Mda, 2006-10-17 A voice for which one should feel not only affection but admiration The New York Times The Whale Caller Zakes Mda's fifth novel is his most enchanting and accessible book yet a romantic comedy of sorts in which the changing face of post-apartheid South Africa is revealed through prodigious lyrical storytelling As the novel opens the seaside village of Hermanus on the country's west coast is overrun with whale watchers foreign tourists wearing floral shirts and toting expensive binoculars determined to see whales in their natural habitat But when the tourists have gone home the Whale Caller lingers at the shoreline wooing a whale he calls Sharisha with cries from a kelp horn When Sharisha fails to appear for weeks on end the Whale Caller frets like a jealous lover oblivious to the fact that the town drunk Saluni a woman who wears a silk dress and red stiletto heels is infatuated with him After much ado which Mda relates with great relish the two misfits fall in love But each of them is ill equipped for romance and their on again off again relationship suggests something of the fitful nature of change in post apartheid South Africa where just living from one day to the next can be challenge enough Mda has spoken of the end of apartheid as a lifting of the South African novelist s burden to write on political subjects With The Whale Caller he has written a tender charming novel the work of a virtuoso among international writers Shark Dean Crawford,2008-08 In Shark Dean Crawford explores the long relationship between shark and man revealing that behind the fearsome caricature is a complex animal that deserves a thoughtful reconsideration Demon Fish Juliet Eilperin,2011-06-14 A group of traders huddles around a pile of dried shark fins on a gleaming white floor in Hong Kong A Papua New Guinean elder shoves off in his hand carved canoe ready to summon a shark with ancient magic A scientist finds a rare shark in Indonesia and forges a deal with villagers so it and other species can survive In this eye opening adventure that spans the globe Juliet Eilperin investigates the fascinating ways different individuals and cultures relate to the ocean s top predator Along the way she reminds us why after millions of years sharks remain among nature s most awe inspiring creatures From Belize to South Africa from Shanghai to Bimini we see that sharks are still the object of an obsession that may eventually lead to their extinction This is why movie stars and professional athletes go shark hunting in Miami and why shark s fin soup remains a coveted status symbol in China Yet we also see glimpses of how people and sharks can exist alongside one another surfers tolerating their presence off Cape Town and ecotourists swimming with sharks that locals in the Yucat n no longer have to hunt With a reporter s instinct for a good story and a scientist s curiosity Eilperin offers us an up close understanding of these extraordinary mysterious creatures in the most entertaining and illuminating shark encounter you re likely to find outside a steel cage Word & Image in Colonial and Postcolonial Literatures and Cultures Michael Meyer,2009 Verbal imagery and visual images as well as the intricate relationships between verbal and visual representations have long shaped the imagination and the practice of intercultural relationships The contributions to this volume take a fresh look at the ideology of form especially the gendered and racial implications of the gaze and the voice in various media and intermedial transformations Analyses of how culturally specific forms of visual and verbal expression are individually understood and manipulated complement reflections on the potential and limitations of representation The juxtaposition of visual and verbal signifiers explores the gap between them as a space beyond cultural boundaries Topics treated include Caliban English satirical iconotexts Oriental travel writing and illustration expatriate description and picturesque illustration of Edinburgh ethnographic film African studio photography South African cartoons imagery ekphrasis and race in South African art and fiction face and visibility representation and memory in Asian fiction Bollywood Asian historical film Asian British pop music Australian landscape in painting and fiction indigenous children s fiction from

Minority and Indigenous Trends 2020 - Focus on technology Peter Grant, Carl Söderbergh, 2020-10-15 Technology increasingly permeates every aspect of our lives from the use of big data to information and communication technologies ICTs to artificial intelligence AI and automation These developments are often framed around issues such as efficiency speed and innovation but for minorities indigenous peoples and other marginalized groups there are often very different forces at play the replication of existing patterns of exclusion in new forms While a central aim of the Sustainable Development Goals SDGs was to reduce social inequalities within societies the outbreak of the Covid 19 pandemic has highlighted how profound the gap remains for minorities and indigenous peoples in many countries Though there is much hope and uncertainty around the possibilities of track and trace mobile applications and other emerging technologies to resolve the crisis without a firm commitment to social justice and universal access it is likely that many will be denied their benefits With minorities and indigenous peoples disproportionately represented among the world's poor it is not surprising that poverty is itself a major barrier to these groups accessing mobile phones computers and other technologies Besides the issue of affordability there may be physical and geographic constraints particularly for communities in rural or remote locations In addition other hurdles such as limited information in minority or indigenous languages can compound lack of access For marginalized groups within minority and indigenous communities such as persons with disabilities further significant issues arise for instance whether websites are accessible and compatible with assistive technologies The need for a more holistic approach to technology is therefore more urgent than ever with an emphasis not only on affordable pricing and accessible delivery but also culturally appropriate and inclusive design Importantly an inclusive approach to technology should translate not only to equitable access as users but also meaningful participation in their development At present however minority and indigenous employment in sectors such as computing remains low This poses a fundamental challenge to the creation of more diverse technologies downstream
