Business Rule-Oriented Conceptual Modeling Holger Herbst, 2012-12-06 This book is based on a PhD dissertation which was accepted by the faculty of Law and Economics at the University of Bern Switzerland The ideas presented were partially developed in a research project founded by the Swiss National Science

Foundation in 1993 and 1994 This research project was concerned with evaluating the application of database triggers and active databases for the implementation of business rules We recognized among other things the lack of a methodology for modeling such business rules on the conceptual level Therefore this became the focus of the follow up research which resulted in this book All this work would not have been possible without the help of several people First of all I would like to give special thanks to my thesis supervisor Prof Dr Gerhard Knolmayer He not only initiated the research project and found an industry partner but also provided very valuable ideas and critically reviewed and discussed the resulting publications Furthermore I would like to express my thanks to the second thesis supervisor Prof Dr Sham Navathe from Georgia Institute of Technology who influenced my work with results from a former research project and who agreed to evaluate the resulting PhD Dissertation

Psychoanalysis and Management Michael Hofmann, Monika List, 2013-11-11 Managers are confronted with many difficult demands which are still unknown to them Gaining a better knowledge for unconscious ways of human behavior and their motivations is very important This book introduces research work to European readers by selected contributions from leading psychoanalytically oriented management theorists and clinicians The authors deal with different topics such as leadership corporate culture family business organizational stress career dynamics and so on All of them try to win an understanding and insight into conscious unconscious rational and irrational behavior The purpose of this book is fulfilled if this knowledge can be practiced in order to achieve improvements for the cooperation between people in general

New Trends in Banking Management Constantin Zopounidis, 2012-12-06 During the last decades the globalization the intensified competition and the rapid changes in the socio economic and technological environment had a major impact on the global economic financial and business environments Within this environment it is clear that banking institutions worldwide face new challenges and increasing risks as well as increasing business potentials The recent experience shows that achieving a sustainable development of the banking system is not only of interest to the banking institutions themselves but it is also directly related to the development of the whole business and economic environment both at regional and international level The variety of new banking products that is constantly being developed to accommodate the increased customer needs firms organizations individuals etc provides a clear indication of the changes that the banking industry has undergone during the last two decades The establishment of new products of innovative processes and instruments for their requires the implementation efficient management The implementation of such processes and instruments is closely related to a variety of disciplines advanced quantitative analysis for risk management information technology quality management etc The implementation of these approaches in banking management is in accordance with the finding that empirical procedures are no longer adequate to address the increasing complexity of the banking industry

Current Topics in Quantitative Finance Elio Canestrelli, 2012-12-06 The present volume collects a selection of revised papers which were presented at the 21st Euro Working Group on Financial Modelling Meeting held in Venice Italy on October 29-31 1997 The Working Group was founded in September 1986 in Lisbon with the objective of providing an international forum for the exchange of information and experience encouraging research and interaction between financial economic theory and practice of financial decision making as well as circulating information among universities and financial institutions throughout Europe The attendance to the Meeting was large and highly qualified More than 80 participants coming from 20 different Countries debated on 5 invited lectures and 40 communications in regular sessions The sessions were located at the Island of San Servolo on the Venetian lagoon just in front of the Doges Palace San Servolo Island is a natural oasis in the midst of a unique urban setting offering great relaxation in a peaceful park and a panoramic view of Venice The friendly atmosphere added great benefit to the formal and informal discussions among the participants which is typical of E W G F M Meetings It is interesting to consider the story of the Meeting The previous locations were held at Cyprus Crete and Dubrovnik former milestones of the Venetian Republic influence on the Mediterranean Sea Therefore that this Meeting should be harboured in the heart of the Republic itself namely the Saint Mark basin was only a matter of consequence

Management Competence Andreas Enders, 2012-12-06 Eight years ago the production management department of the WHU launched the industry competition Best Factory Industrial Excellence Award jointly with the media partner Wirtschaftswoche in Germany Two years earlier the competition had been initiated successfully by INSEAD faculty in France Over the years the joint research team experienced first hand that application of Management Quality was a key driver of continuous improvement along the firm's core business processes Moreover those companies that exhibited the highest improvement rates achieved mostly the best business results compared to their industry benchmarks Andreas Enders accompanied us for five rounds of the competition as program manager for the German competition His contributions among others the launch of our web site www.beste-fabrik.de are greatly acknowledged by the academic advisory team The findings of the industry competition greatly influenced this thesis on Management Competence Initially the main research question though was to provide a theoretic foundation and an empirical test for the seven factor Management Quality model as defined in our recent book on Industrial Excellence Management Quality consists of strategy formulation and deployment combined with delegation of tasks to workers and their participation In addition measurement integration communication and training complement the main levers While there exist numerous studies on superior business performance and key success factors there are few sound empirical studies available to date on operational performance and sustained business success

