Dave DiMartino,2016-04-15 This is an examination of the crucial formative period of Chinese attitudes toward nuclear weapons the immediate post Hiroshima Nagasaki period and the Korean War It also provides an account of US actions and attitudes during this period and China's response Black Authors and Illustrators of Books for Children and Young Adults Barbara Thrash Murphy,Deborah L. Murphy,2006-12-21 Black Authors and Illustrators of Books for Children and Young Adults is a biographical dictionary that provides comprehensive coverage of all major authors and illustrators past and present As the only reference volume of its kind available this book is a valuable research tool that provides quick access for anyone studying black children's literature whether one is a student a librarian charged with maintaining a children's literature collection or a scholar of children's literature The Fourth Edition of this renowned reference work illuminates African American contributions to children's literature and books for young adults The new edition contains updated and new information for existing author/illustrator entries, the addition of approximately 50 new profiles and a new section listing online resources of interest to the authors and readers of Black children's literature. Literature Connections to American History K6 Lynda G. Adamson, 1997-09-15 Identifying thousands of historical fiction novels, biographies, history trade books, CD-ROMs and videotapes, this book helps you locate resources on American history for students. Each book presents information in two sections. In the first part, titles are listed according to grade levels within eras and further organized according to product type. The books cover American history from North America Before 1600 and The American Colonies 1600-1774 to The Mid Twentieth Century 1946-1975 and Since 1975. The second section has annotated bibliographies that describe each title and includes publication information and awards won. The focus is on books published since 1990 and all have received at least one favorable review. Some books with more illustration than text will be valuable for enticing slow or reticent readers. An index helps users find resources by author, title or biographical subject. Encyclopedia of Music in the 20th Century

Lol Henderson, Lee Stacey, 2014-01-27 The Encyclopedia of Music in the 20th Century is an alphabetically arranged encyclopedia of all aspects of music in various parts of the world during the 20th century. It covers the major musical styles: concert music, jazz, pop, rock, etc., and such key genres as opera, orchestral music, bebop, blues, country, etc. Articles on individuals provide biographical information on their life and works and explore the contribution each has made in the field. Illustrated and fully cross-referenced, the Encyclopedia of Music in the 20th Century also provides Suggested Listening and Further Reading information. A good first point of reference for students, librarians and music scholars as well as for the general reader. We are Many, We are One Colleen McDonald, 1996 Paul Robeson Martin

