Writing the Lost Generation Craig Monk, 2010-11 Members of the Lost Generation American writers and artists who lived in Paris during the 1920s continue to occupy an important place in our literary history Rebelling against increased commercialism and the ebb of cosmopolitan society in early twentieth century America they rejected the culture of what Ernest Hemingway called a place of broad lawns and narrow minds Much of what we know about these iconic literary figures comes from their own published letters and essays revealing how adroitly they developed their own reputations by controlling the reception of their work Surprisingly the literary world has paid less attention to their autobiographies In Writing the Lost Generation Craig Monk unlocks a series of neglected texts while reinvigorating our reading of more familiar ones Well known autobiographies by Malcolm Cowley Ernest Hemingway and Gertrude Stein are joined here by works from a variety of lesser known but still important expatriate American writers including Sylvia Beach Alfred Kreymborg Samuel Putnam and Harold Stearns By bringing together the self reflective works of the Lost Generation and probing the ways the writers portrayed themselves Monk provides an exciting and comprehensive overview of modernist expatriates from the United States

The Lost Generation Ernest Hemingway, Francis Scott Fitzgerald, Richard Aldington, Henri Barbusse, 2020-07-28 The Lost Generation The Sun Also Rises and A Farewell to Arms by Ernest Hemingway The Great Gatsby by Francis Scott Fitzgerald Death of a Hero by Richard Aldington Under Fire The Story of a Squad by Henri Barbusse After the First World War special people returned to their home towns from the front When the war began they were still boys but duty forced them to defend the homeland Lost Generation as they were called This concept is used today when we talk about writers who worked during the breaks between the First and Second World Wars which became a test for all of humanity and were almost all beaten out of their usual peaceful rut One of the themes that commonly appears in the authors works is decadence and the frivolous lifestyle of the wealthy Writers of the lost generation raise in their works the problem of young people who returned from the war and did not find their home their relatives Questions about how to live how to remain human how to learn to enjoy life again this is what is paramount in this literary movement Table of Contents 1 Ernest Hemingway A Farewell to Arms 2 Ernest Hemingway The Sun Also Rises 3 Francis Scott Fitzgerald The Great Gatsby 4 Richard Aldington Death of a Hero 5 Henri Barbusse Under Fire The Story of a Squad The Face of Africa Stan Chu Ilo, 2006 This book is a call on Africans and non Africans to once more believe in the possibility of a better future for Africa In these pages Stan Chu Ilo writes of his experience and the experiences of many young Africans like himself who are disturbed by the present condition of Africa He writes about the challenges facing most Africans who are growing up in the African continent without any hope of quality education without any guarantee of adequate food water housing and clothing without any hope of getting a job and without any prospect of living in peace with their neighbors He writes of the sad situation of millions of young Africans who are dying of malaria and HIV AIDS and the African women whose fate and fortune have been shackled by a male dominated society He questions the bases of the existence of the failed states of Africa who are caught up in a cycle of violence and disorder and who are not asking the right questions about the future of their nations He argues that corruption excessive authoritarianism a stubborn hold on power and lack of openness to consensus building among some African leaders insult the cultural value of Africans with regard to a sense of community love and solidarity He also writes of the pain of globalization the debt burden immigration and trade restrictions on Africans and African countries exploitation of ordinary Africans by fellow Africans and Western governments and business conglomerates He wonders why many Western nations should turn their backs on Africa when they all share some responsibility in bringing Africa to her knees However even though many Africans have become exhausted in the battle for national survival and for a living space to pursue their ordered ends this book proposes that Africans should not claim perpetual victimhood rather they should stand up once more and work for a better tomorrow which is possible and within their reach Ilo insists that the imposing mountains of economic and social ruin the rising moans and groans of numberless Africans should not weaken the inner energy and ardent hopes of millions of Africans struggling against the untested assumption that the cracking social political and economic foundations of present day Africa are incapable of supporting the structures of a new Africa The face of Africa today is ugly but behind the ugly face is the beauty that has been distorted by historical and cultural factors The present condition of Africa is only the sign of the urgent need for the peoples of Africa to brace up for the long and hard journey to reclaim their future Ilo outlines how non Africans who are interested in the African condition can be involved with the peoples of Africa A proper understanding of the African continent and her peoples her history and cultural evolution is a necessary first step for those who wish to be engaged with the Africans His total picture approach model as the key to interpreting the African condition and in comprehensively addressing the challenges facing Africa offers a helpful and original tool in understanding Africa It helps to overcome the stereotypes prejudices and paternalism which non Africans apply in their reading of African history and their relation with the African reality With masterly skills a keen sense of history a balanced perspective and objectivity Ilo identifies the constraints to growth and innovation in Africa in terms of the low stocks in the human capital and cultural development He introduces a new concept in the interpretation of the African condition homelessness in terms of cultural and existential crises that confront Africans today His conclusion is that cultural and human development is the irreducible decimal in any proposal for the transformation of the continent that grassroots village based action should be preferred over bogus and unworkable national approaches to African development Values in Western Societies Ruud de

