for Words don't miss Stephanie Butland's next book where Ailsa Rae learns how to live Search for The Curious Heart of Ailsa Rae 9781785764417 Lost for Words Martin Wells, 2022-11-25 In the early hours of almost every morning during the Covid lockdown in the months of March and April 2021 these poems began mysteriously arriving like persistent early morning visitors Curiously the author's wife was absent for the whole of this time and much to her amusement in her place lay an open notebook a blank page and a pen Soon nearly 40 poems filled the notebook Martin never having written poetry in his life before Although the pandemic provides the foreground for this collection of poems they have also been prompted by timeless universal themes symbolised in a snowdrop a park bench or an olive tree found in conversations about love and life and death in news items and random images But most of all arising out of that deep longing for union and freedom at the source of each of us The poems are about what it means to be alive and deeply connected to the natural world In so doing they go to the heart of mindful living and non dual wisdom Lost for Words Aoife Walsh, 2019-07-04 Dallas's life was turned upside down the day her mum was killed in a traffic accident Now she lives with her brothers step sister and her mum's partner Gemma in a too small house filled with bickering and grief As the end of primary school approaches Dallas learns that the local library has run out of funding and will soon be closing Dallas decides she cannot let another thing she loves be lost Together with her friends Aiza and Ruby and her freewheeling American aunt Jessi she starts a campaign to save the library for everyone A beautifully told tale about family grief and growing up Lost for Words Lynda Mugglestone, Professor of the History of English Lynda Mugglestone, 2005-01-01 Examines the hidden history through which the Oxford English Dictionary came into being in a study that traces the personal battles involved in chronicling an ever changing language Lost for Words Edward St. Aubyn, 2014-05-20 A laugh out loud sendup of literary prizes Like a long Monty Python sketch from the author of the Patrick Melrose novels Kirkus Reviews Winner of the 2014 Wodehouse Prize A withering satire a deliciously irreverent novel Jonathan Yardley The Washington Post The judges on the panel of the Elysian Prize for Literature must get through hundreds of submissions to find the best book of the year Meanwhile a host of writers are desperate for Elysian attention the brilliant writer and serial heartbreaker Katherine Burns the lovelorn debut novelist Sam Black and Bunjee convinced that his magnum opus The Mulberry Elephant will take the literary world by storm Things go terribly wrong when Katherine's publisher accidentally submits a cookery book in place of her novel one of the judges finds himself in the middle of a scandal and Bunjee aghast to learn his book isn't on the short list seeks revenge Lost for Words is a witty fabulously entertaining satire that cuts to the quick of some of the deepest questions about the place of art in our celebrity obsessed culture and asks how we can ever hope to recognize real talent when everyone has an agenda Lost for Words is a satirical romp that showcases St Aubyn's Waugh like talent for comedy and his unsparing eye for people's pretensions and self delusions Michiko Kakutani The New York Times Lost for Words? Goetz Frank Ottmann, 2010-10-06 Lost for Words explores the rise and decline of progressive Catholic grassroots activism and its drive for social justice and democratic change in four low income neighborhoods in S o Paulo Brazil Ottmann focuses on the obstacles faced by the poor who took seriously the claim that the people were to transform Brazilian society from the bottom up He follows their travails through periods of democratization mass unemployment and conservative backlash within the Church Goetz Frank Ottmann moves beyond purely political analysis to record how residents and progressive Catholic activists were drawn into a struggle for a juster society and how this movement began to unravel even before it reached its peak in the early 1980s Based on in depth interviews and participant observation and drawing on theoretical insights from recent debates on social movements and the sociology of religion he examines how by the early 1990s the liberationist movement had lost its following lost its allies failed to achieve its core goals and seemed to die Ottmann then shows how in recent years activists have worked to create a new and pragmatic form of religious activism one that draws on a range of agendas including Catholic feminism
