Models In Archaeology:

Models in Archaeology David L. Clarke,2014-10-24 This major study reflects the increasing significance of careful model formation and testing in those academic subjects that are struggling from intuitive and aesthetic obscurantism toward a more disciplined and integrated approach to their fields of study The twenty six original contributions represent the carefully selected work of progressive archaeologists around the world covering the use of models on archaeological material of all kinds and from all periods from Palaeolithic to Medieval Their common theme is archaeological generalisation by means of explicit model building testing modification and reapplication The contributors seek to show that it is the use of certain models in particular ways that defines archaeology as the practice of one discipline with a set of general tenets that are as applicable in Peru as in Persia Australia as Alaska Sweden as Scotland on material from the second millennium B C to the second millennium A D They assert that careful model formulation within archaeology and the cautious exchange and testing of models within and beyond the discipline provides the only route to the formation of the common internationally valid body of theory which defines a vigorous and coherent discipline and distinguishes it from being a collection of merely regionally applicable special cases Nonlinear Models for Archaeology and Anthropology William W. Baden,2016-12-05 The dominant social theory used by archaeologists has tended to focus on either small scale agency or large scale cultural patterns and processes of change The authors of this volume argue that archaeologists should use nonlinear models to more accurately model the connections between scales of analysis and show how micro scale variation can lead to macro scale cultural change This work examines the applications of nonlinear systems models within archaeology and evaluates the range of approaches currently encompassed within Complexity Theory Cognitive Models in Palaeolithic Archaeology Thomas Grant Wynn,Frederick Lawrence Coolidge,2017 Cognitive Models in Palaeolithic Archaeology grew out of a specialized thematic session that we organized for the 2013 meeting of the European Society for the Study of Human Evolution Preface Nonlinear Models for Archaeology and Anthropology Christopher Stockard Beekman,William W. Baden,2005

Springer Handbook of Model-Based Science Lorenzo Magnani,Tommaso Bertolotti,2017-05-22 This handbook offers the first comprehensive reference guide to the interdisciplinary field of model based reasoning It highlights the role of models as mediators between theory and experimentation and as educational devices as well as their relevance in testing hypotheses and explanatory functions The Springer Handbook merges philosophical cognitive and epistemological perspectives on models with the more practical needs related to the application of this tool across various disciplines and practices The result is a unique reliable source of information that guides readers toward an understanding of different aspects of model based science such as the theoretical and cognitive nature of models as well as their practical and logical aspects The inferential role of models in hypothetical reasoning abduction and creativity once they are constructed adopted and manipulated for different scientific and technological purposes is also discussed Written by a group of internationally renowned experts in philosophy the history of science general epistemology mathematics cognitive and computer science physics and life sciences as well as engineering architecture and economics this Handbook uses numerous diagrams schemes and other visual representations to promote a better understanding of the concepts This also makes it highly accessible to an audience of scholars and students with different scientific backgrounds All in all the Springer Handbook of Model Based Science represents the definitive application oriented reference guide to the interdisciplinary field of model based reasoning

Analytical Archaeology David L. Clarke,2014-10-24 This study was well established as a pioneer work on archaeological methodology the theoretical basis of all archaeological analysis whatever the period or era The first edition of the book presented and evaluated the radical changes in methodology which derived from developments in other disciplines such as cybernetics computer science and geography during the 1950s and 60s It argued that archaeology was a coherent discipline with its own methods and procedures and attempted to define the entities attributes artefacts types assemblages cultures and culture groups rigorously and consistently so that they could be applied to archaeological data The later edition continued the same general theory which is unparalleled in its scope and depth adding notes to help understanding of the advances in method and theory to support the student and professional archaeologist Review of the original publication One might venture that this is the most important archaeological work for twenty or thirty