Empirical Research on the German Capital Market Wolfgang Bühler, Herbert

Hax,Reinhart Schmidt,2012-12-06 This collection of fifteen original articles results from a cooperative intensive program of research on the German capital market The program objectives included the development of expertise in modern empirical methods in financial economics and the derivation of results that might be specific to the German capital market The four parts of the book are dedicated to problems of market structure and organization information and capital market risk and return futures and options Altogether the book gives an overview of empirical research on capital markets in Germany and helps to understand their nature It also shows the application of modern techniques in financial research Automotive

Production Systems and Standardisation Constanze Clarke,2006-03-30 In January 2000 Mercedes Benz started to implement the Mercedes Benz Production System MPS throughout its world wide passenger car plants This event is exemplary of a trend within the automotive industry the creation and introduction of company specific standardised production systems It gradually emerged with the introduction of the Chrysler Operating System COS in the mid 1990s and represents a distinct step in the process towards implementing the universal principles of lean thinking as propagated by the MIT study For the academic field of industrial sociology and labour policy the emergence of this trend seems to mark a new stage in the evolution of the debate about production systems in the automotive industry Jürgens 2002 2 particularly as it seems to undermine the stand of the critics of the one best way model Boyer and Freysenet 1995 The introduction of company level standardised production systems marks the starting point of the present study At the core of it is a case study about the Mercedes Benz Production System MPS

Why Managers and Companies Take Risks Les Coleman,2007-05-23 This book uses risk in its dictionary meaning as the probability of an undesirable outcome and has two research questions when managers make decisions what leads them to choose a risky alternative and what determines whether the decision proves correct Answers to these questions form a model of decision making that explains the process and results of managers risk taking in the real world There is an extensive literature on risk and decision making because the topic has been of interest in many disciplines since at least the 18 century Thus insights on the research questions are available from studies of animals humans and organisations and have been drawn by scholars in biology psychology finance and management Even so there is a large gap as most studies are conducted away from corporate settings and use subjects with limited decision experience The few studies set in real world conditions tend to concentrate on just a single aspect of decision makers attributes setting and behaviour and on either decision choices or outcomes The empirical work in this book is designed to fill part of this gap

Decision Making Structures Mario S. Catalani,Giuseppe F. Clerico,2012-12-06 This book is the culmination of many years research inspired by the pioneering and seminal works of Sah and Stiglitz We gratefully acknowledge the influence of these two authors whose ideas and contributions have brought us together on this collaboration despite our divergent scientific backgrounds while Catalani is interested in quantitative methods Clerico is a non quantitative economist We thank the Editor of the Rivista Internazionale di Scienze Economiche e Commerciali for permission to use slightly modified versions

Discrete Choice Experiments in Marketing Klaus Zwerina, 2013-06-29 The chapter starts with a positioning of this dissertation in the marketing discipline It then provides a comparison of the two most popular methods for studying consumer preferences choices namely conjoint analysis and discrete choice experiments Chapter 1 continues with a description of the context of discrete choice experiments Subsequently the research problems and the objectives of this dissertation are discussed The chapter concludes with an outline of the organization of this dissertation

1 Positioning of the Dissertation During this century increasing globalization and technological progress has forced companies to undergo rapid and dramatic changes for some a threat for others it offers new opportunities Companies have to survive in a Darwinian marketplace where the principle of natural selection applies Marketplace success goes to those companies that are able to produce marketable value Le products and services that others are willing to purchase Kotler 1997 Every company must be engaged in new product development to create the new products customers want because competitors will do their best to supply them Besides offering competitive advantages new products usually lead to sales growth and stability As household incomes increase and consumers become more selective firms need to know how consumers respond to different features and appeals Successful products and services begin with a thorough understanding of consumer needs and wants Stated otherwise companies need to know about consumer preferences to manufacture tailor made products consumers are willing to buy

