Modernity's Wager Authority The Self And Transcendence:

Modernity's Wager Adam B. Seligman, 2009-02-09 Adam Seligman one of our most important social thinkers continues the incisive critique of modernity he began in his previously acclaimed The Idea of Civil Society and The Problem of Trust In this provocative new work of social philosophy Seligman evaluates modernity's wager namely the gambit to liberate the modern individual from external social and religious norms by supplanting them with the rational self as its own moral authority Yet far from ensuring the freedom of the individual Seligman argues the fundamentalist doctrine of enlightened reason has called into being its own nemesis in the forms of ethnic racial and identity politics Seligman counters that the modern human must recover a notion of authority that is essentially transcendent but which extends tolerance to those of other or no faiths Through its denial of an authority rooted in an experience of transcendence modernity fails to account for individual and collective moral action First deprived of a sacred source of the self depictions of moral action are reduced to motives of self interest Second dismissing the sacred leaves the resurgence of religious movements unexplained In this rigorous and imaginative study Seligman seeks to discover a durable source of moral authority in a liberalized world His study of shame pride collective guilt and collective responsibility demonstrates the mutual relationship between individual responsibility and communal authority Furthermore Seligman restores the indispensable role of religious traditions as well as the features of those traditions that enhance rather than denigrate tolerance Sociologists political theorists moral philosophers and intellectual historians will find Seligman's thesis enlightening as will anyone concerned with the ethical and religious foundations of a tolerant society

The Authority of Scripture in Reformed Theology Henk Van Den Belt, 2008-01-01 This book discusses the concept of the self convincing authority of Scripture in the historical development of Reformed theology and advocates an emphasis on the autopistia in a postmodern context because truth and trust are inseparable

Dissident Women, Beguines, and the Quest for Spiritual Authority Catherine Lambert, 2024-11-12 Dissident Women Beguines and the Quest for Spiritual Authority focuses on the responses of a group of twenty first century women to the lives and writings of thirteenth century beguine mystics and reveals how the struggle to discover their own inner spiritual authority connects two groups of women across centuries For contemporary women who are disenchanted with the institutional church and who seek spiritual direction models deeply rooted within the tradition may not be the most helpful The author explores the value of exemplars from the fringes ushering Hadewijch of Brabant Mechthild of Magdeburg and Marguerite Porete into the spotlight The contemporary women studied developed a relationship with the beguines that transformed and influenced their own journeys Their encounters underline the importance of re membering the beguine mystics the value of contemplative engagement with historical mystics and the need for explicit validation of the richness of the edges of tradition within spiritual direction Dissident Women Beguines and the Quest for Spiritual Authority will be of particular interest to scholars of mysticism and spirituality as well as practical pastoral and feminist theology

Democratic Horizon Alessandro Ferrara, 2014-03-24 Alessandro Ferrara explains what he terms the democratic horizon and reviews the challenges under which democracies must operate

The Righting of Passage A. David Napier, 2004-04-19 Today much theory in the social sciences assumes that the acceptance of experience as inevitably unruly means that it is characterized by constant change and even by chaos In such a world we are told the unordered qualities of daily living create so much uncertainty that identity itself becomes unstable But this view David Napier argues begs a fundamental question if contemporary life is as flexible and unstructured as for example postmodernists maintain and we in turn are products of such a world how might any of us order our thinking enough to recognize what is meaningful in life let alone describe our experiences in ways that might have meaning for others If we are truly the products of modernity Napier says we must either accept our inability to structure and shape our own sensations or alternately argue for some form of humanism that sees a struggling existential self living unsettled within its unstructured environment Were either circumstance universally the case the world would of course be a rather different place for there would be no shared literature called postmodern and there would be no one to dissect such experience for us no authors with coherent identities no theories that could be communicated no books bought or read no university departments dedicated to the industry of chaos In short there would be no ordered space for interpersonal understanding in such a world This is the premise that informs The Righting of Passage In this challenging book Napier offers a novel argument that accounts for diffuse and flexible notions of the self while also illustrating how a coherent communicating self persists amid such apparent instability This he does by arguing something entirely counterintuitive to both modernist and postmodernist positions namely that modernity's increasing separation of embodiment from meaning not only slows down human transformation but attenuates human growth by encouraging us to perceive risk as largely pathological Today the combined forces of stress management depth psychology therapeutic writing dislocated meaning and of institutional conformity work together to produce a reduction not a proliferation of change in human life

