Gender Struggles Constance L. Mui, Julien S. Murphy, 2002 Contemporary feminist theory and postmodernism have left significant marks on how we think about practical matters most notably the old and new forms of gender struggles that many women confront in their daily lives The essays collected in Gender Struggles are designed to highlight those influences by addressing the following questions What is practical feminism in a postmodern world How does rethinking the nature and boundaries of philosophy affect the way we understand practical issues that we confront daily What new forms of freedom autonomy subjectivity social welfare motherhood public and private space and political resistance have emerged from this new philosophical sense Together the sixteen essays in this volume represent many different voices of feminists who boldly take up familiar everyday concerns from unorthodox vantage points within new conceptual and theoretical frameworks The essays in Gender Struggles address a wide range of issues in gender struggles from the more familiar ones that for the last thirty years have been the mainstay of feminist scholarship such as motherhood beauty and sexual violence to new topics inspired by post industrialization and multiculturalism such as the welfare state cyberspace hate speech and queer politics and finally to topics that traditionally have not been seen as appropriate subjects for philosophizing such as adoption care work and the home Incorporating the latest most cutting edge material on feminism this volume aims at reaching a broad spectrum of readers by connecting postmodern feminist theory with concrete issues that are practical and relevant to their daily lives and experiences New York Magazine, 1995-04-10

Divas on Screen Mia Mask, 2010-10-01 This insightful study places African American women's stardom in historical and industrial contexts by examining the star personae of five African American women Dorothy Dandridge Pam Grier Whoopi Goldberg Oprah Winfrey and Halle Berry Interpreting each woman's celebrity as predicated on a brand of charismatic authority Mia Mask shows how these female stars have ultimately complicated the conventional discursive practices through which blackness and womanhood have been represented in commercial cinema independent film and network television Mask examines the function of these stars in seminal yet underanalyzed films She considers Dandridge's status as a sexual commodity in films such as Tamango revealing the contradictory discourses regarding race and sexuality in segregation era American culture Grier's feminist camp performances in sexploitation pictures Women in Cages and The Big Doll House and her subsequent blaxploitation vehicles Coffy and Foxy Brown highlight a similar tension between representing African American women as both objectified stereotypes and powerful self defining icons Mask reads Goldberg's transforming habits in Sister Act and The Associate as representative of her unruly comedic routines while Winfrey's daily television performance as self made self help guru echoes Horatio Alger narratives of success Finally Mask analyzes Berry's meteoric success by acknowledging the ways in which Dandridge's career made Berry's possible The Ethics of

Transracial Adoption Hawley Fogg-Davis, 2018-10-18 Transracial adoption is one of the most contentious issues in adoption politics and in the politics of race more generally Some who support transracial adoption use a theory of colorblindness while many who oppose it draw a causal connection between race and culture and argue that a black child's racial and cultural interests are best served by black adoptive parents Hawley Fogg Davis carves out a middle ground between these positions She believes that race should not be a barrier to adoption but neither should it be absent from the minds of prospective adopters and adoption practitioners Fogg Davis s argument in favor of transracial adoption is based on the moral and legal principle of nondiscrimination and a theory of race consciousness she terms racial navigation Challenging the notion that children get their racial identity from their parents she argues that children through the process of racial navigation should cultivate their self identification in dialogue with others The Ethics of Transracial Adoption explores new ground in the transracial adoption debate by examining the relationship between personal and public conceptions of race and racism before during and after adoption New York Magazine ,1995-04-10 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine s consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea Isaiah's Story Jennifer Ross,2014-01-31 On August 3 2008 at nineteen weeks and three days pregnant Jennifer and her husband said a heartbreaking goodbye to their son Isaiah Jennifer suffered from a condition called Disseminated Intravascular Coagulation With only a thirty percent chance of survival Jennifer was instructed to have labor induced due to this life threatening condition Jennifer shared fifteen priceless minutes of life with her newborn son in her arms before he was delivered into the arms of his Heavenly Father Isaiah s Story chronicles Jennifer s emotionally traumatic journey through the personal struggles that she faced mixed with the beautiful hope that she clings to Take the journey through this mother s eyes heart and soul as she brings to life a little boy who was here for a short time but who has touched many lives with the telling of Isaiah s Story Jet ,1995-03-27 The weekly source of African American political and entertainment news The Therapist's Notebook for Families Bob Bertolino,Gary M. Gordon,2003-01-21 Screen Saviors studies how the self of whites is imagined in

