

About ACPAs

ACPAs is an innovative, dynamic, and resourceful organization, and is building on existing knowledge and practices to successfully implement development projects in the Somali Regional State of Ethiopia, where it has built an extensive network of connections, working closely with local and regional government as well as other partners. Having just opened its third office in Liben zone, ACPAs is ideally situated to roll out complicated projects throughout the Somali Regional State. Furthermore, ACPAs employees are passionate, knowledgeable, and continue to work hard to achieve the organization's goals to increase resilience and equip the most vulnerable to successfully participate in all aspects of society.

Mission and vision

Vision: to see a peaceful, wealthy, healthy, and self-reliant marginalized sector of pastoralist society, that is, the aging and children of the Horn of Africa in general and in particular in the Somali Regional State of Ethiopia

Mission: to achieve a long-lasting solution for the poverty and slowness of development in the pastoral areas through implementing income generating activities, education for development, environmentally friendly livelihood projects and market expansion through innovative and integrated projects.

Published Proceedings , 1995 Becoming Socialized in Student Affairs Administration Ashley Tull, Joan B. Hirt, Sue Saunders, 2023-07-03 Effective socialization of new student affairs professionals is essential both for the individual success of these practitioners and for the work of a college or university that promotes student learning It enables new professionals to manage the important personal and professional transitions they experience throughout their careers engage in continuous professional development and achieve high levels of productivity It also counteracts the high attrition rate among new hires with all the attendant costs to the institution in terms of resources spent on recruiting hiring training supervising and developing staff talent The socialization process for new professionals includes formal and informal elements that influence both success and quality of work life This process is far more complex than a single orientation program organized by a unit or division Rather it is a comprehensive process where both the new professional and organization learn about and from each other in ways that influence working relationships and individual and organizational outcomes Part I of this book defines the concept explains its value and offers a model of socialization Part II examines the institutional context in which the socialization of new professionals occurs and describes how different institutional types influence the socialization process It considers the changing characteristics of college students and how these impact the work of student affairs In addressing the extra institutional and professional contexts Part III considers the role that graduate education plays in preparing new professionals for work in student affairs and offers guidance to faculty and practitioners involved in graduate education about what they can do to introduce graduate students to professional life It addresses the importance of professional orientation activities the roles of supervision and mentorship as well as the impact of peers and institutions on the socialization process It concludes with a discussion of the role and importance of professional associations This book is intended for graduate program faculty for senior student affairs officers concerned about developing and retaining the new staff and for administrators and leaders in student affairs shaping the future of the profession For new professionals themselves it offers insights on the path to professionalization National Trade and Professional Associations of the United States ,2006

Annual Meeting of the Canadian Industrial Relations Association Canadian Industrial Relations Association. Meeting,1997 Sports Law in Australia Andy Gibson,2022-02-21 Derived from the renowned multi volume International Encyclopaedia of Laws this practical analysis of sports law in Australia deals with the regulation of sports activity by both public authorities and private sports organizations. The growing internationalization of sports inevitably increases the weight of global regulation yet each country maintains its own distinct regime of sports law and its own national and local sports organizations. Sports law at a national or organizational level thus gains a growing relevance in comparative law. The book describes and discusses both state created rules and autonomous self regulation regarding the variety of economic social commercial cultural and political aspects of sports activities. Self regulation manifests itself in the form of by laws and encompasses organizational provisions disciplinary rules and rules of play. However the trend towards more professionalism in sports and the growing economic social and cultural relevance of sports have prompted an increasing reliance on legal rules adopted by public authorities. This form of regulation appears in a variety of legal areas including criminal law labour law commercial law tax law competition law and tort law and may vary following a particular type or sector of sport. It is in this dual and overlapping context that such much publicized aspects as doping sponsoring and media and responsibility for injuries are legally measured. This monograph fills a gap in the legal literature by giving academics practitioners sports organizations and policy makers access to sports law at this specific level. Lawyers representing parties with interests in Australia will welcome this very useful guide and academics and researchers will appreciate its value in the study of comparative sports law.
