Millennial Ecuador Norman E Whitten, 2003-12 In the past decade Ecuador has seen five indigenous uprisings the emergence of the powerful Pachakutik political movement and the strengthening of the Confederation of Indigenous Nationalities of Ecuador and the Association of Black Ecuadorians all of which have contributed substantially to a new constitution proclaiming the country to be multiethnic and multicultural Furthermore January 2003 saw the inauguration of a new populist president who immediately appointed two indigenous persons to his cabinet In this volume eleven critical essays plus a lengthy introduction and a timely epilogue explore the multicultural forces that have allowed Ecuador s indigenous peoples to have such dramatic effects on the nation s political structure

Practically Invisible Kimbra Smith, 2015-11-11 The community of Agua Blanca deep within the Machalilla National Park on the coast of Ecuador found itself facing the twenty first century with a choice embrace a booming tourist industry eager to experience a preconceived notion of indigeneity or risk losing a battle against the encroaching forces of capitalism and development The facts spoke for themselves however as tourism dollars became the most significant source of income in the community Thus came a nearly inevitable shock as the daily rhythms of life rising before dawn to prepare for a long day of maintaining livestock and crops returning for a late lunch and siesta joining in a game of soccer followed by dinner in the evening transformed forever in favor of a new tourist industry and the compromises required to support it As Practically Invisible demonstrates for Agua Blancans becoming a supposedly authentic version of their own indigenous selves required performing their culture for outsiders thus becoming these performances within the minds of these visitors At the heart of this story then is a delicate balancing act between tradition and survival a performance experienced by countless indigenous groups

Ideaz. Issue 14, 2016 Ian Boxill,Michael Barnett,Clinton Hutton,2016-11-01 Identity, Development, and the Politics of the Past Daniel Bauer,2018-08-20 Combining personal narrative and ethnography Identity Development and the Politics of the Past examines cultural change in a rural Ecuadorian fishing village where the community has worked to stake claim to an Indigenous identity in the face of economic social and political integration By documenting how villagers have reconstructed their identity through the use of archaeology and political demarcation of territory author Daniel Bauer shows that ethnicity is part of a complex social matrix that involves politics economics and history Residents in the coastal community of Salango pushed for formal recognition of Indigenous identity while highlighting their pre Hispanic roots in order to make claims about cultural continuity and ancestrality Bauer considers the extent to which the politics of identity is embedded in the process of community based development paying close attention to how local conceptions of identity and residents ideas about their own identity and the identities of others fit within the broader context of Ecuadorian and Latin American notions of mestizaje

He emphasizes ethnogenesis and the fluid nature of identity as residents reference prehistory and the archaeological record as anchor points for claims to an Indigenous ethnic identity Identity Development and the Politics of the Past moves beyond existing studies that center on questions of authenticity and instead focuses on the ways people make claims to identity This book makes a significant contribution to the growing body of literature on the Ecuadorian coast and directs scholars who focus on Ecuador to expand their focus beyond the highland and Amazonian regions It will be of interest to students and scholars of Latin American studies anthropology ethnology economic development and ethnic identity Blackness in the Andes J. Rahier, 2014-01-22 This book examines in Andean national contexts the impacts of the Latin American multicultural turn of the past two decades on Afro Andean cultural politics emphasizing both transformations and continuities
