Special Operations in World War II Andrew L. Hargreaves, 2013-10-28 British and American commanders first used modern special forces in support of conventional military operations during World War II Since then although special ops have featured prominently in popular culture and media coverage of wars the academic study of irregular warfare has remained as elusive as the practitioners of special operations themselves This book is the first comprehensive study of the development application and value of Anglo American commando and special forces units during the Second World War Special forces are intensively trained specially selected military units performing unconventional and often high risk missions In this book Andrew L Hargreaves not only describes tactics and operations but also outlines the distinctions between commandos and special forces traces their evolution during the war explains how the Anglo American alliance functioned in the creation and use of these units looks at their command and control arrangements evaluates their impact and assesses their cost effectiveness The first real impetus for the creation of British specialist formations came in the desperate summer of 1940 when having been pushed out of Europe following defeat in France and the Low Countries Britain began to turn to irregular forces in an effort to wrest back the strategic initiative from the enemy The development of special forces by the United States was also a direct consequence of defeat After Pearl Harbor Hargreaves shows the Americans found themselves in much the same position as Britain had been in 1940 shocked outnumbered and conventionally defeated they were unable to come to grips with the enemy on a large scale By the end of the war a variety of these units had overcome a multitude of evolutionary hurdles and made valuable contributions to practically every theater of operation In describing how Britain and the United States worked independently and cooperatively to invent and put into practice a fundamentally new way of waging war this book demonstrates the two nations flexibility adaptability and ability to innovate during World War II

Special Operations in Norway Ian Herrington, 2019-04-04 Between 1940 and 1945 Britain's Special Operations Executive SOE carried out sabotage and organised resistance across occupied Europe Over 5 years SOE sent over 500 agents into Norway to carry out a range of operations from sabotage and assassination to attempts to organise an underground guerrilla army This book is the first multi archival international academic analysis of SOE s policy and operations in Norway and the influences that shaped them challenging previous interpretations of the relationship between this organisation and both the Norwegian authorities and the Milorg resistance movement

Office of Strategic Services 1942-45 Eugene Liptak,2013-02-20 The Office of Strategic Services the forerunner of the CIA was founded in 1942 by William Wild Bill Donovan under the direction of President Roosevelt Agents were enlisted from both the armed services and civilians to produce operational groups specialising in different foreign areas including Italy Norway Yugoslavia and China In 1944 the number of men and women working in the service totalled nearly 13 500 This intriguing story of the origins and development of the American espionage forces covers all of the different departments involved with a particular emphasis on the courageous teams operating in the field The volume is illustrated with many photographs including images from the film director John Ford who led the OSS Photographic Unit and parachuted into Burma in 1943

Among the Firsts: Lieutenant Colonel Gerhard L. Bolland's Unconventional War Matthew T. Bolland,2022-05-19 In his own words the war of the doubly pioneering Lt Col Gerhard L Bolland 82nd Airborne paratrooper on D Day and senior OSS field operative on Operation Rype Unconventional warfare tactics can have a considerable effect on the outcome of any war During World War II the United States government developed and employed two new methods of fighting The first was the development of paratroop units as they were first called The second was the formation of a covert and sabotage operations branch called the Office of Strategic Services OSS Lt Colonel Bolland was involved in both of these firsts During the D Day invasion he parachuted behind enemy lines jumping out of the 82nd Airborne lead aircraft with General James Gavin After fighting with the 507th Parachute Infantry Regiment for thirty three days straight he returned to England and became involved with the OSS Scandinavian Section He served as Field Commander for their Operation code named Rype This was the only American military undertaking albeit covert in Norway during the entire course of the war As a young boy growing up in rural western Minnesota Bolland got his military start with the Minnesota National Guard before being accepted to West Point solely on merit His military career lasted seventeen years Lt Colonel Bolland ended up with numerous decorations including the Norwegian Liberation Medal and Citation the Bronze Star for valor the French Fourragere of Croix de Guerre with Palms and posthumously the Congressional Gold medal awarded to the OSS Society on behalf of all former OSS members that served during the war His story reveals the struggles successes failures and ultimate victories detailing what went right and what went wrong with these new unconventional methods of fighting

Sabotage and Subversion: Classic Histories Series Ian Dear,2016-10-06 During the Second World War daring and highly unusual missions were mounted by the Special Operations Executive SOE formed on Churchill s orders to set Europe ablaze and its American counterpart the Office of Strategic Services OSS In sixteen separate chapters the author describes how the fearless individuals in these clandestine organisations were recruited trained and armed and examines some of their guerrilla operations in Europe Africa and the Far East such as the raid on Fernando Po the destruction of the Gorgopotamos Bridge in Greece and the strike against Japanese shipping in Singapore harbour Also covered are the means SOE and OSS used to subvert the enemy by employing black propaganda forgery pornography and black market currency manipulation It may well read like fiction but the stories are fact and shows to what lengths the Allies were prepared to go to crush the Axis powers Office Of The Strategic Services Operational Groups In France During World War II, July-October 1944 Major John W. Shaver III, 2015-11-06 This study evaluates six Operational Groups which supported Allied operations in France during the period 31 July to 10 October 1944 The groups were composed of two officers and 15 enlisted men They were trained to work behind enemy lines conducting sabotage and guerrilla activities The conceptual developments of Operational Groups doctrine recruitment command and control and training for these volunteers are first examined The teams missions are then examined The study concludes the concept for Operational Groups was sound but they were not properly employed as strategic assets thus not exploiting their capabilities to the fullest Problems they experienced were mission orders intelligence command and control and air delivery of special operations personnel Studying their history is useful to today's leaders and Special Forces as a means of evaluating special operations support to a theater small unit that rarely gets any attention it is part of a fascinating story Alongside battalions of Austrian Greek Filipino and Japanese Americans the Army decided to create an all Norwegian American battalion originally trained at Camp Hale Colorado along with the 10th Mountain Division with the original mission of liberating Norway Their exploits during training brought them enough notoriety that members of the 99th were recruited to start the First Special Service Force and a branch of the OSS Although they were not initially sent to Norway they would fight in Normandy across France and Belgium helped entrap the Germans at Aachen protected the city of Malmedy during the Battle of the Bulge where they stopped an attack by Skorzeny and a SS Panzer Division helped liberate Buchenwald guarded the Nazi treasures found in Merkers mine and finally served as the Honor Guard for King Haakon VII on his triumphant return to Norway This book tells the story of the 99th Infantry Battalion through an anthology of rarely if ever previously seen memoirs journals letters and newspaper articles written by or about the Viking soldiers