Religious Literacy, Law and History Alberto Melloni, Francesca Cadeddu, 2018-12-07 The book profiles some of the macro and micro factors that have impact on European religious literacy It seeks to understand religious illiteracy and its effects on the social and political milieu through the framing of the historical institutional religious social juridical and educational conditions within which it arises Divided into four parts in the first one One literacy more literacies the book defines the basic concepts underpinning the question of religious illiteracy in Europe Part II Understanding illiteracies debating disciplines highlights the theological philosophical historical and political roots of the phenomenon looking at the main nodes that are both the reasons religious illiteracy is widespread and the starting points for literacy strategies Part III Building literacy shaping alphabets examines the mix of knowledge and competences acquired about religion and from religion at school as well as through the media with a critical perspective on what could be done both in the schools and for the improvement of journalists religious literacy Part IV Views and experiences presents the reader with the opportunity to learn from three different case studies religious literacy in the media religious illiteracy and European Islam and a Jewish approach to religious literacy Building on existing literature the volume takes a scientific approach which is enriched by interdisciplinary and transnational perspectives and deep entrenchment in historical methodology

Collectivistic Religions Slavica Jakelic,2016-05-23 Collectivistic Religions draws upon empirical studies of Christianity in Europe to address questions of religion and collective identity religion and nationalism religion and public life and religion and conflict It moves beyond the attempts to tackle such questions in terms of choice and religious nationalism by introducing the notion of collectivistic religions to contemporary debates surrounding public religions Using a comparison of several case studies this book challenges the modernist bias in understanding of collectivistic religions as reducible to national identities A significant contribution to both the study of religious change in contemporary Europe and the theoretical debates that surround religion and secularization it will be of key interest to scholars across a range of disciplines including sociology political science religious studies and geography

Models of God and Alternative Ultimate Realities Jeanine Diller,Asa Kasher,2013-06-13 The envisioned volume is a collection of recent essays about the philosophical exploration critique and comparison of a the major philosophical models of God gods and other ultimate realities implicit in the world s philosophical schools and religions and of b the ideas of such models and doing such modeling per se The aim is to identify exactly what a model of ultimate reality is create a comprehensive and accessible collection of extant models and determine how best philosophically to model ultimate reality if possible and desirable

Standing on an Isthmus Ayse S. Kadayifci,2007-01-01 Standing on an Isthmus examines how religious beliefs commitments and traditions shape social action such as promoting either violent or peaceful behavior by analyzing different Islamic interpretations of war and peace in Palestine and seeks to answer the question What is the best strategy to empower those groups and individuals that support a nonviolent Islamic approach to actively pursue a just peace for all parties involved

The Axial Age and Its Consequences Robert N. Bellah,Hans Joas,2012-10-31 This book makes the bold claim that intellectual sophistication was born worldwide during the middle centuries of the first millennium bce From Axial Age thinkers we inherited a sense of the world as a place not just to experience but to investigate envision and alter A variety of utopian visions emerged and led to both reform and repression

Practices for the Refounding of God's People Alan J. Roxburgh,Martin Robinson,2018-05-15 Speaks to the bewilderment and helplessness many churches feel in the face of current events Practical new interpretation of changes in the West Throughout its history the church has faced crises of meaning and identity in all kinds of changing contexts The crises facing the churches of the western hemisphere today are no different At their best churches have recognized that their challenge is not their own fixing or even reformation but a deep engagement with the ways the gospel transforms society This book explores how this can happen again in a radically changing western world

