The Psychology of Control and Aging Margret M. Baltes, Paul B. Baltes, 2014-08-01 Originally published in 1986 the central topic of this book is the analysis and application of control related beliefs and behaviours for theory and practice in the psychology of aging The volume was written for two specific interrelated purposes aimed at cross fertilization between the psychology of control and the field of gerontology The first purpose was to summarise available research and theory on the psychology of control for researchers and professionals interested in gerontology at the time The second was to enrich the field of the psychology of control

Relationships as Developmental Contexts W. Andrew Collins, Brett Laursen, 1999-03-01 The volume's topic was chosen in part because of the rapidly growing salience of dyadic research perspectives in developmental psychology but also in social psychology and in fields such as communication and family studies It provides the most complete representation now available on current theory and research on the significance of personal relationships in child and adolescent development This volume addresses the ways in which the study of social development has been altered by an emphasis on research questions and techniques for studying children and adolescents in the context of their significant dyadic relationships Leading scholars many of them pioneers in the concepts and methods of dyadic research have contributed chapters in which they both report findings from recent research and reflect on the implications for developmental psychology Their work encompasses studies of relationships with parents siblings friends and romantic partners Opening chapters set the stage by describing the key characteristics of social development research from a dyadic perspective and outlining key themes and contemporary issues in the field It concludes with commentaries from distinguished senior scholars identifying important directions for future research

Studying Children: A Cultural-Historical Approach Hedegaard, Marianne, Fler, Marilyn, 2008-12-01 This work discusses the complexity of child development It provides a critique of alternative perspectives of research and development and shows how to do research with the concepts of cultural historical theory

The Relation of Crime and Delinquency to Age and Intelligence Hortense M. Mullane, 1927

Handbook of Theories of Aging, Second Edition Merrill Silverstein PhD, Vern L. Bengtson PhD, Norella Putney PhD, Daphna Gans PhD, 2008-10-27 The field of gerontology has often been criticized for being data rich but theory poor The editors of this book address this issue by stressing the importance of theory in gerontology While the previous edition focused on multidisciplinary approaches to aging theory this new edition provides cross disciplinary integrative explanations of aging theory The contributors of this text have reached beyond traditional disciplinary boundaries to partner with researchers in adjacent fields in studying aging and age related phenomena This edition of the Handbook consists of 39 chapters written by 67 internationally recognized experts in the field of aging It is organized in seven sections reflecting the major theoretical developments in gerontology over the past 10 years Special Features Comprehensive coverage of aging theory focusing on the biological psychological and social aspects of aging A section dedicated to discussing how aging theory informs public policy A concluding chapter summarizing the major themes of aging and offering predictions about the future of theory development Required reading for graduate students and post doctoral fellows this textbook represents the current status of theoretical development in the study of aging

