Metaphysical Community The Interplay Of The Senses And The Intellect:

Metaphysical Community Greg Urban, 2010-07-05 Winner Senior Book Prize American Ethnological Society Starting with the post structuralist idea that truth systems are lodged in discourse and that discourse varies from society to society Greg Urban seeks to discover the nature and extent of that variation His journey to an Amerindian society in which dreams are more prominent than everyday aspects of the sensible world leads him to radically reformulate one of the main problematics of Western thought the relationship between our sensations of the world and the understandings we form of them Metaphysical Community proposes that this dichotomy comes from the interplay between two sides of discourse its intelligible side as a carrier of meanings and its sensible side as thing in the world that must be replicated This insight leads to the heart of the book the exploration of the uneasy tension that binds experience and understanding phenomena and noumena Urban challenges basic assumptions that underlie social and cultural anthropology and much of the social sciences and humanities His provocative insights will be of interest to all those concerned with anthropology cultural studies literary criticism the sociology and politics of culture and philosophy Scoping the Amazon Stephen Nugent, 2016-07 Savage cannibal or utopian proto environmentalist Nugent examines both popular images of Amazon peoples in film and general books as well as changing anthropological views of the rainforest and its people Traveling Spirit Masters Deborah Kapchan, 2023-09-05 A group of ritual musicians and former slaves brought from sub Saharan Africa to Morocco the Gnawa heal those they believe to be possessed using incense music and trance But their practice is hardly of only local interest the Gnawa have long participated in the world music market through collaborations with African American jazz musicians and French recording artists In this first book in English on Gnawa music and its global reach author Deborah Kapchan explores how these collaborations transfigure racial and musical identities on both sides of the Atlantic She also addresses how aesthetic styles associated with the sacred come to inhabit non sacred contexts and what new amalgams they produce Her narrative details the fascinating intrinsic properties of trance including details of enactment the role of gesture and the body and the use of the senses and how they both construct authentic Gnawa identity and reconstruct historically determined relations of power Traveling Spirit Masters is a captivating and elucidating demonstration of how and why trance and indeed all sacred music is fast becoming a transnational sensation New Perspectives on Native North America Sergei Kan, Pauline Turner Strong, Raymond Fogelson, 2006-01-01 In this volume some of the leading scholars working in Native North America explore contemporary perspectives on Native culture history and representation Written in honor of the anthropologist Raymond D Fogelson the volume charts the currents of contemporary scholarship while offering an invigorating challenge to researchers in the field The essays employ a variety of theoretical and methodological approaches and range widely across time and space The introduction and first section consider the origins and legacies of various strands of interpretation while the second part examines the relationship among culture power and creativity The third part focuses on the cultural construction and experience of history and the volume closes with essays on identity difference and appropriation in several historical and cultural contexts Aimed at a broad interdisciplinary audience the volume offers an excellent overview of contemporary perspectives on Native peoples Now I Know Only So Far Dell H. Hymes,2003-01-01 In Now I Know Only So Far sociolinguist and ethno poetic scholar Dell Hymes examines the power and significance of Native North American literatures and how they can best be approached and appreciated Such narratives Hymes argues are ways of making sense of the world To truly comprehend the importance and durability of these narratives one must investigate the ways of thinking expressed in these texts the cultural sensibilities also deeply affected by storytellers particular experiences and mastery of form Included here are seminal overviews and reflections on the history and potential of the field of ethno poetics Native North American stories from areas ranging from the Northwest Coast to the Southwest take center stage in this book which features careful scrutiny of different realizations and tellings of the same story or related stories Such narratives are illuminated through a series of verse analyses in which patterned relations of lines throw into relief differences in emphasis shape and interpretation A final group of essays sheds light on the often misunderstood and always controversial role of editing and interpreting texts Now I Know Only So Far provides penetrating discussions and absorbing insights into stories and worlds both traditional and new Suspect Others Stuart Earle Strange,2021-07-30 Suspect Others explores how ideas of self knowledge and identity arise from a unique set of rituals in Suriname a postcolonial Caribbean nation rife with racial and religious suspicion Amid competition for belonging political power and control over natural resources Surinamese Ndyuka Maroons and Hindus look to spirit mediums to understand the causes of their successes and sufferings and to know the hidden minds of relatives and rivals alike But although mediumship promises knowledge of others interactions between mediums and their devotees also fundamentally challenge what devotees know about themselves thereby turning interpersonal suspicion into doubts about the self Through a rich ethnographic comparison of the different ways in which Ndyuka and Hindu spirit mediums and their devotees navigate suspicion Suspect Others shows how present day Caribbean peoples come to experience selves that defy concepts of personhood inflicted by the colonial past Stuart Earle Strange investigates key questions about the nature of self knowledge religious revelation and racial discourse in a hyper diverse society At a moment when exclusionary suspicions dominate global politics Suspect Others elucidates self identity as a social process that emerges from the paradoxical ways in which people must look to others to know themselves Crying Shame James M. Wilce,2009-02-11 Building on ethnographic fieldwork and extensive historical evidence Crying Shame analyzes lament across thousands of years and nearly every continent Explores the enduring power of lament expressing grief through crying songs often in a collective ritual context Draws on the author s extensive ethnographic fieldwork and unique long term engagement and participation in the phenomenon Offers a startling new perspective on the nature of modernity and postmodernity An important addition to growing literature on cultural globalization The Resonance of

