Uprooting Geographic Thoughts in India Rana Singh,David Sopher,Oskar Spate,2009-03-26 Under the cultural turn and transformation the new intellectual discourses started in the 21st century to search the roots have cross cultural comparison and to see how the old traditions be used in the contemporary worldviews This book is the first attempt dealing with roots of Indian geographical thoughts since its beginning in 1920 It emphasises identity of India and Indianness and consciousness among dweller geographers in India development and status of geography and its recent trends Gaia theory and Indian context in search of cosmic integrity ecospirituality and global message towards interrelatedness Hindu pilgrimages and its contemporary importance Mahatma Gandhi and his contribution to sustainable environmental development for global peace and humanism and new vision to see meeting grounds of the East and the West on the line of reconstruction and reconciliation in the globalising world These essays are selective and thematic therefore overall view of comprehensiveness is lacking But this book is not the end obviously it is a beginning as already other volumes in sequence and continuity are in progress At the end the lead essays representative of the three eras by Spate 1956 Sopher 1973 and Mukerji 1992 are reprinted with a view to assessing the relevance of their challenging message even today Research Directions, Challenges and Achievements of Modern Geography Jerzy Bański, Michael Meadows, 2023-12-01 This book identifies and discusses research directions challenges and achievements in contemporary geography It also documents the most current theoretical and methodological considerations undertaken by scientists representing various sub disciplines of geography with particular reference to human geography It was assumed that the thematic structure of the currently active International Geographical Union IGU problem commissions corresponds to the most relevant and current research directions in geography Reflecting this assumption the book consists of 14 chapters contributed by geographers representing 14 problem commissions of the IGU which allows us to examine geography from different perspectives and to provide the reader with a complete overview of contemporary research issues in human geography The first part discusses contemporary research problems and issues related to scientific methodology and achievements of selected geographical sub disciplines including urban geography agricultural geography transport geography and political geography among others The second part focuses on the interdisciplinarity of geography and the topics of global dimension undertaken by geographers such as global change GIS and geospatial technology marginalization and environmental change This part also discusses the internal relations between geographical specializations and their links with other related sciences including geology sociology and economics The third part discusses the holistic approaches of geography applied to particular regions territories or conditions Africa coastal systems geomorphology and local development GEOGRAPHY - Volume I Maria Sala ,2009-07-17 Geography is a component of Encyclopedia of Earth and Atmospheric Sciences in the global Encyclopedia of Life Support Systems EOLSS which is an integrated compendium of twenty one Encyclopedias Geographical perceptions can be traced from very ancient cultures although geography as a science started its development during the eighteen century it was firmly established after the Darwinian revolution and many of its fundamentals appeared during the nineteenth century The history of geography is closely connected with the history of human society Geography embraces both the physical and human worlds and aims to bridge natural and human sciences For a geographer although the environment and its conservation is a crucial item it is also fundamentally concerned with the living standards of humankind Although its wide embrace may be seen as a weakness diversification is also strength and an attraction Approaches are multidisciplinary exploring the complex linkages between the cultural and the natural These favor cross cultural communication and mutual understanding at a global scale There is a geographical basis to most of the outstanding political problems and geographical reasons to explain them The subject matter of the geography theme is presented basically on how the subject matter is taught presently at the universities and following the many paths its practitioners are following in doing research It introduces modern subject matters and goes much further than a simple description of places and travels The theme has been divided into four main topics Foundations Physical Geography Human Geography and Technical matters The scope of the foundation topic is to present an overview of the basis of the geographical field its scope history methods and its importance in education The chapters included are Main Stages of the Development Theory and Methods and Geographical Education The Physical Geography topic includes the historical background of the geographical study of the Earth natural environment and the main fields cultivated by geographers It consists of eight chapters on basic research fields which are Geomorphology Climatology Hydrology Biogeography Soil Geography Coastal Systems Ocean Geography Mountain Geocology and two chapters on environmental issues Natural Hazards and Land Degradation and Desertification In the Human Geography topic six chapters discuss the more current fields that is Population Cultural and Social Agricultural and Rural Industries and Transport Economic Activities and Urban Geography Three chapters present subjects developed more recently Medical Political and Tourism geographies Finally the Regional approach is presented as the most traditional and integrative field These volumes are aimed at the following five major target audiences University and College students Educators Professional practitioners Research personnel and Policy analysts managers and decision makers and NGOs

