Modern Netherlands:

Public Opinion and Changing Identities in the Early Modern Netherlands Judith Pollmann, Andrew Paul Spicer, 2007 This lively collection of essays examines the link between public opinion and the development of changing Netherlandish identities in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries

The 'Small Landscape' Prints in Early Modern Netherlands Alexandra Onuf, 2017-01-02 In 1559 and 1561 the Antwerp print publisher Hieronymus Cock issued an unprecedented series of landscape prints known today simply as the Small Landscapes The forty four prints included in the series offer views of the local countryside surrounding Antwerp in simple unembellished compositions At a time when vast panoramic and allegorical landscapes dominated the art market the Small Landscapes represent a striking innovation This book offers the first comprehensive analysis of the significance of the Small Landscapes in early modern print culture It charts a diachronic history of the series over the century it was in active circulation from 1559 to the middle of the seventeenth century Adopting the lifespan of the prints as the framework of the study Alexandra Onuf analyzes the successive states of the plates and the changes to the series as a whole in order to reveal the shifting artistic and contextual valences of the images at their different moments and places of publication This unique case study allows for a new perspective on the trajectory of print publishing over the course of the late sixteenth and early seventeenth centuries across multiple publishing houses highlighting the seminal importance of print publishers in the creation and dissemination of visual imagery and cultural ideas Looking at other visual materials and contemporary sources including texts as diverse as humanist poetry and plays agricultural manuals polemical broadsheets and peasant songs Onuf situates the Small Landscapes within the larger cultural discourse on rural land and the meaning of the local in the turbulent early modern Netherlands The study focuses new attention on the active and reciprocal intersections between printed pictures and broader cultural economic and political phenomena

Images of Miraculous Healing in the Early Modern Netherlands Barbara A. Kaminska, 2021-11-08 Images of Miraculous Healing in the Early Modern Netherlands explores the ways in which paintings and prints of biblical miracles shaped viewers approaches to physical and sensory impairments and bolstered their belief in supernatural healing and charitable behavior Drawing upon a vast range of sources Barbara Kaminska demonstrates that visual imagery held a central place in premodern disability discourses and that the exegesis of New Testament miracle stories determined key attitudes toward the sick and the poor Addressed to middle class collectors many of the images analyzed in this study have hitherto been neglected by art historians Link to book presentation <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=79jHEmTOKnU>

Modern Dutch Studies M. J. Wintle, 2015-11-19 These essays by leading scholars explore the integration of language and literature study in the fields of art history and social sciences exploring as a result the scope and nature of the discipline of Dutch Studies today