Duberman, 2014-08-12 The remarkable life of Paul Robeson, quintessential Harlem Renaissance man, scholar, all-American actor, activist and firebrand. Born the son of an ex-slave in New Jersey in 1898, Paul Robeson, endowed with multiple gifts, seemed destined for fame. In his youth, he was as tenacious in the classroom as he was on the football field. After graduating from Rutgers with high honors, he went on to earn a law degree at Columbia. Soon after, he began a stage and film career that made him one of the country's most celebrated figures. But it was not to last. Robeson became increasingly vocal about defending Black civil rights and criticizing Western imperialism, and his radical views ran counter to the country's evermore conservative posture. During the McCarthy period, Robeson's passport was lifted; he was denounced as a traitor and his career was destroyed. Yet he refused to bow. His powerful and tragic story is emblematic of the major themes of twentieth-century history. Martin Duberman's exhaustive biography is the result of years of research and interviews and paints a portrait worthy of its incredible subject and his improbable story. Duberman uses primary documents to take us deep into Robeson's life, giving Robeson the due that he so richly deserves. Flakes of Dark and Light Roy Holland, 2001-02-28 The title Flakes of Dark and Light is evocative of the sharp flakes of insight and colour which characterise these tales. The tales in the first part mostly depict an African setting and in fact are more recent, often suggesting the climate of change and violence that has gripped southern Africa in the last two decades The stories in the second part were inspired by a more English tradition and in fact capture the climate of change that brooded over life during the Thirties and the war years A contemporary of Ted Hughes and with many of his stories set in the depressed sometimes seedy England of the Thirties and Forties which Graham Greene depicted in his early novels its not surprising that Roy Hollands images and sentences are like flakes that cut like broken glass A true artist he does not take sides but holds up a mirror to show life as it is or was whether in a pre war England or an Africa ravaged by drought and violence His tales are snapshots truthful sometimes startling of two quite distinct cultures However disparate they may seem one is invariably aware of an underlying tenderness and sympathetic vision in the portrayal of character regardless of race or background that binds them together Multicultural Voices in Contemporary Literature Frances Ann Day, 1999 With the original publication of Multicultural Voices Frances Ann Day celebrated the lives of thirty nine multicultural authors and illustrators helping educators bring students and authors together in a way that promoted stimulating reading imaginative writing and cultural sensitivity Thousands of readers not only discovered a new body of literature they also gained new sensitivity to writing styles language subtleties and worldviews Now the new edition has been significantly revised to keep it current and make it even more useful Day has added a number of new authors updated the biographical profiles included reviews and activities for more than 120 new books and expanded the resource list for educators librarians and parents There are five appendixes containing assessment plans additional activities lists of birthdays a calendar of multicultural events and information on additional resources Plus a comprehensive subject index helps readers plan story sessions and units of study Themes curricular areas genres and topics facilitate the use of literature across the curriculum This guide is highly versatile enabling readers to adapt the material to fit their individual teaching and learning styles curriculum requirements and educational goals Educators librarians and parents alike will find the book an inspiring resource Lift Every Voice and Sing Julian Bond, Dr. Sondra Kathryn Wilson, 2001-02-01 A group of young men in Jacksonville Florida arranged to celebrate Lincoln s birthday in 1900 My brother J Rosamond Johnson and I decided to write a song to be sung at the exercise I wrote the words and he wrote the music Our New York publisher Edward B Marks made mimeographed copies for us and the song was taught to and sung by a chorus of five hundred colored school children Shortly afterwards my brother and I moved from Jacksonville to New York and the song passed out of our minds But the school children of Jacksonville kept singing it they went off to other schools and sang it they became teachers and taught it to other children Within twenty years it was being sung over the South and in some other parts of the country Today the song popularly known as the Negro National Hymn is quite generally used The lines of this song repay me in elation almost of exquisite anguish whenever I hear them sung by Negro children James Weldon Johnson 1935 Pasted into Bibles schoolbooks and hearts Lift Every Voice and Sing written by J Rosamond Johnson and James Weldon Johnson in 1900 has become one of the most beloved songs in the African American community taught for years in schools churches and civic organizations

Adopted by the NAACP as its official song in the 1920s and sung throughout the civil rights movement it is still heard today at gatherings across America James Weldon Johnson's lyrics pay homage to a history of struggle but never waver from a sense of optimism for the future facing the rising sun of our new day begun let us march on till victory is won Its message of hope and strength has made Lift Every Voice and Sing a source of inspiration for generations In celebration of the song's centennial Julian Bond and Sondra Kathryn Wilson have collected one hundred essays by artists educators politicians and activists reflecting on their personal experiences with the song Also featuring photos from historical archives Lift Every Voice and Sing is a moving illustration of the African American experience in the past century With contributors including John Hope Franklin Jesse Jackson Maya Angelou Norman Lear Maxine Waters and Percy Sutton this volume is a personal tribute to the enduring power of an anthem Lift Every Voice and Sing has touched the hearts of many who have heard it because its true aim as Harry Belafonte explains isn't just to show life as it is but to show life as it should be Black in the British

