Rice, 2020 The Oxford Handbook of Digital Technology and Society will equip readers with the necessary starting points and provocations in the fields of social science and technology so that students scholars and policy makers can effectively assess future research practice and policy

Managing Diversity In Singapore: Policies And Prospects Mathews Mathew, Wai Fong Chiang, 2016-05-11 Singapore society is increasingly becoming diverse During the first few decades of nation building policies were designed to homogenise aspects of Singaporean society while enshrining principles to allow restricted amounts of diversity Fast forward to the present and fifty years after independence the number of areas where diversity is profoundly apparent remains copious and its manifestations more varied This book provides an updated account on the tensions posed by diversity in Singapore and how this is being managed primarily by the state through policies and programmes but also by communities who attempt to negotiate these tensions Such an enquiry is crucial especially at this juncture when the nation is finding ways to embrace the different forms of diversity brought about through external impetuses as well as manage internal reactions from the various communities The book chapters highlight important considerations if Singapore's diversity management strategies will hold promise for the future

Governing Global-City Singapore Kenneth Paul Tan, 2016-12-19 This book provides a detailed analysis of how governance in Singapore has evolved since independence to become what it is today and what its prospects might be in a post Lee Kuan Yew future Firstly it discusses the question of political leadership electoral dominance and legislative monopoly in Singapore's one party dominant system and the system's durability Secondly it tracks developments in Singapore's public administration critically analysing the formation and transformation of meritocracy and pragmatism two key components of the state ideology Thirdly it discusses developments within civil society focusing in particular on issues related to patriarchy and feminism hetero normativity and gay activism immigration and migrant worker exploitation and the contest over history and national narratives in academia the media and the arts Fourthly it discusses the PAP government's efforts to connect with the public including its national public engagement exercises that can be interpreted as a subtler approach to social and political control In increasingly complex conditions the state struggles to maintain its hegemony while securing a pre eminent position in the global economic order Tan demonstrates how trends in these four areas converge in ways that signal plausible futures for a post LKY Singapore Reframing Singapore Derek Thiam Soon Heng, Syed Muhd. Khairudin Aljunied, 2009 Over the past two decades Singapore has advanced rapidly towards becoming a both a global city state and a key nodal point in the international economic sphere These developments have caused us to reassess how we understand this changing nation including its history population and geography as well as its transregional and transnational experiences with the external world This collection spans several disciplines in the humanities and social sciences and draws on various theoretical approaches and methodologies in order to produce a more refined understanding of Singapore and to reconceptualize the challenges faced by the country and its peoples Migration and Marriage in Asian Contexts Zheng Mu, Wei-Jun Jean Yeung, 2021-11-29 This book analyses how Asian migrants adapt and assimilate into their host societies and how this assimilation differs across their sociodemographic backgrounds ethnic profiles and political contexts The diversities in Asian migrants assimilation trajectories challenge the assumption that given time migrants will eventually integrate holistically into their host societies This book captures the diverse patterns and trajectories of assimilation by going beyond marriage migration to look at how family formation processes are shaped by migration driven by reasons other than marriage Using quantitative qualitative and mixed method analyses not only does this book uncover the nuances of the link between marriage and migration but it also widens methodological repertoires in research on marriage and migration It also captures various social outcomes that may have been influenced by migration including migrants economic well being cultural assimilation subjective well being and gender inequality vis vis marriages This book further embeds the studies in the Asian contexts by drawing on individual countries unique policies relevant to cross cultural marriages the persistent impacts of extended families the patriarchal traditions and systems of religion and caste The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Ethnic and Migration Studies Language and Society in Singapore Evangelos A. Afendras, Eddie C. Y. Kuo, 1980 The Contemporary Family in Singapore Eddie C. Y. Kuo, Aline K. Wong, 1979 Twelve essays on the sociology of the family in Singapore in the modern period The Making of Singapore Sociology Tong Chee-Kiong, Lian Kwen-Fee, 2021-11-08 This book presents a collection of essays of how the city state of Singapore's societal dynamics have evolved from the time of its birth as a nation in 1965 to the present Key areas of Singapore society are explored contributing to the understanding of the social organisation of the city This study reveals a shift from the modernisation studies in the 1970s to a more political economic turn as a consequence of the influence of dependency and world systems theories Topics covered include urban studies family education medical care class and social stratification work language ethnic groups religion and crime and deviance Tamils, Social Capital and Educational Marginalization in Singapore Lavanya Balachandran, 2021-07-29 Labouring to Learn examines academic mobility pathways among ethnic minority Tamil youths in public secondary schools and vocational institutions in Singapore This book qualitatively examines the interactive effects of race and class on the educational performance of these youths through the lens of social capital

Despite their numerical majoritarian position within the Indian population in Singapore the foreclosed access for Tamils to diverse class networks within the ethnic community as well as limited inter ethnic interactions has historically truncated the means to resources and opportunities for social mobility In schools the narratives shared by Tamil boys and girls from the lower academic streams and economically disadvantaged backgrounds reveal that they typically experience exclusion on account of racial economic and academic marginalisation in their everyday lives Turning to bonding ties among peers and family members provides social support resources that offer some respite from marginalisation On the flipside articulations of resistance ensue among Tamil youths that tangibly take time away from learning and run the danger of strengthening the cultural deficit rhetoric for mainstream society to explain the poor academic performance among ethnic minorities This account of educational marginalisation amongst Singaporean Tamil youths contributes towards understanding social inequality in a non liberal multicultural context where marginalisation is differentially experienced across ethnic minority groups and traced to broader socio historical contexts of migration assimilation and minority majority relations Furthermore it also articulates the utility of a social capital framework in historically revealing how educational inequality emerged and continues to be sustained in a postcolonial context