Progress in Development of Methods in Bone Densitometry ,1966      Relations of Development and Aging. A Symposium Presented Before the Gerontological Society at the 15th Annual Meeting, Miami Beach, Florida John E.. Anderson,James E. Birren,Margaret Blenkner,1964      Adult Development and Aging Richard Schulz,Robert B. Ewen,1988      International Handbook of Population Aging Peter Uhlenberg,2009-04-29 The International Handbook of Population Aging examines research on a wide array of the profound implications of population aging It demonstrates how the world is changing through population aging and how demography is changing in response to it      Development of Person-context Relations Thomas A. Kindermann,Jaen Valsiner,2013-06-17 Traditionally developmental psychology has its focus on individuals Developmentalists aim to describe regularities in individuals change and development across time to explain the processes and mechanisms that are involved in producing change and regularity and eventually to design strategies for optimization and modification of developmental pathways Although the role of contexts has always been of central concern for these purposes it is nevertheless quite surprising to note that compared to the effort devoted to individuals relatively little attention has been paid to the study of the nature and organization of their contexts This volume is an exploration of the idea that how we describe and explain human development will be closely tied to our understanding of what contexts are how individuals and contexts become influential for one another what contexts do to and with individuals and how contexts and their influences change themselves across time A major theme is whether the traditional dichotomy between individuals and their contexts may be artificial perhaps culturally biased and after psychologists have adhered to it for about a century may have become an impediment to increasing our understanding of developmental processes With this volume the editors contribute a serious consideration of development and systematic change to emerging models of person context relations and provide suggestions about how it may be possible to incorporate these notions in developmental research and theorizing      Understanding Communication and Aging Jake Harwood,2007-05-08 The book examines key topics such as interpersonal and family relationships in old age media portrayals of aging cultural variations in intergenerational communication and health communication in old age      The Communication Age Autumn Edwards, Chad Edwards, Shawn T. Wahl, Scott A. Myers, 2015-12-07 We are in the communication age No matter who you are or how you communicate we are all members of a society who connect through the internet not just to it From face to face interactions to all forms of social media The Communication Age Second Edition invites you to join the conversation about today s issues and make your voice heard This contemporary and engaging text introduces students to the essentials of interpersonal small group and public communication while incorporating technology media and speech communication to foster civic engagement for a better future      Personal Relationships and Personal Networks Malcolm R. Parks, 2017-09-25 The effort to understand personal relationships has traditionally focused on the individual characteristics of participants Personal Relationships and Personal Networks takes this analysis a step further focusing on research linking participants feelings and actions within a given personal relationship to the larger social context surrounding it Author Malcolm R Parks expands on the idea that the initiation development maintenance and dissolution of relationships are inextricably connected to each participant s social network a perspective that allows for a better appreciation of our connection to the world and a greater understanding our significant power as social actors This book offers a new way to consider basic notions about how relationships form such as how particular people meet and how relationships are started Among many findings the volume demonstrates that individuals in relationships feel closer and generally more connected when they also have a greater amount of contact with the members of each other s personal networks and when they believe that network members support their relationship Additional topics discussed include how this social context model is applicable to different types of relationships how participants interact with network members how social networks are involved in the deterioration of personal relationships and what drives change in relationships Students researchers and professionals in a wide variety of disciplines such as communication psychology sociology anthropology family studies clinical psychology public health nursing education and social work will find this book useful as will anyone seeking to better understand their own personal relationships      Transforming the Workforce for Children Birth Through Age 8 National Research Council, Institute of Medicine, Board on Children, Youth, and Families, Committee on the Science of Children Birth to Age 8: Deepening and Broadening the Foundation for Success, 2015-07-23 Children are already learning at birth and they develop and learn at a rapid pace in their early years This provides a critical foundation for lifelong progress and the adults who provide for the care and the education of young children bear a great responsibility for their health development and learning Despite the fact that they share the same objective to nurture young children and secure their future success the various practitioners who contribute to the care and the education of children from birth through age 8 are not acknowledged as a workforce unified by the common knowledge and competencies needed to do their jobs well Transforming the Workforce for Children Birth Through Age 8 explores the science of child development particularly looking at implications for the professionals who work with children This report examines the current capacities and practices of the workforce the settings in which they work the policies and infrastructure that set qualifications and provide professional learning and the government agencies and other funders who support and oversee these systems This book then makes recommendations to improve the quality of professional practice and the practice environment for care and education professionals These detailed recommendations create a blueprint for action that builds on a unifying foundation of child development and early learning shared knowledge and competencies for care and education professionals and principles for effective professional learning Young children thrive and learn best when they have secure positive relationships with adults who are knowledgeable about how to support their development and learning and are responsive to their individual progress Transforming the Workforce for Children Birth Through Age 8 offers guidance on system changes to improve the quality of professional practice specific actions to improve professional learning systems and workforce development and research to continue to build the knowledge base in ways that will directly advance and inform future actions The recommendations of this book provide an opportunity to improve the quality of the care and the education that children receive and ultimately improve outcomes for children

Youth in Education Christiane Timmerman, Noel Clycq, Marie Mc Andrew, Alhassane Balde, Luc Braeckmans, Sara Mels, 2016-01-22 Youth in Education explores the multiple interrelated social contexts that young people inhabit and navigate and how educational institutions cope with increasing ethnic cultural and ideological diversity Schools families and communities represent important settings in which young people must make successful transitions to adulthood and the classroom often becomes a battleground in which these contexts and values interact With contributions from the UK Belgium Germany and Canada the chapters in this book explore rich examples from Europe and North America to suggest strategies that can help to counter negative perceptions processes of stigmatization and disengagement instead prioritising peer support and cooperative learning to give pupils a renewed sense of worth This book takes the growing ethno cultural diversity in education systems to heart and studies the various related educational processes from a multidisciplinary and multi method approach It aims to offer more insight into underlying mechanisms that are often implicit but can be important factors that positively or negatively influence educational trajectories and outcomes It is essential reading for researchers academics and postgraduate students in the fields of education sociology higher education policy and politics and social and cultural geography
