The Oxford Handbook of Africa and Economics Célestin Monga, Justin Yifu Lin, 2015-07-02 A popular myth about the travails of Africa holds that the continent's long history of poor economic performance reflects the inability of its leaders and policymakers to fulfill the long list of preconditions to be met before sustained growth can be achieved. These conditions are said to vary from the necessary quantity and quality of physical and human capital to the appropriate institutions and business environments. While intellectually charming and often elegantly formulated, that conventional wisdom is actually contradicted by historical evidence and common sense. It also suggests a form of intellectual mimicry that posits a unique path to prosperity for all countries regardless of their level of development and economic structure. In fact, the argument underlining that reasoning is tautological and the policy prescriptions derived from it are fatally teleological. Low income countries are by definition those where such ingredients are missing. None of today's high income countries started its growth process with the required and complete list of growth ingredients. Unless one truly believes that the continent of Africa and most developing countries are ruled predominantly if not exclusively by plutocrats with a high propensity for sadomasochism, the conventional view must be re-examined, debated, and questioned. This volume, the second of the Oxford Handbook of Africa and Economics, reassesses the economic policies and practices observed across the continent since independence. It offers a collection of analyses by some of the leading economists and development thinkers of our time and reflects a wide range of perspectives and viewpoints. Africa's emergence as a potential economic powerhouse in the years and decades ahead amply justifies the scope and ambition of the book.

The Nile River System, Africa Bakenaz A. Zeidan, Aly Islam Metwally Aly, 2024-02-17 The Nile River System Africa Ecohydrology and Management from Catchment to Coast Volume Two provides a critical synthesis of knowledge for an important global region. It covers water availability and needs in the Nile basin focusing on socioeconomic hydrological and ecological aspects and the catchment-coast continuum, also providing the information needed to develop a policy for the river that is less skewed toward immediate human needs and more focused on environmental impacts. Readers will find ecological perspectives, recent stresses, the current status of the basin, and more. The greater integration of ecological and river management themes is the main strength of this book, making it a strong reference for academics and water resources managers as well as fishery experts, aquatic scientists, and social scientists. Provides a basis for improved environmental management of the Nile River basin from its headwaters to the Mediterranean Sea. Presents a multidisciplinary approach covering both environmental and societal needs. Includes case studies from this diverse river that can be applied globally.

Financial Sector Development in Sub-Saharan African Countries Mr. Peter C. Hayward, Mr. George Iden, Mr. Tonny Lybek, Mr. Hassanali

Mehran, Mr. Stephen Swaray, Mr. Piero Ugolini, Jean-Pierre Briffaut, 1998-10-01 This study takes stock of progress made so far in the financial sectors of sub-Saharan African countries. It recommends further reforms and specific measures in the areas of supervision, development of monetary operations and financial markets, external sector liberalization, central bank autonomy and accountability, payments system and central bank accounting and auditing. Aid Activities in Africa 1999

OECD, 1999-05-04 Aid activities in Africa provides detailed information on individual commitments, i.e. intended disbursements of Official Development Assistance (ODA) to African countries for the years 1997 and 1998. This yearly publication records the The Law of Energy for Sustainable Development IUCN Academy of Environmental Law.

Colloquium, 2005 The research focus for the IUCN Academy of Environmental Law in 2003 was a timely and challenging one entitled The Law of Energy for Sustainable Development. As contemporary world politics demonstrates, energy resources and generation are crucial issues facing the international community. As research on energy law at the international, regional and national level is in its infancy, the insights provided by the contributors to this 2005 volume are a significant addition to the field. Indexing Structural Distortion: Sectoral Productivity, Structural Change and Growth Sakai Ando, Koffie Ben

Nassar, 2017-09-20 This paper proposes a new index of sectoral labor distortion using employment and value-added shares. We show that this index is highly correlated with growth both cross-sectionally and over time. We also use it to compare the degree of distortion among countries and identify sectors where the potential payoffs in terms of growth from reforms could be large. The regression analysis in the paper shows that education and various structural reforms have potential to improve the efficiency of sectoral labor allocation. The Palgrave Handbook on China-Europe-Africa Relations Yichao Li, Francisco José B. S. Leandro, Jorge Tavares da Silva, Carlos Rodrigues, 2024 Zusammenfassung This handbook comprehensively covers topics in international relations with a specific focus on China-Europe-Africa relations. This triangular relationship brings substantial contribution for the formation of an emergent new international order. With China being the second largest economy and a growing power in military technology, trade and cultural relations, the book provides decisive research on the key aspects that ground the country's external relations with Europe and Africa. The first three parts of the book cover issues related to strategy, economy and security with specific case studies. In addition, the fourth part not only focuses on China-Europe-Africa but also extends to chapters on multilateralism and relations with other countries, regions and economic communities. In doing so, the book also addresses topics on the Ukraine war, Covid-19, the Belt and Road Initiative, the Global Gateway and the balance of major powers. Yichao Li received her Ph.D. from the Institute for Research on Portuguese Speaking Countries, City University of Macau, China, and a Post-Doc diploma from ISCTE-IUL, Portugal. Currently, she is Assistant Research Fellow at the Institute of African Studies, Zhejiang Normal University, China.