Moor, 2023-12-28 The European Values Study is a large scale cross national and longitudinal survey research program on basic human values initiated by the European Value Systems Study Group EVSSG in the late 1970s at that time an informal grouping of academics Now it is carried on in the setting of a foundation using the abbreviated name of the group European Values Study EVS The EVSSG aimed at designing and conducting a major empirical study of the moral and social values underlying European social and political institutions and governing conduct A rich academic literature has now been created around the original survey and numerous other works have made use of the findings American Fiction, American Myth Philip Young, David Morrell, Sandra Spanier, 2010-11 Few experts in American literature have written as insightfully and brilliantly as did Philip Young renowned Hemingway critic and scholar at large His unique work bursts with a joy in the humanities with a sensibility a humor and a style that communicate to academics and general readers alike Although Young died in 1991 he survives in his remarkable prose American Fiction American Myth features nineteen groundbreaking essays in which Young masterfully reveals the so what that he insisted all literary studies ought to have In the first section he demonstrates his fascination with such American myths as Pocahontas and Rip Van Winkle reaching powerful conclusions about America and its people In the second section he becomes Our Hemingway Man explaining his germinal and still provocative theory that Hemingway s severe wounding in World War I so traumatized the novelist that his fiction was to a great degree unwitting self psychoanalysis Young s book on Hemingway was the first of its kind but Young was more than a one author critic as his essays demonstrate in the third section exploring such diverse topics as Hawthorne s secret love the Lost Generation that was never lost F Scott Fitzgerald s debt to T S Eliot and the relationship between American fiction and American life What Hemingway once said about himself can be equally applied to Young I am a very serious but not a solemn writer The reader comes away from these essays dazzled by the power of Young s observations and the grace with which he expresses them

In the Footsteps of Spanish Colonialism in Morocco and Equatorial Guinea Yolanda Aixelà Cabré,2018 The failure to manage cultural diversity in Morocco and Equatorial Guinea in an egalitarian manner has been linked to the hallmark of colonialism First because the policy practiced upon Arabs and Moroccan Imazighen since the French colonization comprised one of the reasonings employed to justify the pro Arab policies developed after independence Second because the discriminatory policy deployed by Spain in Equatorial Guinea was overridden by the installation of a dictatorship that established a system of Fang predominance This book clarifies the degree to which the Spanish colonization is responsible for the present day management of cultural diversity in both countries

Cultural Heritage of the Great War in Britain Ross J. Wilson,2016-04-22 As the hundredth anniversary approaches it is timely to reflect not only upon the Great War itself and on the memorials which were erected to ensure it did not slip from national consciousness but also to reflect upon its rich and substantial cultural legacy This book examines the heritage of the Great War in contemporary Britain It addresses how the war maintains a place and value within British society through the usage of phrases references metaphors and imagery within popular media heritage and political discourse Whilst the representation of the war within historiography literature art television and film has been examined by scholars seeking to understand the origins of the popular memory of the conflict these analyses have neglected how and why wider popular debate draws upon a war fought nearly a century ago to express ideas about identity place and politics By examining the history usage and meanings of references to the Great War within local and national newspapers historical societies political publications and manifestos the heritage sector popular expressions blogs and internet chat rooms an analysis of the discourses which structure the remembrance of the war can be created The book acknowledges the diversity within Britain as different regional and national identities draw upon the war as a means of expression Whilst utilising the substantial field of heritage studies this book puts forward a new methodology for assessing cultural heritage and creates an original perspective on the place of the Great War across contemporary British society
