International Contracts and National Economic Regulation: Dispute Resolution Through International Commercial Arbitration Mahmood Bagheri, 2000-12-06 The growth of national economic regulation and the process of globalisation increasingly expose international transactions to an array of regulations from different jurisdictions These developments often contribute to widespread international contractual failures when parties claim the incompatibility of their contractual obligations with regulatory laws The author challenges conventional means of dispute resolution and argues for an interdisciplinary approach whereby disciplines such as international economic law conflict of laws contract law and economic regulations are functionally united to resolve international and multifaceted regulatory disputes He identifies the normative foundation of contract law as an important determinant in this process contending that contract law is essentially neutral and underpinned by the concept of corrective justice while economic regulations are mainly prompted by distributive justice Applying this corrective distributive justice dichotomy to international contracts the author critically assesses major conflict of laws approaches such as proper law the Rome Convention and governmental interest analysis which could disregard either public interest or private rights The author taking these theories into account proposes an alternative two dimensional interest analysis approach He tests the viability of this approach with reference to arbitral awards and court decisions in various jurisdictions and concludes that it uniquely fits into the structure of international commercial arbitration In adopting this approach arbitrators would take into account both corrective and distributive justice and to the extent that corrective justice prevails would be able to avert a total failure of the contract

Private Regulation and Enforcement in the EU Madeleine de Cock Buning, Linda Senden, 2020-06-25 Globalisation and technological innovation have been fuelling the need for increasing levels of trust in private actors such as companies or special interest groups to regulate and enforce significant aspects of people's daily lives from environmental and social protection to the areas of food safety advertising and financial markets This book investigates the trust vested in private actors from the perspective of European citizens It answers the question of whether private actors live up to citizens expectations or whether more should be done as to the safeguarding of citizens interests Several cross cutting studies explore how private regulation and enforcement are embedded in EU law The book offers an innovative approach to private regulation and enforcement by focusing on the specific EU context which unlike the national and transnational ones has not yet been widely explored This context merits a stand alone analysis because of the unique normative framework of the EU as a particular polity itself but also in relation to its Member States With an overall analysis of the main aspects of private regulation and enforcement across different policy fields of the EU the book adds a missing tile to the mosaic of public private governance studies

Better Regulation Stephen Weatherill, 2007-06-28 The discourse of Better Regulation is a hot topic intimately associated with the drive for cost savings and a more efficient economy In the UK and in the EU rule makers have lately endeavoured to achieve a more satisfactory balance between the demands of proper protection from market failure and inequity on the one hand and commercial freedom and the potential for innovation on the other But who is the regulator listening to and what effect does this have on the regulatory pattern governing the integrating EU market What is best practice in the matter of regulatory assessment The essays in this collection explore these and other questions and will foster greater understanding of UK and EU regulation the accountability issues involved and problems of enforcement It is no coincidence that since efforts to construct a Constitution for Europe have stalled the attention of policy makers politicians and the business community has turned instead to the quest for Better Regulation or perhaps it might be said a Better European Union by the EU through policy and regulatory measures The risk analysis paradigm including risk assessment management and communication has been at the core of the EU decision making for a long time already EU Institutions strive for a science based approach to risk management Nevertheless the dialogue and collaboration on risk issues between policy makers stakeholders and scientists are still difficult and the potential and limits of science in support of decision making as well as the basic concepts of risk analysis are not fully understood outside the narrow specialist circles Public Policy Issues for Management Rogene A. Buchholz, 1992 Managerial in focus this volume explores the public policy concept as an integrating theme for developing business policies and strategies
