Risk Of Education Discovering Our Ultimate Destiny:

The Risk of Education Luigi Giussani, 2019-01-15 Luigi Giussani a high school religion teacher throughout the 1950s and 1960s grounded his teachings in the vast body of experience to be found in Christianity's two thousand year history. He told his students I'm not here to make you adopt the ideas I will give you as your own but to teach you a method for judging the things I will say. Throughout his life education was one of Giussani's primary intellectual interests. He believed that effective education required an adequate background in the Christian tradition presented within a lived experience that underscored the capacity of the faith to answer universal questions. What he proposed was a process that allowed one to sift through tradition critically examining it and comparing it against the ultimate criteria for judgment the desires of the heart. In Giussani's view the primary concern was to educate the human heart as God made it. In The Risk of Education he states that fear leads students to associate this process of criticism with negativity or doubt. Yet without an education in criticism students cannot develop conviction. At a time when young people are abandoning the church and questioning the value of faith Giussani's method of judging and verifying Christianity as an experience seems a necessary intervention. In The Risk of Education he argues that ultimately education and the Christian message reveal themselves through human freedom.

Catechesis for the New Evangelization Brian Pedraza, 2020-06-12 Popes Francis Benedict XVI and John Paul II have called the present a time of New Evangelization for the Church and have stressed the importance of catechesis for this mission. John Paul II claimed that this renewal of the Church's mission is grounded in the teachings of the Second Vatican Council. Nevertheless approaches to catechesis in the conciliar and postconciliar era have varied greatly as evidenced by the shifts in catechetical practice effected by the modern catechetical movement. Just as the dominant forms of theology changed from neo scholastic to anthropological approaches so too did catechesis move from catechism based approaches to more anthropological models based upon human experience. In light of this context Catechesis for the New Evangelization examines the theological foundations of catechesis in the Church's understanding of divine revelation and its reception by the human person especially as found in the conciliar constitutions Dei Verbum and Gaudium et Spes. After drawing norms on divine revelation from these documents it traces the history of the modern catechetical movement in order to compare this history with the conciliar norms highlighting the renewal's strengths and weaknesses. These steps prepare the way for the main part of the book an examination of the anthropology of Karol Wojtya a Pope John Paul II. Ultimately his anthropology provides an understanding of the person that can unite divine revelation and human experience in a way that takes what is best from the modern catechetical movement while developing the ministry in a way that can be fruitful for the New Evangelization. Pedraza's book is not only an incisive look at modern catechetical history and theory. It also touches upon some of the most important theological topics of the past century including the neo scholastic crisis the proper interpretation of the Council the relationship of nature and grace and the modern understanding of the imago dei with the research and Catholic Philosophy of Education Mario O. D'Souza, 2016-10-01 Today s pluralist and multicultural society raises questions about how to teach religiously and ethnically diverse students in Catholic schools A Catholic Philosophy of Education addresses these challenges by examining the documents from the Roman Congregation for Catholic Education alongside the writings of Jacques Maritain and Bernard Lonergan Mario D Souza proposes a contemporary formulation for a Catholic philosophy of education in which the ideals of Catholicism form the basis for the mission of the Catholic school Drawing on the Church s educational documents and informed by Maritain and Lonergan D Souza explains how the unifying anthropology of Catholic education enables Catholic schools to serve amidst diversity by avoiding the extremes of religious exclusivism and fundamentalism on the one hand and relativism and individualism on the other He explores the aims of Catholic schools in relation to students teachers and society and the relationship between goodness discipline and knowledge He argues that students must be educated for personal and communal freedom and authenticity and to strive for the common good suggesting how a Catholic philosophy of education can provide the framework for such personal and communal transformation Essential reading for new and experienced Catholic educators A Catholic Philosophy of Education demonstrates that Maritain and Lonergan have much to offer in service of an education that is liberating instructive illuminating and integrative

Called into Questions Matthew Lee Anderson, 2023-10-03 Do we know what it means to question well We need not fear questions By the grace of God we have the safety and security to rush headlong into them and find ourselves better for it on the other side Faith is not the sort of thing that endures so long as our eyes are closed The opposite is the case Faith helps us see and that means not shrinking from the ambiguities and the difficulties that provoke our most profound questions In our embrace of questioning we must learn to question well In our uncertainty we must not give up the task of walking worthy of the calling that Christ has placed upon us We are living in the age of deconstruction We are constantly bombarded online in schools and sometimes even in our homes by attitudes and arguments aimed at deconstructing our faith Called into Questions is written to aid us in faithfully questioning our foundations Professor Matthew Lee Anderson shows us and the ones we love how to grapple with doubt in a redemptive way in a way that brings us closer and leaves us more secure in Jesus Christ Beauty for Truth's Sake Stratford Caldecott, 2017-05-16 Based in the riches of Christian worship and tradition this brief eloquently written introduction to Christian thinking and worldview helps readers put back together again faith and reason truth and beauty and the fragmented academic disciplines By reclaiming the classic liberal arts and viewing disciplines such as science and mathematics through a poetic lens the author explains that unity is present within diversity Now repackaged with a new foreword by Ken Myers this book will continue to benefit parents homeschoolers lifelong learners Christian students and readers interested in the history of ideas Christian Faith, Formation and Education Ros Stuart-Buttle, John Shortt, 2017-11-13 This book discusses the relationship between faith formation and education Rooted in a variety of discourses the book offers original insights into the education and formation of the human person both theoretical and practical Issues are considered within a context of contemporary tensions generated by an increasingly pluralist society with antipathy to religious faith and debated from interdenominational Christian perspectives Including chapters by an international team of experts the volume demonstrates how Christian faith holds significance for educational practice and human development It argues against the common assumption that there can be a neutral approach to education whilst at the same time advocating a critical dimension to faith education It brings fresh thinking about faith and formation which demands attention given the fast changing political educational and socio cultural forces of today It will appeal to students and researchers involved in Christian educational practice Imagining Education Kevin R. opportunity to announce the Gospel in a new way This is the challenge Christians are facing today In an extended interview with Vatican expert Andrea Tornielli Juli n Carr n examines the historical moment we are living through in order to revive the essential core of Christian faith Starting from the realization that the world is experiencing an evolution in which the difficulty of finding shared values and natural morality makes sincere dialogue between believers and non believers challenging Carr n reflects on the possibility of communicating the essence of the Christian faith in a form that can inspire interest in modern times Addressing the central questions concerning the announcement of Christian faith in today s less regimented society Where Is God discovers and rediscovers the contents of Christianity and asks how they can be witnessed again in a society that is not yet post Christian but potentially headed in that direction The Theology of the Book of Genesis R.