Early Modern Dutch Prints of Africa Elizabeth A. Sutton, 2017-07-05 Using Pieter de Marees Description and Historical Account of the Gold Kingdom of Guinea 1602 as her main source material author Elizabeth Sutton brings to bear approaches from the disciplines of art history and book history to explore the context in which De Marees account was created Since variations of the images and text were repeated in other European travel collections and decorated maps Sutton is able to trace how the framing of text and image shaped the formation of knowledge that continued to be repeated and distilled in later European depictions of Africans She reads the engravings in De Marees account as a demonstration of the intertwining domains of the Dutch pictorial tradition intellectual inquiry and Dutch mercantilism At the same time by analyzing the marketing tactics of the publisher Cornelis Claesz this study illuminates how early modern epistemological processes were influenced by the commodification of knowledge Sutton examines the book s construction and marketing to shed new light on the social milieus that shared interests in ethnography trade and travel Exploring how the images and text function together Sutton suggests that Dutch visual and intellectual traditions informed readers choices for translating De Marees text visually Through the examination of early modern Dutch print culture Early Modern Dutch Prints of Africa expands the boundaries of our understanding of the European imperial enterprise New Trends in Modern Dutch Literature G. J. Dorleijn, 2006 This volume contains a selection of essays presented at the international conference of Cultural Crises in Art and Literature held in Groningen in November 2002 in special sessions concerning modern Dutch literature The recent decennia have shown a gradual transition in Netherlandic Studies towards new scopes a contextual orientation of literature and the reception of Theory The contributions to this volume touch upon the theme of cultural crises from the perspective of these frameworks approaching topics like the interrelation of literary representation and historical and medical discourse concerning the obsession by dirt contamination and dust the impact of nationalism and humanism in the political field on literary education the decline of modernism resulting in the changing position of women authors the rise of children s literature and the reassessment of low genres like melodrama A brief outline of the development of the study of modern Dutch literature opens this volume the presentation of a general theoretical and methodological framework for conceptualizing the notion of cultural crisis concludes it Women and Crime in Early Modern Holland Manon van der Heijden, 2016-08-01 Crime is men s business isn t it Women are responsible for 10 percent of crime in Europe Yet if we look at the Dutch Republic in the early modern period we find that in the towns of Holland women played a much larger role in crime In a number of early modern towns about half of the criminals convicted in court were women These women were in vulnerable positions and thus more likely to become involved in crime They also had a relatively independent status and led remarkably public lives Manon van der Heijden convincingly shows that it is the very combination of women s vulnerability and independence that accounts for the high female crime rates in Holland between 1600 and 1800 Power and Urban Space in Pre-Modern Holland Clé Lesger, 2024-02-22 Cities and urban societies have many faces In this study the pre modern cities of Holland are presented as arenas where power relations between social classes are expressed in a more or less permanent appropriation of physical space and through discursive strategies The continuity of the power relations in the cities of Holland spanning centuries makes it urgent to look not only at the assumption of urban space as an expression of power relations within society but also at the contribution of this appropriation to the acceptance and continuity of the existing power relations in pre modern Holland Within this broad area extensive attention is paid to the very prominent and enduring appropriation of urban space in the field of housing the less permanent but violent appropriation of urban space during the public execution of scaffold punishments the maintenance of public order by civic militias and appropriation during riots and revolts In addition city descriptions maps and pictures of the pre modern cities of Holland are scrutinised for what they can reveal about the appropriation of urban spaces These themes each have an extensive historiography but they have never been brought together in an interpretative framework that fits in with Pierre Bourdieu s model of society and the work of especially John Allen on power until now Art, Science, and Witchcraft in Early Modern Holland Claudia Swan,2005-06-08 Publisher Description Towards a Social History of Early Modern Dutch Peter Burke,2005 From the sixteenth through the eighteenth centuries patterns of living and communication in the Netherlands transformed dramatically due to developments such as the rise of cities and the invention of the printing press Now cultural historian Peter Burke demonstrates the key role these changes played in the growth of early modern Dutch Burke casts a wide net in order to reveal the factors that led to alterations in the Dutch language exploring for example the ever changing relationship between the vernacular and Latin the incorporation of words from other languages and the birth of a movement toward standardization Placing these trends in a pan European context Burke s analysis of the evolution of Dutch will prove to be illuminating reading for cultural historians in a variety of fields The Early Modern Dutch Press in an Age of Religious Persecution David de Boer,2023 This book traces the emergence of European humanitarian culture through the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries Drawing on an exceptionally rich body of pamphlets periodicals and newspapers it uncovers how victims of persecution first learned how to employ the printing presses in the Dutch Republic to raise transnational solidarity

