institutions specific to it Further the transformation of social institutions and relations between them is taking place not only within individual societies but also globally as institutions may be trans societal and even institutions that operate in one society can arise as a reaction to trans societal trends and demands The book argues that it may be more productive to look at institutions even within a given society as being parts of trans societal systems of institutions since despite their interconnectedness societies still have boundaries which their members usually know and respect Accordingly the book is a must read for researchers and scholars in various disciplines who are interested in a better understanding of the origins history successes and failures of social institutions

The Memory of Trade Patricia Spyer, 2000 Trade popular memory and colonialism in Indonesia Excursions in Realist Anthropology David Zeitlyn, 2014-10-16 Realism has become a dirty word in some social sciences yet despite fashionable new approaches involving multiple ontologies and the like when anthropologists actually produce ethnographic accounts they are still indulging in realism in some form Perhaps this is why ethnography too is unfashionable Given the authors background as anthropologists committed to fieldwork this book provides a theoretical grounding to justify and explain the sorts of accounts that anthropologists produce as the result of ethnographic research The book s approach starts from an acceptance that understanding is always incomplete always improvable This sort of partiality is viewed throughout the book as a strength The challenge of anthropology is that it involves forms of translation often across languages but always between the unstated and the explicit Accepting provisionality and incompleteness in the resulting translations provides ways of finding a middle ground between extreme versions of positivism and relativism As such this book argues for moderate realism in a dappled world

Experiencing New Worlds Jürg Wassmann, Katharina Stockhaus, 2007-11-01 The many different localities of the Pacific region have a long history of transformation under both pre and post colonial conditions More recently rates of local transformation have increased tremendously under post colonial regimes The forces of globalization which rapidly distribute commodities images and political and moral concepts across the region have presented Pacific populations with an unprecedented need and opportunity to fashion new and expanded understandings of their cultural and individual identities This volume the first in a new series examines the forces of globalization at different levels as they manifest themselves and operate across cultural cognitive and biographical dimensions of human life in the Pacific While posing familiar questions it offers new answers through the integration of cultural and psychological methods The contributors draw on practice theory cognitive science and the anthropology of space and place while exploring the key analytical rubrics of human agency memory and landscape A Demographic Study of an Egyptian Province (Sharquiya) A. M. Ammar, 2021-05-30 Initially published in 1943 In A Demographic Study of an Egyptian Province Sharquiya Dr Ammar an Egyptian anthropologist raises a number of questions around the relevance of and need for accurate population statistics in field economic studies His tables and sociological analysis will be of particular interest to those working in other Muslim areas and the economic conclusions he draws have familiarity to all who are studying the problem of primary poverty