Organisation and Work Beyond 2000 Birger Rapp, Paul Jackson, 2012-02-02 The fifth International Telework Workshop was held in Stockholm in the fall of 2000 The conference was attended by almost 100 participants from all continents of the world It therefore covered a broad range of subjects relating to Telework Its success was in some part due to the work of the program committee composed of Birger Rapp General Chairman Maarten Botterman Geoff Dick Gil Gordon Ursula Huws Paul Jackson Peter Johnston Patricia L Mokhtarian Victor de Pous Lars Qvotrup Wendy Spinks and Reirna Suomi After the conference we decided to write a book on the theme Organization and the future after 2000 Many of the participants as well as others were invited to contribute a chapter of about ten pages The resulting book of almost 400 pages therefore provides a comprehensive overview of ongoing research in the field of Telework Birger Rapp and Paul Jackson edited the book The intended audience for this book spans disciplinary and professional boundaries It primarily relates to the disciplines of Business and Management Studies Information Management E commerce and E business In a broader sense it relates to Sociology Media Studies and Economics

Intellectual Property Management Klaus Jennewein,2006-03-30 Innovation is a source of competitive advantage In other words firms may leverage innovation to generate rents at least temporarily And this is intended to be a self sustained business model part of the rent extracted from the market may be re invested into new technological developments which in turn permit additional innovations thus regenerating the sources of rents This is the positive loop of innovation In this sense business would be a permanent hunt for innovations in search of rents Yet innovations need to be protected if firms want to benefit from rents over long periods of time However the strategic management literature tends to suggest that patents are a weak protection against aggressive imitators Secrecy may help but we also know that technology ends up leaking in most cases Speed in new developments to cut time to market may be another way of protecting the technological advance of the firm But again this may not be enough as start ups may out compete the established firm in the race for innovation This is where Dr Klaus Jennewein s key idea comes into the picture The core of his thesis is that brand equity may be combined to technological protections such as patents to build a multi layer complex intricate shield to protect the sources of rents against competitors and imitators

Economics and Management of Franchising Networks Josef Windsperger,Gérard Cliquet,George Hendrikse,Mika Tuunanen,2012-12-06 Franchising networks are experiencing great success in international business organization Few books try to explain the characteristics of these networks Contrary to the existing literature this book tackles more theoretical problems related to governance organization knowledge management contract design incentive and regulation issues both from the economic and management view point It delivers new theoretical and empirical results regarding plural forms contract design and knowledge and strategic management issues Its purpose is to offer researchers and practitioners new theoretical and empirical insights in one of the most important economic phenomenon at the beginning of the 21st century Franchising networks as organizational arrangement for growth and internationalization of firms

The Intelligent Enterprise Markus J. Thannhuber,2006-03-30 In today s competitive environments enterprises face diminishing market life spans increasing pressure on profit margins and increasingly complex customer requirements. Thus in their operations modern organizations have to find a high level balance between dynamics, complexity and precision in order to best utilize their markets. Organization Theory and Industrial Engineering disciplines on hand helping industry to cope with this challenge soon identified process optimizations as the key to possible solutions. Many efforts have been undertaken to provide sound theoretical models to deal with complexity and dynamics and streamline business processes. These efforts on the one hand helped companies to be more precise in carrying out their actions and even provided solutions to produce customized products at near mass production prices. Mass Customization. On the other hand it turned out to be one of the most difficult tasks to generalize and transfer experiences gained in one process reengineering project to another and put the theoretical models into practice. Not without reason is it the extremely high failure rate of business process reengineering projects that today deters most enterprises from entering such adventures. Right at the same time there emerged a new and highly promising scientific branch Knowledge Management that attracted many disciplines among others again Organization Theory and Industrial Engineering. Knowledge was identified as a major production factor. In industrialized countries value added is mainly raised by the intellectual abilities of a company's workforce. Models and Methods for Management Science Hao Zhang, 2022-08-18. This textbook introduces systems science as an entry point to present a basic introduction to research models and methods in management science operation research. This textbook selects the classic quantitative models and methods as well as rich cases and detailed examples which are suitable for students with a certain management and economics knowledge for further study and helps to develop the abilities of using the basic models in real life. Advanced Planning in Fresh Food Industries Matthias Lütke Entrup, 2006-03-30. Production planning in fresh food industries is a challenging task. Although modern Advanced Planning and Scheduling APS systems could provide significant support APS implementation numbers in these industries remain low. Therefore based on an in depth analysis of three sample fresh food industries dairy fresh and processed meat the author evaluates what APS systems should offer in order to effectively support production planning and how the leading systems currently handle the most distinguishing characteristic of fresh food industries the short product shelf life. Starting from the identified weaknesses customized software solutions for each of the sample industries are proposed that allow to optimize the production of fresh foods with respect to shelf life. The book thereby offers valuable insights not only to researchers but also to software providers of APS systems and professionals from fresh food industries.