Unseen Things Susan Lepselter, 2016-03-03 The Resonance of Unseen Things offers an ethnographic meditation on the uncanny persistence and cultural freight of conspiracy theory The project is a reading of conspiracy theory as an index of a certain strain of late 20th century American despondency and malaise especially as understood by people experiencing downward social mobility Written by a cultural anthropologist with a literary background this deeply interdisciplinary book focuses on the enduring American preoccupation with captivity in a rapidly transforming world Captivity is a trope that appears in both ordinary and fantastic iterations here and Susan Lepselter shows how multiple troubled histories of race class gender and power become compressed into stories of uncanny memory We really don't have anything like this in terms of a focused sympathetic open minded ethnographic study of UFO experiencers The author's semiotic approach to the paranormal is immensely productive positive and above all resonant with what actually happens in history Jeffrey J Kripal J Newton Rayzor Professor of Religion Rice University Lepselter relates a weave of intimate alien sensibilities in out of the way places which are surprisingly profoundly close to home Readers can expect to share her experience of contact with complex logics of feeling and to do so in a contemporary America they may have thought they understood Debbora Battaglia Mount Holyoke College An original and beautifully written study of contemporary American cultural poetics The book convincingly brings into relief the anxieties of those at the margins of American economic and civic life their perceptions of state power and the narrative continuities that bond them to histories of violence and expansion in the American West Deirdre de la Cruz University of Michigan

Tourist Experience Richard Sharpley, Philip Stone, 2010-10-04 To consume tourism is to consume experiences An understanding of the ways in which tourists experience the places and people they visit is therefore fundamental to the study of the consumption of tourism Consequently it is not surprising that attention has long been paid in the tourism literature to particular perspectives on the tourist experience including demand factors tourist motivation typologies of tourists and issues related to authenticity commodification image and perception However as tourism has continued to expand in both scale and scope and as tourists needs and expectations have become more diverse and complex in response to transformations in the dynamic socio cultural world of tourism so too have tourist experiences Tourist Experience provides a focused analysis into tourist experiences that reflect their ever increasing diversity and complexity and their significance and meaning to tourists themselves Written by leading international scholars it offers new insights into emergent behaviours motivations and sought meanings on the part of tourists based on five contemporary themes determined by current research activity in tourism experience dark tourism experiences experiencing poor places sport tourism experiences writing the tourist experience and researching tourist experiences methodological approaches The book critically explores these experiences from multidisciplinary perspectives and includes case studies from a wide range of geographical regions By analyzing these contemporary tourist experiences the book will provide further understanding of the consumption of tourism collection brings together leading and emerging scholars of discourse conceptualizing how discursive practices shape social political and even material realities today Discourses in Action presents a wide range of essays that explore fundamental concerns for the social consequences of text talk and discursively informed actions and possibilities of discursive engagement It opens new perspectives on what language does and the differences that scholarly and practical contributions can make Chapters cover diverse topics ranging from political struggles climate change social revolutions ethnicity violence and other often unexpected patterns of discursive consequences Its essays also explore the cultural contingencies that underlie discourse practices which are usually ignored when analysed from within a taken for granted culture Providing a useful examination of current discourse studies this interdisciplinary volume is ideal for students and researchers within media communication discourse analysis linguistics cultural studies and the sociology of knowledge