The Fit Shall Inherit the Earth Erik W. Dailey,2018-10-17 What does it mean as a person of faith to maintain and even strengthen one s physical body What does it mean to glorify God in your body 1 Corinthians 6 20 in a time when bodily perfection is popularly defined by advertising firms while food degradation has led to the worldwide obesity epidemic This work addresses those questions and many others through theological engagement with fitness and sport offering a critical examination of the two and their theological intersections Where is God in sport and fitness What value might sport and fitness have for the Christian Church Is there a good to be found Sarajevo Essays Rusmir Mahmutcehajic,2012-02-01 One of Bosnia s leading intellectuals explains the Bosnian experience by critiquing the politics and ideology that brought about the great destruction both material and spiritual of Bosnia and Herzegovina These incisive and theologically profound essays address the confrontation between the West and Islam as the author explores the realm of humanity s long standing search for the roots of evil in the dual nature of mankind to gain insight into ways of achieving peace By drawing on the Bosnian situation the author explores questions of identity and otherness knowledge and transcendence authority and authoritarianism and tradition and fundamentalism and he argues for a reconciliation between modernity and tradition for the benefit of modern coexistence not just in his native land but throughout the world Multiple Modernities and Postsecular Societies Kristina Stoeckl,2016-04-15 Engaging with the idea that the world reveals not one but many routes to modernity this volume explores the role of religion in the emergence of multiple forms of modernity which evolve according to specific cultural conditions and interpretations of the modern project It draws upon case study material from Africa The Middle East Russia and South America to examine the question of whether modernity democracy and secularism are universalistic concepts or are on the contrary unique to Western civilization whilst considering the relationship of postsecularism to the varied paths of modern development Drawing together work from leading social theorists this critical theoretical contribution to current debates will appeal to sociologists social theorists and political scientists with interests in religion secularization and postsecularization theory and transitions to modernity in the contemporary globalized world The Missional Church and Denominations Craig Van Gelder,2008-11-03 The Missional Church and Denominations utilizes the missional church conversation as a lens for engaging an important dimension of church life in the United States denominations and denominationalism Denominations have been studied from a wide variety of perspectives including historical sociological and theological but they have yet to be engaged in light of a missional church understanding Here each essay helps to bring further clarity to the word missional and contributes to the ever widening conversation Contributors Daniel R Anderson Marion Wyvetta Bullock David G Forney Wesley Granberg Michaelson Todd Hobart Alan J Roxburgh Kyle J A Small Craig Van Gelder Dwight Zscheile Applying Relational Sociology François Dépelteau,C. Powell,2013-12-18 Edited by Fran ois Depelteau and Christopher Powell this volume and its companion Conceptualizing Relational Sociology Ontological and Theoretical Issues addresses fundamental questions about what relational sociology is and how it works Practicing Islam David W. Montgomery,2016-11-23 David W Montgomery presents a rich ethnographic study on the practice and meaning of Islamic life in Kyrgyzstan As he shows becoming and being a Muslim are based on knowledge acquired from the surrounding environment enabled through the practice of doing Through these acts Islam is imbued in both the individual and the community To Montgomery religious practice and lived experience combine to create an ideological space that is shaped by events opportunities and potentialities that form the context from which knowing emerges This acquired knowledge further frames social navigation and political negotiation Through his years of on the ground research Montgomery assembles both an anthropology of knowledge and an anthropology of Islam demonstrating how individuals make sense of and draw meanings from their environments He reveals subtle individual interpretations of the religion and how people seek to define themselves and their lives as good within their communities and under Islam Based on numerous in depth interviews bolstered by extensive survey and data collection Montgomery offers the most thorough English language study to date of Islam in post Soviet Kyrgyzstan His work provides a broad view into the cognitive processes of Central Asian populations that will serve students researchers and policymakers alike

Relational Sociology Pierpaolo Donati, 2010-07-12 Much of our concept of society has been defined by sociology's dual focuses individuals and groups In this eagerly awaited book Donati shifts focus to the relationships between people and explains this new relational sociology in detail What Makes Us Moral? On the capacities and conditions for being moral Bert Musschenga, Anton van Harskamp, 2013-06-13 This book addresses the question of what it means to be moral and which capacities one needs to be moral It questions whether empathy is a cognitive or an affective capacity or perhaps both As most moral beings behave immorally from time to time the authors ask which factors cause or motivate people to translate their moral beliefs into action Specially addressed is the question of what is the role of internal factors such as willpower commitment character and what is the role of external situational and structural factors The questions are considered from various disciplinary perspectives Young People's Attitudes to Religious Diversity Elisabeth Arweck, 2016-07-01 Investigating the hitherto unexplored topic of how young people understand and relate to religious diversity in the social context in which they are growing up this book makes a significant contribution to the existing body of literature on religious diversity and multiculturalism It closes a gap in knowledge about young people's attitudes to religious diversity and reports data gathered across the whole of the UK as well as comparative chapters on Canada USA and continental Europe Reporting findings from both qualitative and quantitative research which reveal for example the importance of the particular social and geographical context within which young people are embedded the volume addresses young people's attitudes towards the range of world religions as well as non religious stances and offers an interdisciplinary approach through the different analytical perspectives of the contributors
