Knutsson, 2024-10-07 Causatives and Causation Jae Jung Song, 2014-06-11 Causatives and Causation is the first comprehensive study of causative constructions found in the world's languages. This important new research based on a database of more than 600 languages not only investigates fully the richness and variety of causative types but also presents an alternative perspective to the traditional typological approach. The new typology enables a better understanding of how the human mind cognizes causation and how this is reflected in language. Causatives and Causation is also an important attempt to integrate language typology with diachrony by constructing a diachronic model of causative affixes on the basis of this new typology. Drawing on the theoretical insight of Role and Reference Grammar, this book provides a case study of the causative constructions in Korean providing additional support for both the proposed new typology and the diachronic model. It also examines the pragmatic foundations of causatives, an important but previously unexplored area of study. University of Michigan Official Publication, 1955 Statutes and Ordinances of the University of Cambridge 2015 University of Cambridge, 2015-10-08 The official Statutes and Ordinances of the University of Cambridge. Get Started in Modern Hebrew Absolute Beginner Course Shula Gilboa, 2013-12-27 Do you want a solid foundation to your Modern Hebrew studies? Berman,2020-03-18 The goal of the volume is to shed fresh light on Modern Hebrew from perspectives aimed at readers interested in the domains of general linguistics typology and Semitic studies Starting with chapters that provide background information on the evolution and sociolinguistic setting of the language the bulk of the book is devoted to usage based studies of the morphology lexicon and syntax of current Hebrew Based primarily on original analyses of authentic spoken and online materials these studies reflect varied theoretical frames of reference that are largely model neutral in approach To this end the book presents a functionally motivated dynamic approach to actual usage rather than providing strictly structuralist or formal characterizations of particular linguistic systems Such a perspective is particularly important in the case of a language undergoing accelerated processes of change in which the gap between prescriptive dictates of the Hebrew Language Establishment and the actual usage of educated literate but non expert speaker writers of current Hebrew is constantly on the rise General Register University of Michigan,1921 Announcements for the following year included in some vols Foreign Language, Area, and Other International Studies Julia A.
