Mind The Gaps Singapore Business In China:

Mind the Gaps Sree Kumar, Sharon Siddique, Yuwa Wong, 2005 Provides an analysis of how to be successful in China especially for the Singapore business community Singapore-china Relations: 50 Years Yongnian Zheng, Liang Fook Lye, 2015-11-06 Showcasing the substantive and multi faceted Singapore China relationship this book examines the political economic socio cultural people to people and even military exchanges between the two countries It also highlights flagship projects and other key private sector led projects that have become hallmarks of bilateral cooperation The book argues that the current level of cooperation is built on the earlier foundation laid by Lee Kuan Yew and Deng Xiaoping In a way the bilateral relationship is a unique one For one Deng Xiaoping had singled out Singapore as a model for China's reforms and China today continues to find Singapore's experience relevant Singapore is also learning from China in the process The two countries also have a number of bilateral institutional mechanisms that have become more important in reviewing existing cooperation and identifying new ways of working together Rather than simply provide an overview of bilateral relations the book highlights the unique or distinguishing features of the Singapore China relationship The Oxford Handbook of Business Groups Asli M. Colpan, Takashi Hikino, James R. Lincoln, 2010-08-06 Business groups large diversified often family controlled organizations with pyramidal ownership structure such as the Japanese zaibatsu the Korean chaebol and the grupos economicos in Latin America have played a significant role in national economic growth especially in emerging economies Earlier variants can also be found in the trading companies often set up in Britain which operated in Asia Africa and Latin America Business groups are often criticized as premodern forms of economic organization and occasionally as symptomatic of corrupt crony capitalism but many have shown remarkable resilience navigating and adjusting to economic and political turbulence international competition and technological change This Handbook provides a comprehensive analysis of business groups around the world It examines the adaptive and competitive capabilities of business groups and their evolutionary dynamics 16 individual country chapters deal with business groups from Asia to Africa the Middle East to Latin America while overarching chapters consider the historical and theoretical context of business groups With contributions from leading experts The Oxford Handbook of business groups provides a comprehensive empirically and theoretically rich guide for scholars and policy makers Southeast Asia in China Ying-kit Chan, Chang-Yau Hoon, 2022-11-28 As part of China's south Southeast Asia has historically assumed a peripheral position when juxtaposed against the power of the Chinese state In the existing scholarly literature the power asymmetry is reflected in the ostensible bias where most studies are about China's presence in or engagement with Southeast Asia rather than the reverse studies on the presence or influence of Southeast Asia in China have been a marginal enterprise The present volume aims to fill this void by exploring the historical entanglements and contemporary engagements of Southeast Asians in China through a Southeast Asian perspective As China seeks to understand Southeast Asia's presence in the country on its own terms it is also engaged in a process of self discovery and defining where and how it should stand in relation to the region Departing from the discourse of China as the a priori center dominating the scholarship on China Southeast Asia relations the present volume hopes to subvert such power relations in order to bring fresh perspectives on the historical and contemporary contributions of Southeast Asia ns in China

Transnational Communities Marie-Laure Djelic, Sigrid Quack, 2010-05-20 Transnational communities are social groups that emerge from mutual interaction across national boundaries oriented around a common project or imagined identity This common project or identity is constructed and sustained through the active engagement and involvement of at least some of its members Such communities can overlap in different ways with formal organizations but in principle they do not need formal organization to be sustained This book explores the role of transnational communities in relation to the governance of business and economic activity It does so by focusing on a wide range of empirical terrains including discussions of the Laleli market in Istanbul the institutionalization of private equity in Japan the transnational movement for open content licenses and the mobilization around environmental certification These studies show that transnational communities can align the cognitive and normative orientations of their members over time and thereby influence emergent transnational governance arrangements

Public Space In Urban Asia William Siew Wai Lim, 2013-12-16 Over the past few decades rapid urbanisation has threatened to erode public space especially in emerging economies Market forces that prioritise profit generation are allowed to construct venues of consumption in its place Though their physical appearance may resemble traditional public space in reality they are greatly restrictive and diminished in affordability accessibility and social meaning It is in this context that William SW Lim chairman of Asian Urban Lab has brought together architects designers historians sociologists and urbanists from the region to discuss public space in selected Asian cities Part One contains essays from participants from Chongqing Hong Kong Jakarta Kuala Lumpur Singapore and Taipei and observations from commentators Several essays by William SW Lim on the subject round off the discussion in Part Two The thoughtful essays in Public Space in Urban Asia emphasise how engaging with the present actuality of cities and public awareness of spatial justice in cities are crucial for it is the achievement of spatial justice that will help create a greater level of happiness across societies in our increasingly urbanised world of Singapore's thought leaders. They come from different sectors of the Singapore's society. Each of them has written an essay on India's past or present or future. The book includes essays on Nalanda University, Amaravati, India, Singapore Comprehensive Economic Cooperation Agreement, and the Regional Comprehensive Economic Partnership. On the lighter side, the book contains two charming essays by Ambassador Karen Tan and Eirliani Abdul Rahman on their time in India. The book's foreword is written by Mr. Goh Chok Tong, Singapore's second Prime Minister. It was Mr. Goh who overcame prejudice and inertia and launched a new beginning in Singapore-India relations. This publication is a candid reflection of India and India-Singapore relations by Singaporeans who carry the hope that India will rise above its challenges to join the ranks of the great nations of the world. It will be of interest to

Singaporeans who are interested in India and Indians who are interested in Singapore. Confucianism Reconsidered Xiufeng Liu, Wen Ma, 2018-05-31. This is one of the first books to explicitly address twenty-first century education from a Confucian perspective. The contributors focus on why Confucianism is relevant to both American and Chinese education, how Confucian pedagogical principles can be applied to diverse sociocultural settings, and what the social and moral functions of a Confucianism-based education are. Prominent scholars explore a wide range of research areas and methods, such as K-12 and college teaching, conceptual comparisons, case studies, and discourse analysis, that reflect the depth and breadth of Confucian ideas and the divergent contexts in which Confucian principles and practices may be applied. This book not only enriches the research literature on Confucianism from an interdisciplinary perspective but also offers fresh insights into Confucianism's continuing relevance and its compatibility with the latest research-based pedagogical practices.
