Language and Business Sylvia-Michèle Sternkopf, 2004-07-28 Inhaltsangabe Abstract Small and medium sized enterprises SMEs are the backbone of the German economy Against the background of continuing globalisation they are increasingly faced with the challenge of internationalisation This study was designed as an empirical investigation of how well SMEs in the federal state of Saxony are prepared for this task of the future which measures they take in order to market their products and services in the global marketplace and it tries to identify their strengths and weaknesses in this respect The very nature of this thesis is thus a truly interdisciplinary approach investigating marketing aspects as well as linguistic factors The main focus was on the language small and medium sized companies use for their international communications English has long become the lingua franca of the globalising economy and this study set out to investigate how well SMEs are prepared to meet the linguistic requirements imposed on them by global business Enterprises in the new German states are widely believed to be disadvantaged with regard to their communicative competence in English since English played only a minor role for decades but has risen to decisive significance within the past couple of years taking many companies and their employees by surprise finding them not as well prepared as their colleagues in the old German states Still finding their way to the new export markets in Western Europe the Americas and Asia are vital for the survival of Saxon economy and communicative competence in English as the lingua franca of international business is the major prerequisite for achieving this objective Corporate communicative competence involves various aspects including the foreign language skills of the employees covering the entire range of linguistic skills from oral communication including listening and speaking giving presentations or participating in negotiations to writing skills ranging from reading and writing of various text types including media literacy Apart from the personal linguistic competence of the employees the corporate linguistic competence of the company also plays a major role for the perception of the company on its international markets Therefore this study focused on investigating how well SMEs present themselves in their corporate literature and on the internet which instruments from the wide ranging selection of marketing tools they apply for communicating

Principles of Marketing

Geoffrey Randall,1993 Building Europe Cris Shore,2013-11-05 The development of the European Union has been one of the most profound advances in European politics and society this century Yet the institutions of Europe and the Eurocrats who work in them have constantly attracted negative publicity culminating in the mass resignation of the European Commissioners in March 1999 In this revealing study Cris Shore scrutinises the process of European integration using the techniques of anthropology and drawing on thought from across the social sciences Using the findings of numerous interviews with EU employees he reveals that there is not just a subculture of corruption within the institutions of Europe but that their problems are largely a result of the way the EU itself is constituted and run He argues that European integration has largely failed in bringing about anything but an ever closer integration of the technical political and financial elites of Europe at the expense of its ordinary citizens This critical anthropology of European integration is essential reading for anyone with an interest in the culture and politics of the EU