years and it will undoubtedly influence several future generations of archaeologists The Times Literary Supplement Geoarchaeology Carlos Cordova,2018-08-30 Geoarchaeology is traditionally concerned with reconstructing the environmental aspects of past societies using the methods of the earth sciences The field has been steadily enriched by scholars from a diversity of disciplines and much has happened as the importance of global perspectives on environmental change has emerged Carlos Cordova provides a fully up to date account of geoarchaeology that reflects the important changes that have occurred in the past four decades Innovative features include the development of the human ecological approach and the impact of technology on this approach how the diversity of disciplines contributes to archaeological questions frontiers of archaeology in the deep past particularly the Anthropocene the geoarchaeology of the contemporary past the emerging field of ethno geoarchaeology the role of geoarchaeology in global environmental crises and climate change Handbook of Archaeological Sciences A. Mark Pollard,Ruth Ann Armitage,Cheryl A. Makarewicz,2023-02-09 HANDBOOK OF ARCHAEOLOGICAL SCIENCES A modern and comprehensive introduction to methods and techniques in archaeology In the newly revised Second Edition of the Handbook of Archaeological Sciences a team of more than 100 researchers delivers a comprehensive and accessible overview of modern methods used in the archaeological sciences The book covers all relevant approaches to obtaining and analyzing archaeological data including dating methods quaternary paleoenvironments human bioarchaeology biomolecular archaeology and archaeogenetics resource exploitation archaeological prospection and assessing the decay and conservation of specimens Overview chapters introduce readers to the relevance of each area followed by contributions from leading experts that provide detailed technical knowledge and application examples Readers will also find A thorough introduction to human bioarchaeology including hominin evolution and paleopathology The use of biomolecular analysis to characterize past environments Novel approaches to the analysis of archaeological materials that shed new light on early human lifestyles and societies In depth explorations of the statistical and computational methods relevant to archaeology Perfect for graduate and advanced undergraduate students of archaeology the Handbook of Archaeological Sciences will also earn a prominent place in the libraries of researchers and professionals with an interest in the geological biological and genetic basis of archaeological studies Simulating Transitions to Agriculture in Prehistory Salvador Pardo-Gordó,Sean Bergin,2022-01-24 This book highlights new and innovative approaches to archaeological research using computational modeling while focusing on the Neolithic transition around the world The transformative effect of the spread and adoption of agriculture in prehistory cannot be overstated Consequently archaeologists have often focused their research on this transition hoping to understand both the ecological causes and impacts of this shift as well as the social motivations and constraints involved Given the complex interplay of socio ecological factors the answers to these types of questions cannot be found using traditional archaeological methods alone Computational modeling techniques have emerged as an effective approach for better understanding prehistoric data sets and the linkages between social and ecological factors at play during periods of subsistence change Such techniques include agent based modeling Bayesian modeling GIS modeling of the prehistoric environment and the modeling of small scale agriculture As more archaeological data sets aggregate regarding the transition to agriculture researchers are often left with few ways to relate these sets to one another Computational modeling techniques such as those described above represent a critical next step in providing archaeological analyses that are important for understanding human prehistory around the world Given its scope this book will appeal to the many interdisciplinary scientists and researchers whose work involves archaeology and computational social science Chapter The Spread of Agriculture Quantitative Laws in Prehistory is available open access under a Creative Commons Attribution 4 0 International License via springer com Archaeological Spatial Analysis Mark Gillings,Piraye Hacıgüzeller,Gary Lock,2020-01-16 Effective spatial analysis is an essential element of archaeological research this book is a unique guide to choosing the appropriate technique applying it correctly and understanding its implications both theoretically and practically Focusing upon the key techniques used in archaeological spatial analysis this book provides the authoritative yet accessible methodological guide to the subject which has thus far been missing from the corpus Each chapter tackles a specific technique or application area and follows a clear and coherent structure First is a richly referenced introduction