The Makers of Modern Geography (RLE Social & Cultural Geography) Robert Dickinson, 2014-01-10 This book examines the works of the outstanding makers of modern geography and demonstrates the consistency of idea and purpose in their work Geography as an explicitly defined field of knowledge is more than two thousand years old but as a university subject geography is only 150 years old and in this period it has developed hugely This study traces the development of modern geography as an organized body of knowledge in the light of the works of its foremost German and French contributors

Mirror of the World Meg Roland, 2021-07-28 In the late fifteenth century the production of print editions of Claudius Ptolemy's second century Geography sparked one of the most significant intellectual developments of the era the production of mathematically based north oriented maps The production of world maps in England however was notably absent during this Ptolemaic revival As a result the impact of Ptolemy's text on English geographical thought has been obscured and minimalized with scholars speculating a possible English indifference to or isolation from European geographic developments Tracing English geographical thought through the material culture of literary and popular texts this study provides evidence for the reception and transmission of Ptolemaic based geography in England during a critical period of geographic innovation and synthesis one that laid the foundation for modern geographical representation With evidence from prose romance book illustration theatrical performance cosmological ceilings and almanacs Mirror of the World proposes a new interdisciplinary literary and cartographic history of the influence of Ptolemaic geography in England one that reveals the lively integration of geographic concepts through narrative and non cartographic visual forms Mapping Medieval Geographies Keith D. Lilley, 2014-01-09 Mapping Medieval Geographies explores the ways in which geographical knowledge ideas and traditions were formed in Europe during the Middle Ages Leading scholars reveal the connections between Islamic Christian Biblical and Classical geographical traditions from Antiquity to the later Middle Ages and Renaissance The book is divided into two parts Part I focuses on the notion of geographical tradition and charts the evolution of celestial and earthly geography in terms of its intellectual visual and textual representations whilst Part II explores geographical imaginations that is to say those imagined geographies that came into being as a result of everyday spatial and spiritual experience Bringing together approaches from art literary studies intellectual history and historical geography this pioneering volume will be essential reading for scholars concerned with visual and textual modes of geographical representation and transmission as well as the spaces and places of knowledge creation and consumption Geoparsing Early Modern English Drama M.

Matei-Chesnoiu, 2015-12-05 Geo spatial identity and early Modern European drama come together in this study of how cultural or political attachments are actively mediated through space Matei Chesnoiu traces the modulated representations of rivers seas mountains and islands in sixteenth century plays by Shakespeare Jasper Fisher Thomas May and others

Human Geography Mark Boyle, 2021-03-29 Revised Extended and Extensively Updated Text Uses Historical Geographical and Thematic Approach to Provide Undergraduates with a Firm Foundation in Human Geography Drawing on nearly three decades of instructional experience and a wealth of testing pedagogical innovations with students Mark Boyle has revised and expanded this authoritative and comprehensive introduction to Human Geography As with the First Edition Boyle follows the premise that history makes geography whilst geography makes history and that the key to studying the principal demographic social political economic cultural and environmental processes in any region in the world today is to look at how that region has been impacted by and in turn has impacted the story of the rise reign and decline of the West Moreover he argues that Human Geography itself is best understood as both an intellectual endeavour and a historical political and institutional project Informed by recent developments in post colonial scholarship the book covers key concepts seminal thinkers and influential texts in the field Although designed for the beginner student Boyle does not shy away from ideas and debates often avoided in introductory texts clearly communicating theory without condescension In addition he places human geography in its larger academic context discussing the influences on the field from related subjects Notable features in the Second Edition include Extensive revision and updating of coverage of key ideas developments debates and case studies New chapter on uneven geographical development at different scales and development theory and practice Dedicated coverage of Covid 19s geographies New learning resources figures tables plates maps Deep Dive boxes etc throughout the text plus learning objectives essay questions checklists summarizing key ideas and guidance for further reading Updated and expanded companion website with MP4 and MP3 chapter by chapter lectures and PowerPoint slides for each chapter new multiple choice exam paper and additional essay style exam questions and a wide range of student tutorial exercises Human Geography An Essential Introduction Second Edition is an excellent foundational text for undergraduate courses in human geography globalization Western civilization historiographies of intellectual thought the grand public problems confronting humanity in the twenty first century and other wider social science courses