Hollywood movies by white directors featuring white protagonists interacting with people of another color This collaboration by a sociologist and a film critic using the new perspective of critical white studies offers a bold and sweeping critique of almost a century's worth of American film from Birth of Nation 1915 through Black Hawk Down 2001 Screen Savors studies the way in which the social relations that we call race are fictionalized and pictured in the movies It argues that films are part of broader projects that lead us to ignore or deny the nature of the racial divide in which Americans live Even as the images of racial and ethnic minorities change across the twentieth century Hollywood keeps portraying the ideal white American self as good looking powerful brave cordial kind firm and generous a natural born leader worthy of the loyalty of those of another color The book invites readers to conduct their own analyses of films by showing how this can be done in over 50 Hollywood movies Among these are some films about the Civil War Birth of a Nation Gone with the Wind and Glory some about white messiahs who rescue people of another color Stargate To Kill a Mockingbird Mississippi Burning Three Kings and The Matrix the three versions of Mutiny on the Bounty 1935 1962 and 1984 and interracial romance Guess Who's Coming to Dinner Forty years of Hollywood fantasies of interracial harmony from The Defiant Ones and In the Heat of the Night through the Lethal Weapon series and Men in Black are examined This work in the sociology of knowledge and cultural studies relates the movies of Hollywood to the large political agendas on race relation in the United States Screen Savors appeals to the general reader interested in the movies or in race and ethnicity as well as to students of communication American studies critical white studies American film cultural studies and the sociology of race relations

Troubling the Family Habiba Ibrahim, 2012 Troubling the Family argues that the emergence of multiracialism during the 1990s was determined by underlying and unacknowledged gender norms Opening with a germinal moment for multiracialism the seemingly massive and instantaneous popular appearance of Tiger Woods in 1997 Habiba Ibrahim examines how the shifting status of racial hero for both black and multiracial communities makes sense only by means of an account of masculinity Ibrahim looks across historical events and memoirs beginning with the Loving v Virginia case in 1967 when miscegenation laws were struck down to reveal that gender was the starting point of an analytics that made categorical multiracialism and multiracial politics possible Producing a genealogy of multiracialism's gendered basis allows Ibrahim to focus on a range of stakeholders whose interests often ran against the grain of what the multiracial movement of the 1990s often privileged the sanctity of the heteronormative family the labor of child rearing and more precise forms of racial tabulation all of which when taken together could form the basis for creating so called neutral personhood Ibrahim concludes with a consideration of Barack Obama as a representation of the resurrection of the assurance that multiracialism extended into the 2000s a version of personhood with no memory of its own gendered legacy and with no self account of how it became so masculine that it can at once fill the position of political leader and the promise of the end of politics

Halle Berry Michael A. Schuman, 2013-01-01 Being thought of as a beautiful woman has spared me nothing in life says Halle Berry With her extraordinary beauty wealth and an Academy Award for Best Actress it seems as if Berry has it all Yet her life has been anything but a fairytale From the pain of an abusive father to the sting of racism from her peers Berry emerged as a high achiever beauty queen and model As an actor her beauty often kept her from being considered for meaningful roles and it took a while for her to achieve the success she deserved In 2002 Berry s Academy Award winning performance in the small budget art film Monster s Ball made history stirred controversy and launched her into superstardom Give your readers a powerful biography of this stellar talent

BirthMarks Sandra Lee Patton, Sandra Patton-Imani, 2000-11 An empathetic study of the meanings of cross racial adoption to adoptees Law and Politics Book Review Can White parents teach their Black children African American culture and history Can they impart to them the survival skills necessary to survive in the racially stratified United States Concerns over racial identity have been at the center of controversies over transracial adoption since the 1970s as questions continually arise about whether White parents are capable of instilling a positive sense of African American identity in their Black children Through in depth interviews with adult transracial adoptees as well as with social workers in adoption agencies Sandra Patton herself an adoptee explores the social construction of race identity gender and family and the ways in which these interact with public policy about adoption Patton offers a compelling overview of the issues at stake in transracial adoption She discusses recent changes in adoption and social welfare policy which prohibit consideration of race in the placement of children as well as public policy definitions of bad mothers which can foster coerced aspects of adoption to show how the lives of transracial adoptees have been shaped by the policies of the U S child welfare system Neither an argument for nor against the practice of transracial adoption BirthMarks seeks to counter the dominant public view of this practice as a panacea to the so called epidemic of illegitimacy and the misfortune of infertility among the middle class with a more nuanced view that gives voice to those directly involved shedding light on the ways in which Black and multiracial adoptees articulate their own identity experiences