An Early Modern Economy in China Bozhong Li,2021-07-15 The first English translation of Li Bozhong s pioneering study of GDP in early modern China The Early Modern State: Drivers, Beneficiaries and Discontents Pepijn Brandon, Lex Heerma van Voss, Annemieke Romein,2022-06-30 In the course of the early modern period the capacity of European states to raise finances wage wars subject their own and far away populations and exert bureaucratic power over a variety of areas of social life increased dramatically Nevertheless these changes were far less absolute and definitive than the literature on the rise of the modern state once held While war pushed the boundaries of the emerging fiscal military states of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries rulers remained highly dependent on negotiations with competing elite groups and the private networks of contractors and financial intermediaries Attempts to increase control over subjects often resulted in popular resistance that in their turn set limits to and influenced the direction of the development of state institutions Written in honour of the leading historian of war and state formation in the early modern Low Countries Marjolein t Hart the chapters gathered in this volume examine the main drivers beneficiaries and discontents of state formation across and beyond Europe in the early modern period      Religion, Political Culture, and the Emergence of Early Modern Society Heinz Schilling,2022-05-09 This volume of essays by Heinz Schilling represents his three main fields of interest in early modern European history The first section of the book entitled Urban Society and Reformation deals with urban society in northern Germany and the Netherlands from the fifteenth to the early nineteenth centuries The author discusses social structure and changes the problems of religion and mentality as well as political culture and thinking The second section confessionalization and Second Reformation treats the paradigm Confessionalization which denotes a fundamental process of social change within Old European society during the second half of the sixteenth and at the beginning of the seventeenth centuries The third section The Netherlands the Pioneer Society of Early Modern Europe deals with the Northern Netherlands as a model for early modern modernization and as a successful republican and bourgeois alternative to the aristocratic Old European society The essays collected in this book were originally written in German and published over the last fifteen years The articles have been revised and the notes have been updated This volume gives a broader English speaking audience the possibility to read Heinz Schilling s research It also provides a concise collection of the author s writings for those readers who are already familiar with his studies      Early Modern Knowledge Societies as Affective Economies Inger Leemans,Anne Goldgar,2020-12-30 Early Modern Knowledge Societies as Affective Economies researches the development of knowledge economies in Early Modern Europe Starting with the Southern and Northern Netherlands as important early hubs for marketing knowledge it analyses knowledge economies in the dynamics of a globalizing world The book brings together scholars and perspectives from history art history material culture book history history of science and literature to analyse the relationship between knowledge and markets How did knowledge grow into a marketable product What knowledge about markets was available in this period and how did it develop By connecting these questions the authors show how knowledge markets operated not only economically but also culturally through communication and affect Knowledge societies are analysed as affective communities spaces and practices Compelling case studies describe the role of emotions such as hope ambition desire love fascination adventure and disappointment on driving merchants contractors and consumers to operate in the market of knowledge In so doing the book offers innovative perspectives on the development of knowledge markets and the valuation of knowledge Introducing the reader to different perspectives on how knowledge markets operated from both an economic and cultural perspective this book will be of great use to students graduates and scholars of early modern history economic history the history of emotions and the history of the Low Countries      The Dutch in the Early Modern World David Onnekink,Gijs Rommelse,2019-06-06 Presents an overview of early modern Dutch history in global context focusing on themes that resonate with current concerns      Embodiment, Expertise, and Ethics in Early Modern Europe Marlene L. Eberhart,Jacob M. Baum,2020-11-23 Embodiment Expertise and Ethics in Early Modern Europe highlights the agency and intentionality of individuals and groups in the making of sensory knowledge from approximately 1500 to 1700 Focused case studies show how artisans poets writers and theologians responded creatively to their environments filtering the cultural resources at their disposal through the lenses of their own more immediate experiences and concerns The result was not a single unified sensory culture but rather an entangling of micro cultural dynamics playing out across an archipelago of contexts that dotted the early modern European world one that saw profound transitions in ways people used sensory knowledge to claim ethical intellectual and practical authority

Reformation and Early Modern Europe David M. Whitford, 2007-11-01 Continuing the tradition of historiographic studies this volume provides an update on research in Reformation and early modern Europe Written by expert scholars in the field these eighteen essays explore the fundamental points of Reformation and early modern history in religious studies European regional studies and social and cultural studies Authors review the present state of research in the field new trends key issues scholars are working with and fundamental works in their subject area including the wide range of electronic resources now available to researchers

Reformation and Early Modern Europe A Guide to Research is a valuable resource for students and scholars of early modern Europe
