Transnational Unconventional Organized Crime: A National and Global Security Concern Christian Kaunert, Sarah Léonard, Anthony J. Masys, 2025-09-27 The term transnational organised crime has been used to describe different realities depending on the specific category of crime and region of the world concerned Volume 2 of Transnational Unconventional Organised Crime focuses on regional and national perspectives It seeks to explore and understand the complexity of transnational organised crime and unconventional crime in various regional and national incarnations Globalisation has been identified as an essential factor facilitating transnational crime by removing previously established boundaries This complicated process of globalisation has led to similar interdependencies amongst countries and cultures with various long term and multifaceted impacts This interconnected framework has allowed transnational criminal networks to emerge and adapt leading to distinctly regional impacts as shown in this book This volume aims to promote a better understanding of the challenges inherent to tackling transnational organised crime which in turn can helpfully inform responsible and flexible responses that are tailored to the specific conditions in various regions and countries Minerals Yearbook Geological Survey, Interior Department, Mines Bureau, 2018-04-19 This volume of the Minerals Yearbook provides an annual review of mineral production and trade and of mineral related government and industry developments in more than 175 foreign countries It is normally published in separate books that cover specific regions In this publication the regional books are combined into one commemorative volume These annual reviews are designed to provide timely statistical data on mineral commodities in various countries Each report includes sections on government policies and programs environmental issues trade and production data industry structure and ownership commodity sector developments infrastructure and a summary outlook More information is available on the three volumes of the Minerals Yearbook Regional Areas Covered Africa and the Middle East Asia and the Pacific Europe and Central Eurasia North America Central America and the Caribbean South America Management, Leadership and Entrepreneurship in Latin America. Dr. Librado Enrique Gonzalez, 2014-03-25 Latin America a region that is constantly recognized as one of the top economies in the world is growing at an amazing rate Although Latin America is doing very good it is facing a severe problem the local talent is not receiving the correct attention Every time I talk to managers of large multinational corporations and professors about the talent and human resources in Latin America I always seem to find a consensus most of the local talent is not well trained According to them key positions inside mid and largesized companies are rarely occupied by local talent Corporations fill the hole with foreign talent which is more expensive and difficult to find This could be Latin Americas Achilles heel I personally understand that developing Leadership Management skills and Entrepreneurship takes time and that in some cases that time will be wasted but it amuses me how some companies complain about the talent and they don't take the time to develop it. They rely on employees from other companies to fill the empty spots. Companies in Latin America need to start working proactively and not reactively. Over the last 10 years economic growth averaged 4.2% and 70 million people escaped poverty. Macroeconomic stability, open trade policies, and pro-business investment climates have supported and will continue to support strong growth in the years to come. Crucially, economic gains are being broadly shared. Latin America grew by 50 million people between 2003 and 2009, an increase of 50%. For a region long riven by wealth inequality, this is a remarkable achievement. The importance of family and personal relationships also impacts the workplace. For example, it is more common in Latin America to seek employment with family members, hire family members, and look to the family for help in times of need. In addition, many Latin Americans feel more comfortable doing business with people they know personally, and developing that relationship is often considered an essential first step. Americans who try to move things along more quickly and get to the point may become frustrated and/or offend Latin Americans. This means that establishing business contacts and closing deals are best done in person and may take more time than is customary in the U.S.
