A comprehensive and permanent record of all the important tribes of the United States and Alaska that still retain to a considerable degree their primitive customs and traditions The value of such a work in great measure will lie in the breadth of its treatment in its wealth of illustration and in the fact that it represents the result of personal study of a people who are rapidly losing the traces of their aboriginal character and who are destined ultimately to become assimilated with the superior race It has been the aim to picture all features of the Indian life and environment types of the young and the old with their habitations industries ceremonies games and everyday customs Though the treatment accorded the Indians by those who lay claim to civilization and Christianity has in many cases been worse than criminal a rehearsal of these wrongs does not properly find a place here General introduction The Complete Concordance to Shakespeare ,1876 The social life Henri Alexandre Junod,1913 Classical Approaches to the Study of Religion Jacques Waardenburg,2011-05-03

Mesoamerican capital in Veracruz Mexico has long been admired for its stunning pyramids and ballcourts decorated with extensive sculptural programs Yet the city s singularity as the only center in the region with such a wealth of sculpture and fine architecture has hindered attempts to place it more firmly in the context of Mesoamerican history In Lightning Gods and Feathered Serpents Rex Koontz undertakes the first extensive treatment of El Taj n s iconography in over thirty years allowing us to view its imagery in the broader Mesoamerican context of rising capitals and new elites during a period of fundamental historical transformations Koontz focuses on three major architectural features the Pyramid of the Niches Central Plaza ensemble the South Ballcourt and the Mound of the Building Columns complex and investigates the meanings of their sculpture and how these meanings would have been experienced by specific audiences Koontz finds that the iconography of El Tajín reveals much about how motifs and elite rites growing out of the Classic period were transmitted to later Mesoamerican peoples as the cultures centered on Teotihuacan and the Maya became the myriad city states of the Early Postclassic period By reexamining the iconography of sculptures long in the record as well as introducing important new monuments and contexts Lightning Gods and Feathered Serpents clearly demonstrates El Tajín's numerous iconographic connections with other areas of Mesoamerica while also exploring its roots in an indigenous Gulf lowlands culture whose outlines are only now emerging At the same time it begins to uncover a largely ignored regional artistic culture of which Tajín is the crowning achievement

Macau Christina Miu Bing Cheng, 1999-06-01

Macau on the threshold of the twentieth first century is perhaps a harbinger of a new urban culture Having been nurtured by the sharply contrasting legacies of China and Portugal this unique city manages to meld cultural differences and avoid the destructiveness of ethnic clashes It is thus likened here to the Roman deity Janus who is usually depicted with two faces looking in opposite directions By concentrating on the ambivalent history of Macau the author reveals the historical reality of cultural vacillation between two political entities and the emergence of a creole minority the Macanese With a judicious use of English Chinese and Portuguese sources she has provided a pathbreaking multi focal perspective of the last Portuguese outpost in Asia In light of the decolonization of Macau in December 1999 the author's analysis challenges the easy assumptions of the causal sequence colonialism postcolonialism and opens up an interdisciplinary purview of a local instance in cross cultural studies