to the particular technique followed by a detailed description of the methodology then an archaeological case study to illustrate the application of the technique and conclusions that point to the implications and potential of the technique within archaeology The book is designed to function as the main textbook for archaeological spatial analysis courses at undergraduate and post graduate level while its user friendly structure makes it also suitable for self learning by archaeology students as well as researchers and professionals CAA2014: 21st Century Archaeology F. Giligny,F. Djindjian,L. Costa,2015-03-31 This volume brings together a selection of papers proposed for the Proceedings of the 42nd Computer Applications and Quantitative Methods in Archaeology conference CAA hosted at Paris 1 Pantheon Sorbonne University from 22nd to 25th April 2014 Handbook of Evolutionary Research in Archaeology Anna Marie Prentiss,2019-06-03 Evolutionary Research in Archaeology seeks to provide a comprehensive overview of contemporary evolutionary research in archaeology The book will provide a single source for introduction and overview of basic and advanced evolutionary concepts and research programs in archaeology Content will be organized around four areas of critical research including microevolutionary and macroevolutionary process human ecology studies evolutionary ecology demography and niche construction and evolutionary cognitive archaeology Authors of individual chapters will address theoretical foundations history of research contemporary contributions and debates and implications for the future for their respective topics As appropriate authors present or discuss short empirical case studies to illustrate key arguments Uncertainty and Sensitivity Analysis in Archaeological Computational Modeling Marieka Brouwer Burg,Hans Peeters,William A. Lovis,2016-05-18 This volume deals with the pressing issue of uncertainty in archaeological modeling Detecting where and when uncertainty is introduced to the modeling process is critical as are strategies for minimizing reconciling or accommodating such uncertainty Included chapters provide unique perspectives on uncertainty in archaeological modeling ranging in both theoretical and methodological orientation The strengths and weaknesses of various identification and mitigation techniques are discussed in particular sensitivity analysis The chapters demonstrate that for archaeological modeling purposes there is no quick fix for uncertainty indeed each archaeological model requires intensive consideration of uncertainty and specific applications for calibration and validation As very few such techniques have been problematized in a systematic manner or published in the archaeological literature this volume aims to provide guidance and direction to other modelers in the field by distilling some basic principles for model testing derived from insight gathered in the case studies presented Additionally model applications and their attendant uncertainties are presented from distinct spatio temporal contexts and will appeal to a broad range of archaeological modelers This volume will also be of interest to non modeling archaeologists as consideration of uncertainty when interpreting the archaeological record is also a vital concern for the development of non formal or implicit models of human behavior in the past Highlights of Practical Applications of Agents, Multi-Agent Systems, and Sustainability: The PAAMS Collection Javier Bajo,Kasper Hallenborg,Pawel Pawlewski,Vicente Botti,Nayat Sánchez-Pi,Nestor Darío Duque Méndez,Fernando Lopes,Vicente Julian,2015-05-12 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the workshops which complemented the 13th International Conference on Practical

Applications of Agents and Multi Agent Systems PAAMS 2015 held in Salamanca Spain in June 2015 The 36 revised full papers presented were carefully reviewed and selected from 91 submissions This volume presents the papers that have been accepted for the following workshops Workshop on Agents and multi agent Systems for AAL and e HEALTH Workshop on Agent Based Solutions for Manufacturing and Supply Chain Workshop on MAS for Complex Networks and Social Computation Workshop on Intelligent Systems for Context based Information Fusion Workshop on Multi agent based Applications for Smart Grids and Sustainable Energy Systems Workshop on Multiagent System based Learning Environments Workshop in Intelligent Human Agent Societies   From Primitives to Primates David Van Reybrouck,2012 Where do our images about early hominids come from In this fascinating in depth study David Van Reybrouck demonstrates how input from ethnography and primatology has deeply influenced our visions about the past from the 19th century to this day often far beyond the available evidence Victorian scholars were keen to look at contemporary Australian and Tasmanian aboriginals to understand the enigmatic Neanderthal fossils Likewise today s primatologists debate to what extent bonobos baboons or chimps may be regarded as stand ins for early human ancestors The belief that the