Newsletter 2016/17

RECENT PUBLICATIONS

2016 has seen the launch of the new Pevsner Introductions series, two revised Buildings of England county volumes, and the new Lanarkshire and Renfrewshire, completing coverage of Scotland.

Derbyshire, revised by Clare Hartwell. A new edition covering Pevsner's 'county of contrasts', replacing Elizabeth Williamson's revision of 1978. Enhanced and updated accounts of Derbyshire's great mansions – Bolsover, Chatsworth, Haddon, Hardwick, Kedleston – are accompanied by greatly enriched surveys of the county's diverse inheritance of lesser houses, its pioneering (and often spectacular) industrial sites, its multifarious towns and villages, and its distinctive and rewarding traditions of church-building, tomb sculpture and ironwork.

Warwickshire, revised by Chris Pickford. The first full-scale revision of Pevsner's 1966 volume, written by an author born in the county. Famous for the attractions of world-renowned Stratford-on-Avon, Warwickshire is also rich in other historic villages and towns. The new edition supplements and enhances Pevsner's assessments, offering fresh perspectives on major buildings such as Warwick Castle and Rugby School, the contributions of distinguished architects in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries, and the celebrated post-war rebuilding of Coventry.

Lanarkshire and Renfrewshire by Rob Close, John Gifford and Frank Arneil Walker. With the publication of this book, covering two of the least known Scottish counties, the Buildings of Scotland series is complete. No other volume can claim such diversity, from the cottages and churches of the deeply rural villages of Clydesdale to the medieval abbey at the centre of Paisley in Renfrewshire, from the great port of Greenock on the Clyde to the former steel and iron towns of the Lanarkshire coalfield. In the model weaving village of Robert Owen's New Lanark and the post-war New Town of Cumbernauld, the region can also boast planned settlements of international significance.

Pevsner Introductions complement the familiar Guides, providing accessible, engaging accounts of buildings by type and theme. The first two volumes, Houses and Churches, were published in March 2016. Written by the joint editors of the Guides, and distilling years of experience, these are books for anyone who would like to understand more about England's architectural history. Lavishly illustrated and clearly written, the texts explain key components, stylistic changes, regional variations, and vocabulary. Readers can evaluate dates and phases, and interpret historic developments. A companion volume, a redesigned and expanded edition of the popular Pevsner's Architectural Glossary, was published in October.

Readers and users of our books owe a great debt to Sally Sawesem, publisher of the Pevsner series at Yale from 2002, who left the company in September 2016. New publications during Sally's time amount to twenty-nine revised Buildings of England volumes, seven of the Buildings of Scotland, four of the Buildings of Wales and two of the Buildings of Ireland, ten paperback City Guides, the launch of the Introductions series and Glossary, and the associated glossary app. She has our very best wishes for all her future plans.

Our website www.yalebooks.co.uk/pevsner.asp provides more information about the series, work in progress and recent publications. You can order volumes directly, and keep up to date with special offers and other news.

literature music and food that shape the region's irrepressible though often overlooked cultural identity. It is the first of its kind to give serious critical attention to a part of the world which is frequently ignored by readers, critics and the culture industries. This book makes a claim for the importance of the Midlands and evidences this with nuanced close reading of a multitude of diverse texts spanning so-called high to low culture from the Black Country's Desi Pubs to Leicester's McIndians, Peri Peri, you've tried the cowboys now try the Indians, Handsworth's reggae roots to Adrian Mole's diaries.

Keeping the Lid on Logie Barrow, François Poirier, Susan Finding, 2010-04-16. The contributors to this book have explored various aspects of urban imagination so intimately related to a peculiar social environment. They are historians and geographers, linguists and cultural students. Their methodologies are very different, their sources poles apart. And yet they address the same object of study: social and spatial segregation and urban eruptions, though severally defined from epidemics to anarchist scares, urban uprisings to mental maps or the reverberations of urban memories in song, novels and museums. Case studies consider the towns of Liverpool, London, Hull, New York, Salvador de Bahia or more generally France and America. The networks created among intellectuals and labourers, anarchists and migrants or the lack of communication between those who feel oppressed, rioters, strikers, anti-vaccination protesters and those in control are a further common denominator. In a way, urban epidemics were the epitome of the repulsive character large cities possessed in the eyes even of their own inhabitants. If they were the receptacle of so many foreigners and shady political characters, if they were the scenes of social and ethnic conflict and violence and promiscuity and prostitution and drunkenness and pauperism, they were of necessity a festering sore which nothing could eradicate. It is strange that something of this fear should linger on today; otherwise how can one explain the lacunae in the official memory of museums despite the cultural efforts produced in the opposite direction with Ackroyd's love for East End London with the revival of a Little Italy in every major American city with the nostalgic folklorisation of past miseries in Salvador de Bahia and in popular song. What sense of belonging can be generated by an obliteration of the past? What dynamic local culture can spring from an absence from a hole in collective memory? This book goes some way to filling those gaps.

Merseyside Mike Benbough-Jackson, Sam Davies, 2011-05-25. Merseyside Culture and Place demonstrates how Liverpool and Merseyside have a rich, fascinating and sometimes controversial cultural history. The result of a conference held to mark Liverpool's year as European Capital of Culture in 2008, this interdisciplinary volume contains chapters by scholars working in a variety of fields including Geography, Art, English, Marketing and History. There are many facets to Merseyside's cultural history and the contributors to this publication bring their own perspective to bear on various features of the area's rich heritage. Taking in examples from the early modern era to the present day, Merseyside Culture and Place draws attention to often overlooked cultural forms such as sketches of the Mersey by J. M. W. Turner and the fan culture exhibited on Liverpool FC's Kop. Each chapter in the book is based on original research and the contributors set their findings in a local, national and in some cases an international context. Both academics and general readers will find much of interest.

in a book that reflects Merseyside's distinctive and multi-faceted character      Industrial Britain Hubert J.

Pragnell, 2021-07-08 A fascinating insight into Britain's industrial past as evidenced by its buildings richly illustrated with intricate line drawings Industrial Britain goes far beyond the mills and machine houses of the Industrial Revolution to give an engaging insight into Britain's industrial heritage It looks at the power stations and monumental bridges of Britain including the buildings and engineering projects associated with the distribution of manufactured goods docks canals railways and warehouses The gasworks Temples of mass production The mill Warehouse and manufactory Dock and harbour buildings Water power and water storage Waterways canals and rivers The railway age Breweries and oast houses Markets and exchanges The twentieth century industry on greenfield sites It's a story of industrial development but also a story of its ultimate decline As manufacturing has been increasingly replaced by services new uses have been found for at least some of the country's great industrial buildings Not least as containers for art and heritage such as the Bankside Power Station Tate Modern and Salts Mill Other buildings featured are still used as originally intended today such as Smithfield Market in London and the Shepherd Neame brewery in Faversham Illustrated throughout with over 200 original line drawings Industrial Britain is a celebration of industrial architecture and its enduring legacy