Frame Stephen Bourne, 2005-07-19 In this updated edition of his acclaimed and award winning study Stephen Bourne takes a personal look at the history of black people in popular British film and television He documents from original research and interviews the experiences and representations which have been ignored in previous media books about people of African descent There are chapters about Paul Robeson Newton I Aduaka soap operas and much more as well as several useful appendices and suggestions for further reading "In the Light of Likeness-transformed" Dana A. Williams, 2005 In the Light of Likeness transformed by Dana A Williams looks critically at the work of contemporary African American author Leon Forrest Not only does she bring to the critical table a well known but as yet understudied modernist author an important endeavor in and of itself but she also explores Forrest's novels cultural dialogue with black ethnic culture and other African American authors as well as provides in depth readings of his prose and interpretations of his narrative style Forrest's highly experimental narrative style his reinterpretation of modernism and his transformations of black cultural traditions into literary aesthetics often pose challenges of interpretation for the reader and the scholar alike As the first single authored book length study of Forrest's novel this book offers readers pathways into his fiction What this culturalist approach to the novels reveals is that Forrest's fiction was foremost concerned with investigating ways for the African American to survive in the contemporary moment Through a variety of characters the novels reveal the African American's art of transformation the ability to find ways to make the wretchedness of the past work in positive ways BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved The Last Tour Ann Curthoys, 2025-07-16 Paul Robeson was once the most famous African American in the world Not only was he a renowned singer and actor with a stunning bass baritone voice revered throughout the world he was also a former professional athlete lawyer and civil rights activist To the delight of his many fans he and his wife Eslanda a notable civil rights activist author United Nations journalist and anthropologist were finally able to tour Australia and New Zealand First mooted in the 1930s it had been delayed by war and then the Cold War when Paul's outspoken support for the Soviet Union and against his country's race relations had led the US government to deny him a passport until 1958. Now in 1960 the tour occurred at a time when the world was at the tipping point between the Cold War 1950s and the turbulent 1960s. The Robeson tour encompassed concerts the first one ever at the Sydney Opera House which was still under construction, talks to unionists, fans, women's organisations, communists and peace activists. It involved active engagement with Indigenous peoples and their struggles in both countries. Through their engagement with a wide range of people we see life on the far Left, the emergence of new forms of Aboriginal and Maori protest and the reception and influence of African American entertainers in Australia and New Zealand. By bringing Eslanda's work as a writer and journalist to the fore, historian Ann Curthoys sheds light on the intersections of race, gender and women's political activism. Based on extensive new documentary and oral history research, The Last Tour explores why Paul and Eslanda Robeson's trip was such a success and how it exerted a profound influence both at the time and over future generations. No man I've ever met has so impressed me with his personal greatness. He's so simple and unaffected in his manner, so dignified it's the man himself I think who demonstrates the greatness of the human spirit. Katharine Susannah Prichard on Paul Robeson. The Arithmetic of Memory Anthony Rudolf, 1999. Every Step a Struggle Frank Manichel, 2007. This book pays tribute to the sacrifices and achievements of seven individuals who made difficult and controversial choices to insure that black Americans shared in the evolution of the nation's cultural heritage. Transcriptions and analyses of never before published uncensored conversations with Lorenzo Tucker Lillian Gish King Vidor Clarence Muse Woody Strode Charles Gordone and Frederick Douglass O Neal reveal many of the reasons and rationalizations behind a racist screen imagery in the first three quarters of the twentieth century. This primary source replete with pictures, documentation and extensive annotations recounts through the words of important participants what happened to many film pioneers when a new generation of African Americans rebelled against the nation's stereotyped film imagery. A unique historical resource, this book is a fitting tribute to these artists, reminding us of their courage, integrity and perseverance to succeed against great odds. The thorough, meticulous annotations make it an indispensable addition to collections in film studies and African American studies. Denise Youngblood, Professor of History, University of Vermont. The author has taken a unique approach and may have even created a new genre of writing: the interview embellished with scholarly commentary. It is a fascinating experiment. This book belongs in every research library and in all public libraries from mid-size to large cities. It fills in lacunae between existing studies. Peter C. Rollins, Editor in Chief of Film History. Record, 1927. Murdered by Capitalism John Ross, 2009-04-28. A San Francisco Chronicle Best Book of 2004. After spilling bourbon on Schnaubelt's grave, its pugnacious and very dead occupant becomes Ross's mentor, sidekick and boozy companion through this epic telling of the hallucinatory, carnal and ornery histories of the American Left and John Ross's own remarkable life. Schnaubelt navigates us through his seemingly boundless revolutionary battleground, uttering cries of subversion from within the grave while trying to remain out of earshot.

from the FBI snoop and local supermarket tycoon buried nearby Ross's own story hobo revolutionist junkie poet and journalist is a contrapuntal to Schnaubelt's Ross never takes himself too seriously yet his most remarkable trait is the honesty with which he approaches life even while trying to deconstruct his own faults personal tragedies including the death of his one month old son and imperfections His pursuit of revolutionary politics and poetics is the constant often spent with his muse Revolutionary Mexico Ross concludes with a trip to Baghdad as a human shield before the Anglo American invasion ready to sacrifice his life as part of his perpetual struggle for justice Award winning writer John Ross's memoir is inspired from a tumbledown tombstone in California The headstone reads E B Schnaubelt 1855 1913 Murdered by Capitalism