contemporary world provides living links still goes strong Such primate models Van Reybrouck argues continue the highly problematic comparative method of the Victorian times He goes on to show how the field of ethnoarchaeology has succeeded in circumventing the major pitfalls of such analogical reasoning A truly interdisciplinary study this work shows how scholars working in different fields can effectively improve their methods for interpreting the deep past by understanding the historical challenges of adjacent disciplines Overviewing two centuries of intellectual debate in fields as diverse as archaeology ethnography and primatology Van Reybrouck s book is one long plea for trying to understand the past on its own terms rather than as facile projections from the present David Van Reybrouck Bruges 1971 was trained as an archaeologist at the universities of Leuven Cambridge and Leiden Before becoming a highly successful literary author The Plague Mission Congo he worked as a historian of ideas For more than twelve years he was co editor of Archaeological Dialogues In 2011 12 he held the prestigious Cleveringa Chair at the University of Leiden   Agent Based Predictive Models in Archaeology James Douglas Rocks-Macqueen,2016   Public Archaeology Isilay Gursu,2019-04-30 This volume explores the relationship between archaeology and contemporary society especially as it concerns local communities living day to day alongside archaeological heritage The contributors come from a range of disciplines and offer inspiring views emerging from the marriage of archaeology with a number of other fields such as economics social anthropology ethnography public policy oral history and tourism studies to form the discipline of public archaeology There is growing interest in investigating the meanings of archaeology assets and archaeological landscapes and this volume targets these issues with case studies from Greece Italy Turkey and elsewhere The book addresses both general readers and scholars with an interest in how archaeological assets affected by people s understanding of landscape and identity It also touches upon the roles played in these interactions by public policy international conventions market economies and theoretical frameworks of public archaeology Digital Heritage Marinos Ioannides,Nadia Magnenat-Thalmann,Eleanor Fink,Roko Zarnic,Alex-Yianing Yen,Ewald Quak,2014-11-12 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 5th International Conference on Digital Heritage EuroMed 2014 held in Limassol Cyprus in November 2014 The 84 full and 51 short papers presented were carefully reviewed and selected from 438 submissions They focus on the interdisciplinary and multi disciplinary research concerning cutting edge cultural heritage informatics physics chemistry and engineering and the use of technology for the representation documentation archiving protection preservation and communication of Cultural Heritage knowledge Paradata and Transparency in Virtual Heritage Anna Bentkowska-Kafel,Hugh Denard,2016-05-13 Computer Generated Images CGIs are widely used and accepted in the world of entertainment but the use of the very same visualization techniques in academic research in the Arts and Humanities remains controversial The techniques and conceptual perspectives on heritage visualization are a subject of an ongoing interdisciplinary debate By demonstrating scholarly excellence and best technical practice in this area this volume is concerned with the challenge of providing intellectual transparency and accountability in visualization based historical research Addressing a range of cognitive and technological challenges the authors make a strong case for a wider recognition of three dimensional visualization as a constructive intellectual process and valid methodology for historical research and its communication Intellectual transparency of visualization based research the pervading theme of this volume is addressed from different perspectives reflecting the theory and practice of respective disciplines The contributors archaeologists cultural historians computer scientists and ICT practitioners emphasize the importance of reliable tools in particular documenting the process of interpretation of historical material and hypotheses that arise in the course of research The discussion of this issue refers to all aspects of the intellectual content of visualization and is centred around the concept of paradata Paradata document interpretative processes so that a degree of reliability of visualization outcomes can be understood The disadvantages of not providing this kind of intellectual transparency in the communication of historical content may result in visual products that only convey a small percentage of the knowledge that they embody thus making research findings not susceptible to peer review and rendering them closed to further discussion It is argued therefore that paradata should be recorded alongside more tangible outcomes of research preferably as an integral part of virtual models and sustained beyond the life span of the technology that underpins visualization
